Andrews Selects Number of Administrators Under Reorganization

Motorized Border Patrol to Wage War on Smugglers and Rum-Runners

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Striding forward with the construction of the Treasury's new prohibition enforcement machine, Assistant Secretary Andrews has definitely decided on seven or eight of the men to fill the posts of prohibition administrators under the reorganization.

The names of the men were withheld. It was said tonight, however, that they were regarded by the Treasury as among the best available and that each had agreed to a personal sacrifice to join with Mr. Andrews in his effort to carry out the terms of the Volstead Act.

PLANS BORDER DEFENSE

In furtherance of his basic plan to choke off the liquor supply at its source, Mr. Andrews proposes to erect a line of defense on the north and south borders that will dovetail in with the interior prohibition organization.

The assistant secretary began consideration today of a plan to reinforce the Customs Service border patrol to take care of the new defense areas.

Mr. Andrews apparently is committed to a completely motorized border patrol system.

Treasury officials have estimated that the government loses between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 a year through smuggling and the plans under study would be aimed to prevent the illegal entry, not only of liquor, but of many articles of merchandise on which tariff duties are levied as well as the smuggling of narcotics and aliens.

BORDER POINTS OPEN

Long stretches of the American border are unguarded because of the small number of customs agents who can be assigned to the Dakota - Montana - Idaho - Washington areas, as well as along the Rio Grande and Southern California districts.

On the north, the smuggling of wheat and cattle has in the past been a serious problem.

The southern problem has been largely that of the smuggling of liquor, narcotics and aliens. Mr. Andrews feels that more men and

MUSSOLINI TO UNDERGO OPERATION

Premier May Submit to Knife While Guest of Italian Monarch

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, July 29.—In diplomatic circles in Paris the report is in circulation that Premier Mussolini of Italy may soon undergo a surgical operation for the removal of ulcer of the duodenum, that portion of the small intestine which is conjoined to the stomach. Information from the same sources is to the effect that the operation will be performed in strict secrecy, as Mussolini and his lieutenants do not desire that anyone should know of it until a satisfactory recovery could be reported.

When Mussolini passed through a crisis a few months ago with severe hemorrhages, specialists disagreed as to the advisability of an operation, fear being expressed on the one hand that, owing to the weakness of the patient, grave consequences might ensue. It was, therefore, decided to submit the Fascist chief to a rigorous food regimen, so as to bring about, if possible, cicatrization of the ulcer. This however, having been unsuccessful, it has been decided to resort to surgery.

The present moment, as the reports go, is considered opportune, both because Mussolini, under a diet, has become much stronger, and is, therefore, more capable of undergoing an operation, and also for the reason that the country is tranquil. Parliamentary work has been suspended, and there is an absence of political activities.

In some quarters the belief is held that an operation may be performed on the Premier when he is a guest of the King at San Rossore Palace.

BRYAN TRAIN NEAR CAPITAL

Silent Grief, Flowers and Hymns Betoken Love of South for Commoner as Cortege Passes

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ON BOARD THE FUNERAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON; BRISTOL (Va.-Tenn.) July 29.—Kind hearts tonight kept watch over the body of William Jennings Bryan and tender hands ministered to the comfort of his widow as the train bearing the burdened casket moved out of Tennessee into Virginia on its journey to Washington.

Early on the morrow the funeral party with the body is expected to reach Washington, where his countrymen wait to bestow last honors. In the national Capital, where Mrs. Bryan and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Owen, were to await the coming of the other daughter, Mrs. Grace Hargreaves and her brother, William Jennings Bryan, Jr., final plans for the funeral and burial in Arlington Cemetery Friday had yet to be completed.

Mrs. Bryan, sitting upright near her husband's casket, was overwhelmed by the crowds of men and women who appeared along many hundreds of miles of the Commoner's last journey to do silent homage to the dead.

Leaving Dayton early in the day after the friends of his last days and spectators of his last great fight had demonstrated their regard in every form of service, the body of the fundamentalist champion was witnessed throughout the day by throngs of sorrowing friends who showed their grief in unmistakable emotion. At Chattanooga and at Knoxville, hundreds were admitted into the rear compartment of the special Pullman to view the set face of the fallen leader.

At Chattanooga, where in transferring the special car from one train to another a halt of an hour was made, city officials, civic organizations and the public joined in a demonstration of esteem for which Mrs. Bryan returned grateful thanks.

In the small towns traversed by the funeral train the inhabitants flocked to the track-side. Stores were closed and flags flew low in token of respect. In many villages observers estimated that the crowds were in excess of the normal populations. At Knoxville, where Mrs. Bryan permitted a waiting crowd to view the body, many evidences of love and devotion were shown to both herself and Mr. Bryan.

The Knoxville Chamber of Commerce presented her with a Bible, attached to which was a ribbon bearing an inscription of one of the Commoner's favorite quotations:

"I have enough religion to live by, and to die by."

From the citizens of Lenoir City, a colorful bouquet of simple garden grown blossoms, told of the deep feelings of the givers, a penned message announcing:

"A token of our appreciation of his upright life and fearless defense of truth."

The Associated Bible Classes of Knoxville presented a large wreath of roses with a resolution expressing sorrow over the death of their Bible leader.

At Jefferson City roadside watchers expressed their tribute in song. A male quartet from Carson-Newman College stood at the door where the Christian leader's body lay and sang one of Mr. Bryan's favorite songs. As the train slowly drew away, the crowd joined in with the singing. From the train a large sign could be seen. It read:

"We honor the memory of William Jennings Bryan."

SECESSION PLOT NIPPED IN MEXICO

Disgruntled Statesman Launches Unsuccessful Plan in Chiapas State

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, July 29.—A secessionist movement in the southeastern part of the State of Chiapas has been stopped, it was learned today, by opportune action of the Federal government and the patriotism of residents. It was proposed to form an independent republic and ultimately join the Guatemala Union.

It was rumored that certain Chiapas politicians, led by Luis Ramirez Corso, defeated candidate for the governorship, planned the movement. The rumor was not published here at the special request of high government officials, and this afternoon it was announced that the plan had failed. The secessionists named a delegation, it was said, to ask aid and support from the United States and the American Minister at Guatemala City was approached.

Discussion of the matter came up in the "session permanente" of the Congressional committee and Corso is said to have resigned as Deputy from Chiapas as a result. There was a similar rumor on foot six months ago.

PLAZA SITE FOR UNION DEPOT HERE APPROVED

Interstate Commerce Commission Decides in Favor of Joint Terminal for All Railroads

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today made public its decision approving the Plaza site for the projected Los Angeles union railway terminal, thereby crowning with success that city's ten-year fight for an adequate joint station for its transcontinental railways and for the elimination of the death-trap grade crossings on its downtown streets.

The decision is an approval rather than an order and leaves to the California Railroad Commission the actual executive task of bringing it about. However, as the State Railroad Commission has been equally active with the city of Los Angeles in urging the Plaza terminal, there is no doubt as to the attitude and action of that body.

A possible loophole for appeal on the part of the railroads affected—the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Pacific Electric—is seen in the fact that the United States Supreme Court at one time denied the jurisdiction of the California Railroad Commission in the case. However, the same decision put jurisdiction in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission for final adjudication. As that body has now declared in favor of the Plaza site it is not regarded as likely that an appeal will be successful.

The decision further denies the application of the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific for permission jointly to use the Alameda-street trackage, and the Central Station as a permanent terminal (Finance Docket No. 3569.) It likewise advises the abandonment of rail traffic, both freight and passenger, on Alameda street, except for necessary switching. All of the findings are declared to be in the interest of the "public convenience and necessity." Commissioners Hall and Cox dissented.

The findings, which involve a cost to the affected railroads of about $10,000,000, if carried out, are as follows:

"Upon a consideration of all the facts of record we find:

"(1.) That the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment of operation of all passenger and freight-train service, except industrial freight-switching service, on the main line of the Southern Pacific on Alameda street from College street to East Fifteenth street, inclusive, in the city of Los Angeles, Cal.

"(2.) That neither the present nor future public convenience, and necessity require or will require the construction or extension by applicants of new or existing main lines of railroad in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., as described in the application in Finance Docket No. 3569.

ON PLAZA SITE

"(3.) That the present and future public convenience and necessity require and will require:

"(A.) The extension by defendants of their respective main lines of steam railroad in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., so as to reach and properly serve any union passenger station and terminal within that portion of said city bounded by Commercial street, North Main street, Redondo street, Alhambra avenue, and the Los Angeles River, which they or any of them may construct and establish in accordance with a lawful order of the Railroad Commission of California, and,

"B.) The extension of their respective main lines so as properly to provide for the rearrangement of passenger and freight routes incidental to the convenience and proper operation of such passenger station and terminal.

"(4.) That the extensions referred to in the preceding paragraph are reasonably required in the interest of the public convenience and necessity and that the expense involved therein will not impair the ability of defendants to perform their respective duties to the public.

"(5.) That, in addition to the abandonment of service on Alameda street as above authorized, the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by defendants of such portions of their respective main lines of steam railroad in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., or of the operation of all or any portion of present interstate train service thereon as may be incidental to the rearrangement of passenger and freight routes, of tracks, and of terminal facilities, made necessity or proper in connection with the construction and establish-

RAILROADS IN SILENCE

Will Not Discuss Plaza Ruling

City Attorney Stephens Sees Victory in Long-Fought Terminal War

Next Move Up to the State Railroad Commission, Which Favors Plan

Civic interests yesterday received with general enthusiasm word from Washington of the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision in favor of a union railway station at the Plaza, unification of freight terminal facilities and elimination of many grade crossings by steam and electric rail lines here.

Railroad representatives retired behind the judicial front of withholding comment until after digesting the full text of the decision and declined to discuss the situation on their plans for a possible application for a rehearing.

"It looks like the end of the ten years' battle to me and I think that we have won," was the comment of City Attorney Stephens, who has in recent years directed the fight of the city to have the railroads build a union passenger station in the north end.

SAYS WE'VE WON

"We have fought this thing through every court in the land," stated Mr. Stephens. "We have gone to the United States Supreme Court and back again. It has been a clean fight and we have won. I hope that the railroads will not force us into court again. They must know by this time that we hold the winning hand and I hope and believe that for the good of the city, for the betterment of passenger service, and for the welfare of the Southland the railroads will bow to the wishes of the people and without further court action go to work and build the union passenger depot on the Plaza site.

"Press reports regarding the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission which I have so far seen are meager, and I have not had time to study the findings of that body. However, my offhand opinion is that the way has been cleared for the building of the union depot at the Plaza site.

"The joint application of the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railroads to use a passenger terminal outside the Plaza area has been denied by the commission. The commission has also held that the union passenger station on the Plaza site is necessary and reasonable and the commission also makes it plain that the railroads should follow this course but that the order should come from the State Railroad Commission.

"Some time ago the United States Supreme Court held that the State Railroad Commission did not have the authority to order the railroads to construct a union depot on the Plaza site.

"It was while the State Railroad Commission was fighting the case

STATE RAIL BODY TO ACT

Immediate Steps to Compel Erection of Plaza Union Depot Here Planned by Commission

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The California Railroad Commission will take steps immediately to compel erection of a union station by the railroads running into Los Angeles, it was announced today at the commission's offices following a decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission approving the proposal and giving the State body the power to order execution.

Whether the action will take the form of a reopening of the old case, which was carried to the Supreme Court at Washington, or a new proceeding entirely, has not yet been determined.

The legal status of the case is that the Supreme Court has decided that the State body has the authority to compel erection of a union station provided the Interstate Commerce Commission did not find that such action would impair the funds of the railroad necessary to enable them to function as interstate carriers, explained Attorney Carl Wheat for the State body. With the Interstate Commission at Washington finding in favor of the project, the State commission now will consider its next step.

Commissioner Harley W. Brundige, who is more actively interested in the Los Angeles case than any of the members of the State body, is ill at his home in Oakland. When informed by the Los

City's Long Fight for Union Station at the Plaza Nears End

HISTORY OF WAR FOR A NORTH-END TERMINAL

Interstate Board's Order Climax of Ten-Year Battle Between City and the Railroads

The Plaza union terminal case, as it has come to be called, has been milling through the courts for more than ten years. It started in the City Council, went through the State courts, plowed through the highest courts of the United States, and wound up in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission which is charged with the administration of the Transportaton Act, a Congressional measure for the regulation of all transportation in this country.

In its time the Plaza case has occupied the attention of some of the best legal talent in the country. Civic planners from several eastern cities have come here to study the problem it involves. Engineers of national prominence have given it their attention. Several authorities on the subject, who started with the case in its infancy, have been called to their reward, and others have grown gray with the fight. Tom Gibbon and Arthur Letts, who championed the cause from its inception, are dead. Such veterans as Harry Hawgood, Samuel Storrow, Seward Simons, Henry Z. Osborne, Jr., W. K. Barnard, City Attorney Stephens, F. W. Blanchard and Richard Sachse are still in the fight.

State railroad commissions have come and gone, in number, since the Plaza case began. Commissioners, such as Max Thelan, have retired from that body at the end of their terms, and allied themselves as counsel for the proponents of the Plaza terminal. Mr. Thelan has been prominently connected with the case in recent years, having been retained by the city as special counsel with City Attorney Stephens.

THE START OF IT

The original protest against dangerous grade crossings was filed with the City Council by F. W. Blanchard, then president of the Central Development Association, in 1914. The Council ruled that it had no jurisdiction in the matter.

After a series of conferences with the railroads, Mr. Blanchard, who had been made chairman of a Chamber of Commerce committee, which was instructed to bring about the construction of a union depot here, combined the grade-crossing elimination petition with the union depot idea and filed them with the State Railroad Commission, shortly after that body came into existence.

In June, 1916, the City Council invited the State Railroad Commission to an informal joint conference on the union terminal question. At this conference the City Attorney's office disputed the asserted jurisdiction of the commission to regulate grade crossings in Los Angeles. The Central Development Association urged the commission to take up the matter of grade-crossing elimination and union terminal construction.

That fall Max Thelan, president of the commission, announced that the commission would proceed with the investigation were it not for the dispute as to jurisdiction in the matter. He stated that he thought the commission had authority in the matter, but that it would not proceed until jurisdiction had been established through ruling of the State Supreme Court.

During December of that year the Supreme Court issued an order calling upon the commission to show cause why it should not proceed with the investigation. In June, 1917, the Supreme Court ordered the commission to proceed with the investigation of terminal and grade crossing matters, declaring that exclusive jurisdiction was vested in the commission rather than the City of Los Angeles.

During the closing week of July, 1917, the commission held its first hearing on the terminal and grade crossing problem in this city. During August a second hearing was held. In November the City Council agreed to set aside $20,000 to be used with a similar sum set aside by the commission, in making an engineering study of the joint problems. Another hearing was held by the commission during November, and the fourth one took place here in December.

COUNCIL ACTS

During January, 1918, the City Council adopted a resolution calling upon the commission to order a union terminal constructed. Richard Sachse, chief engineer of the commission, was charged with the task of making a joint survey of transportation conditions here. The task occupied his attention for about two years, at the end of which time he filed a report in two volumes, covering about 1400 pages. In this report he recommended the construction of a union passenger terminal at or near the Plaza.

This report was subjected to a series of hearings which lasted for many days, the railroads attacking the report from many angles, and the Southern Pacific railway submitting a counter plan known as the "Titcomb Plan," sometimes called the roller coaster for the reason that it was basen upon the construction of several long, steep trestles.

RAIL BOARD APPROVES

After lengthy consideration the commission finally accepted the Sachse plan and ordered the railroads to proceed with the construction of a union terminal at or near the Plaza. By this time the Pacific Electric railway had been eliminated from the proceedings and the defendants were the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe railways.

The commission granted a review of the entire proceedings, but declined to retreat from the stand it had taken in its original order, so the railroads appealed to the State Supreme Court which reversed the commission's order, arguing that the commission had exceeded its authority and that jurisdiction was vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission forthwith took an appeal from the State Supreme Court to the United States Supreme Court, while the City of Los Angeles countered by filing with the Interstate Commerce Commission an application for a hearing in the entire proceedings. About a year ago the United States Supreme Court ruled against the State Railroad Commission, holding that the commission had exceeded its authority and undertaken to usurp authority which, it asserted, was vested only in the Interstate Commerce Commission by virtue of the Transportation Act. This killed the commission's case.

Upon the city's application for a hearing in the matter, the Interstate Commerce Commission sent one of its members here to conduct an inquiry into the matter. His appraisers went over the proposed site and the State Railroad Commission furnished him with transcripts of all the testimony that had been given in the case over a period of many years.

Upon his return to Washington the Commission delegates Examiner Eshelman to come here and conduct a searching investigation into the problem. This was done in 1924. When the examiner returned to Washington he submitted a report to the Commission in which he set forth three outstanding points, as follows:

EXAMINER'S FINDINGS

"Certificate issued, authorizing the Southern Pacific to abandon its passenger and freight train service except industrial freight switching service, and certain portions of its main line, on Alameda street in Los Angeles.

"Public convenience and necessity found not to require the construction and extension by the Southern Pacific and the Los Angeles and Salt Lake of new and existing lines of railroad in Los Angeles.

"Present or future public convenience and necessity not shown at this time to require the construction within a defined area in the vicinity of the Plaza of Los Angeles, of a union passenger terminal and facilities."

In closing his report he said: "The record justifies the conclusions that adequate and convenient union passenger facilities can be provided by defendants in Los Angeles at a cost comparable with the cost of separate and less convenient facilities as contemplated in the carriers' plans and which will not impair their ability to perform their duty to the public, and that the establishment of such union terminal is in the public interest. It does not appear at the present time that such union facilities should necessarily be located in the Plaza area."

Since the city's case has been pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific railways have obtained temporary permission from the State Railroad Commission to make certain trackage alterations and jointly occupy the Southern Pacific's Arcade station at Fifth and Central avenue.

In the meantime the Southern Pacific, through its purchase of the El Paso and Southwestern Railway, has acquired about forty-seven acres of the sixty-three acres embraced in Engineer Sachse's original Plaza union terminal plan. The Santa Fe Railway is still occupying its old passenger station on East Second street.

through the United States Supreme Courts my office took the case before the Interstate Commerce Commission, whose jurisdiction in the matter has never been questioned and thereby we save more than two years' time. Now comes the ruling of that body and everything is settled, I believe.

"This office has fought for the union depot on the Plaza site for years. The end of the fight is in sight and the victory is ours. If we have to go to court again I believe that we will win, but at the present time I am of the opinion that no further court action will be necessary."

FROM McADOO

William Gibbs McAdoo, Director-General of Railroads during the war and chairman of the Mayor's railway terminal site committee, said:

"The decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission is highly gratifying, because it clarifies the situation and marks the beginning of the end of the long controversy between the railroads and the city over a union terminal. Of course, I have not seen the full text of the decision, but the reports indicate that it is a sweeping victory for the city.

"Apparently the Interstate Commerce Commission has confirmed the power of the California Railroad Commission to enforce the findings of the Interstate Commerce Commission and to carry out the details of this necessary railroad improvement."

Henry Z. Osborne, consulting engineer who was chief engineer for the Board of Public Utilities from 1919 to 1923, during which years the contest between railroads and city was in progress, said:

"If as the news dispatches indicate, the matter again virtually rests in the hands of the State Railroad Commission, now with full authority to act, I believe the situation is eminently satisfactory to the city and friends of the union depot plan. The State Commission has seen the need here for the union depot and if it acts in line with its previous attitude we are virtually assured of ultimate success."

THE NEXT STEP

"The next step will be for the State Railroad Commission to issue anew an order for a union station and one freight system, if I understand the news dispatches of the Interstate Commerce Commission's action rightly," Samuel Storrow, consulting engineer, said.

Mr. Storrow filed the original action for a union station with the State Commission ten years or more ago on behalf of the Municipal League. He represented also the Central Development Association.

"When the State body issues its order, it probably will do as it did in the first one," Mr. Storrow said, "that is, direct the railroads to make ready within six months a plan and design for the union depot and unified freight system. When the design and plan are gone into and approved, then construction would follow.

"All of the railroads pass within 300 feet of each other at the North Broadway bridge and it seems to me that there, or nearby, is the place for the Union Station. Wherever it is, not a single crossing should be at grade.

"As it looks now it probably will be at the north end of the Plaza."

VETERAN'S VIEWPOINT

F. W. Blanchard, who instituted the Plaza union terminal proceedings eleven years ago through the filing, with the City Council, of the Central Development Association's petition to have dangerous grade crossings removed from Alameda street, regards the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision as the turning point.

"We've been through a long hard contest and have finally been upheld by the highest authority in the world on transportation problems," says he, "and it seems to me that the railroads and the people ought to be able to get together now and construct the Plaza terminal without further litigation and delay.

"There is nothing to be gained by further delay. We need the terminal. All of us are apologetic to our friends who arrive at the local stations of the steam roads, because we have no better depot facilities. I can see no good reason for squandering any more money to delay the much needed improvement."

Harry Hawgood, consulting engineer, hailed the Federal commission's ruling as "a great step forward for Los Angeles." He was chairman of a special committee which Mayor Snyder appointed some years ago to make a report on the situation to the City Council. He represented the Central Development Association in the contest and was on the side of the depot advocates. "That ruling," he said, "will go a long way toward helping the city with its transportation problem, too, and it means much in our progress generally."

Fred H. Knickerbocker, general manager of the Union Pacific, and A. S. Halsted, its general solicitor, declined to comment on the Federal action. W. K. Etter, general manager of the Santa Fe, and E. W. Kamp, chief of its legal department, similarly declined and did D. W. Pontius, general manager of the Pacific Electric. No comment would be made at the San Francisco offices of the Southern Pacific's legal department.

CHURCH LAUDS ANDREWS

While Mr. Andrews was engaged in his study, the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church issued a statement declaring the Assistant Secretary was a "friend of prohibition because he is the enemy of law-breaking."

Although declaring Secretary Mellon "because of his associations and his interest in the whisky business in former years," was not considered by prohibitionists as the proper person to be in charge of enforcement, the board said that there was "circumstantial evidence" that he was following a policy of "absolute noninterference and of sympathetic support of his subordinates charged with the enforcement of the Volstead Act."

The assertion that prohibition is having "its last trial" was scouted by the board, which said prohibitionists would fight on until satisfactory enforcement was obtained.

Recognizing the necessity of preserving the city's two most important landmarks, the original Plaza and the Plaza Church, the association, on its plan, located the union terminal a block further eastward than the site provided in the Sachse plan. The trackage occupies the area between Los Angeles and San Pedro streets, and terminates at Temple street, which has been straightened and relocated. Temple street is carried over the tracks by a viaduct, as is also Macy street.

Immediately south of Temple street, extending from Los Angeles to San Pedro streets, a site is provided for a great union station, which will front on a plaza to be known as La Alameda. This plaza bounded by Temple, First, Los Angeles and San Pedro streets, compares in size to the great Union Terminal plaza of Washington, D. C.

Additional sites for railroad administration buildings are provided under the plan, on the south and east sides of the Plaza. To the west, the union terminal plaza is left open, so that it becomes the terminating feature of the great central park of the Civic Center. Kato Declares Envoy True Friend to Japan

Won Universal Respect, Says Shidehara

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

TOKIO, July 29.—Official expressions of regret because of the death of Edgar A. Bancroft, American Ambassador to Japan, who died here yesterday were contained in statements today from Premier Kato and Foreign Minister Shidehara.

The Premier said:

"News of the death of the American Ambassador comes as a staggering blow. Since he assumed his duties here he has endeared himself to all of us and has shown himself a true friend of the Japanese people. He worked body and soul for the promotion of the traditional American-Japanese friendship. It is difficult for me to find words to express our regret. Through the death of the Ambassador at his post, America has lost a great servant and this country has lost a friend."

The Foreign Minister said: "I find it difficult to express myself in the shock and grief that has followed the death of the American Ambassador. Only yesterday we received the cheering news of his improvement and looked forward to his restoration to active duties. During his services here he not only endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact, by his sympathy, enthusiasm and readiness to accept other points of view than his own, but he won universal respect by the clearness of his mind and the steadiness of his purpose. He had already made a place distinctly his own in the history of American-Japanese relations and his loss from their service cannot be described fairly as anything but tragic. We mourn him sincerely as a friend and a devoted distinguished servant to our common cause of pacific understanding."

The Nichi Nichi, a newspaper, said that "Ambassador Bancroft was sent to Japan for the purpose of reinstating the former friendly relationship of Japan and America and it is greatly regretted that he died without realizing his hopes. At no time in history has the Japan-American situation been as difficult as it is today."

Preparations for the funeral of the Ambassador, including arrangements for shipping the body to the United States, today awaited advices from Washington.

The body will remain at Karuizawa, the place where he died, until tomorrow, because today is a national holiday in commemoration of the death of Meiji-Tenno, but probably will be brought to Tokio on Friday or Saturday.

The vernacular press was laudatory in its comment on the Ambassador's work.

As the Cabinet has decided to dispatch a warship to the United States about August 10 to attend the celebration of California's seventy-fifth anniversary, it was thought probable this ship might carry the body of the Ambassador back to his homeland.

THREE DIE IN MASTER CRIME

Fashionable Throng at Chicago's Smartest Hotel in Panic as Bullets Fly in $10,000 Holdup

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 29.—Armed bandits today invaded and held up the Drake Hotel, Chicago's most palatial and fashionable hostelry, located at Michigan avenue and Pearson street, in the heart of the "Gold Coast" district. The holdup, which took place during the afternoon tea hour, resulted in the death of two of the bandits and Carl Anderson, hotel clerk, and a panic among the guests.

The robbers got $10,000, according to officials of the hotel.

It was the most daring robbery attempted in Chicago's recent crime history. For an hour afterward the hotel was in such excitement that police officers had difficulty learning what had happened.

No one was aware of the bandtis' entrance into the hotel lobby. They came at 3:45, when the lounging rooms were filled with a leisurely afternoon crowd and while dozens of women were at the tea tables in near-by rooms.

The robbers went directly to the second floor, where the cashier's office is located. It is removed from where guests were congregated and opens from a corridor ordinarily quiet.

The room of P. G. B. Morris, director of promotion of the hotel, is on the same floor and near by. The robbers threw it open then ordered the twenty-five men and girls in the cashier's room to pass into Morris's room. While some of the bandits searched for money others of the band kept the employees moving one at a time between Morris's room and the office, supposedly to make the situation appear normal to anyone who might come along.

DETECTIVE OPENS FIRE

While that was going on, James R. McMurdy, the house detective, came into the corridor. One of the bandits ordered him into the procession McMurdy drew his revolver and fired twice, hitting one man in the shoulder.

The outlaws in the hallway returned the fire, fatally wounding Anderson. A dozen shots in all were fired in the corridor.

Although removed from the tea rooms, the shooting created a panic among the women guests downstairs. A moment after they heard the burst of firing they saw the robbers dash down the stairs and out of the hotel.

A Lincoln Park policeman, on traffic duty at the corner, saw the bandits in flight. He fired to halt them and killed one.

BANDIT BOARDS TAXI

A sedan that had been parked in front of the hotel carried three away. Another, with drawn revolver, halted a Yellow Cab in which were a man and a woman. passengers, and ordered the driver to go north.

With the outlaw's revolver muzzle against his neck, the cab driver sped north in Clark street to Winona avenue. There he hailed a policeman and at that, the robber leaped from the cab and ran.

The policeman took up the chase, firing as he ran. The pursuit continued to a basement at 1454 Foster avenue and there the bandit dropped, fatally wounded. Later another of the outlaws was captured.

WOMEN OF POTOSI TO HAVE VOTE

Equal Suffrage Granted Easily by Legislature in Mexican State

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN LUIS POTOSI (Mex.) July 29.—Equal suffrage has come to the women of the State of San Luis Potosi without much effort in their part. The Legislature has passed a law which provides for the immediate registration of all qualified women voters of the State as preliminary to permitting them to exercise the right of franchise in voting for candidates for State, district and municipal office, beginning in 1926. The same qualifications apply to women as to men and it is expected that there will be a general and full response to the request for the registration of all women who are eligible to exercise the right of franchise.

Since the law was passed requests for copies of the act have been received by members of the Legislatures of a number of other States. It is expected that similar laws will be passed by some of the other States and that a measure granting full franchise to women will be introduced in the National Congress.

Auto Accident Ends Fatally for Picnickers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, July 29.—Tragic ending of a picnic party of two Puente families, consisting of seven children and four adults, when a small truck in which they were riding overturned this morning at the summit of the Victorville Highway, thirty miles from here, was the subject of an official investigation tonight following the death of Herbert Cook, 55 years of age, of the Fellowship farms, one of the passengers.

The truck, driven by Henry Andreas, was presumed to have thrown a rear wheel while going at a high speed and turned over twice in the road, pinning all beneath it.

The injured, Mrs. Herbert Cook and Henry Andreas, both in the General Hospital here, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sturtevant and their children, Elmer, 11; Donald, 4; Mexa, 8; Cathryn, 13; Richard, 12; Beatrice, 9; taken to the Ramona Hospital in San Bernardino.

Equal Suffrage Granted Easily by Legislature in Mexican State

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN LUIS POTOSI (Mex.) July 29.—Equal suffrage has come to the women of the State of San Luis Potosi without much effort in their part. The Legislature has passed a law which provides for the immediate registration of all qualified women voters of the State as preliminary to permitting them to exercise the right of franchise in voting for candidates for State, district and municipal office, beginning in 1926. The same qualifications apply to women as to men and it is expected that there will be a general and full response to the request for the registration of all women who are eligible to exercise the right of franchise.

Since the law was passed requests for copies of the act have been received by members of the Legislatures of a number of other States. It is expected that similar laws will be passed by some of the other States and that a measure granting full franchise to women will be introduced in the National Congress.

Auto Accident Ends Fatally for Picnickers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, July 29.—Tragic ending of a picnic party of two Puente families, consisting of seven children and four adults, when a small truck in which they were riding overturned this morning at the summit of the Victorville Highway, thirty miles from here, was the subject of an official investigation tonight following the death of Herbert Cook, 55 years of age, of the Fellowship farms, one of the passengers.

The truck, driven by Henry Andreas, was presumed to have thrown a rear wheel while going at a high speed and turned over twice in the road, pinning all beneath it.

The injured, Mrs. Herbert Cook and Henry Andreas, both in the General Hospital here, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sturtevant and their children, Elmer, 11; Donald, 4; Mexa, 8; Cathryn, 13; Richard, 12; Beatrice, 9; taken to the Ramona Hospital in San Bernardino.

Gold Invitation Asks Coolidge to Attend Fete

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover is taking eastward an engraved gold plate inviting President Coolidge to attend the California Diamond Jubilee celebration here early in September.

Hoover told the jubilee committee that he will try to persuade the President to come. The invitation is signed by Gov. Richardson, Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, and officials of the festival. The gold used in it was mined near Grass Valley, Cal.

French Watch German Zeppelin Plans Closely

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, July 29.—The French government is watching the German plans to launch successive Zeppelins for scientific missions in various corners of the globe. It is asserted here that Berlin is trying to evade the Versailles Treaty to dismantle the famous airship plant at Friedrichshafen.

The latest air exploration will be directed at Asia Minor, providing the council of ambassadors authorizes the building of the new sky cruiser.

INJURIES FATAL TO LORD CHEYLESMORE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, July 29.—Maj.-Gen. Lord Cheylesmore, whose wife was Elizabeth Richardson, daughter of the late F. O. French of New York, died here today following injuries he sustained in a recent automobile accident. He was a celebrated rifle shot and sportsman.

Lord Cheylesmore was born January 25, 1848, and after attending Eton, entered the army. He was stationed in Bermuda for a period commencing in 1890.

Lord and Lady Cheylesmore visited the United States in 1905.

OKLAHOMAN URGED FOR RESERVE BOARD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ELK CITY (Okla.) July 29.—United States Senator W. P. Pine has informed John Scott, Elk City banker, that he is favorable to the appointment of Scott as a member of the board of directors of the Southwestern Federal Reserve Land Bank. Senator Harreld had indorsed Scott to succeed a member of the board from Colorado at the expiration of the latter's term. Scott is president of the Elk City State Bank and was an applicant for appointment as United States Marshal to succeed Alva McDonald, who retired recently.

Halesia D. Hoffmeister Offers a "Kurtzmann" Tribute

Like many artists and teachers in Los Angeles, Halesia D. Hoffmeister has found the "Enduring Kurtzmann piano" to be a source of great satisfaction to her in her studio work . . . and offers it this tribute:

"The Kurtzmann piano has been familiar to me since my childhood . . . and never have I known it to fail in the most exacting tests . . . to which an artist and teacher has put it.

Endurance . . . one of the first requisites of a studio piano . . . is one of the most remarkable characteristics of the Kurtzmann.

WALES GOES TO SOUTH AMERICA

Ascends Table Mountain Before Leaving

Memorial to Nurses of Africa Dedicated

H. M. S. Repulse Will Stop at St. Helena

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

CAPE TOWN (Union of South Africa) July 29.—The Prince of Wales and his party departed today for South America aboard H.M.S. Repulse.

The Prince had luncheon with the Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, and then motored to Simonstown to board the Repulse.

Yesterday Wales ascended Table Mountain, overlooking Cape Town and Table Bay. From its highest point he had a last glimpse across the peninsula and hinterland into the vast distances he has left behind in his journeyings on the African continent.

The Repulse will call at St. Helena on August 3, leaving there two days later for Montevideo, Uruguay. It is expected that the battleship will drop anchor in the outer roads of Montevideo August 14.

The last ceremonial act of the Prince of Wales before he left Cape Town was to dedicate a memorial to nurses who were killed during the World War.

Simonstown was gayly decorated when the Prince arrived. The British-African squadron was assembled to escort the Repulse out of the harbor. The blue waters of the bay, the assemblage of ships with fluttering flags and the background of hillsides and mountains covered with wild flowers formed a beautiful picture as the Prince boarded the ship upon which he will go to South America.

BEAUTY SHOP ENSLAVES MEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 29.—With youth becoming softer and more effeminate every day, and the crop of "drug store cowboys" constantly increasing, what will pass for men in 1935, perhaps sooner, will be painting their faces, rouging their lips and rolling their long stockings. Already they are manicuring their nails to the point where they can do no work, even if they had the inclination. They are marcelling their hair, wearing bracelets and aping women in many ways. This information comes straight from the American Cosmeticians' Society, the members of which are preparing for heavy business from men in the beauty shops. "Beauty is as essential to business men as to women," said one of the delegates in a speech today.

Several Hurt, One Fatally, in Wabash Wreck

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

URBANA (Ill.) July 29.—One woman was fatally injured and several persons suffered broken limbs and minor injuries at 5:55 o'clock this afternoon, a mile east of Tolono, when a westbound Wabash passenger train was derailed.

The injured persons were given first aid in Tolono. The cause of the wreck is not known.

NICKEL PLATE MERGER FAVORED BY EXPERT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The proposed merger of the Nickel Plate with the Erie, Pere Marquette, Hocking Valley and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads under the Van Sweringen plan should meet the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Emery R. Johnson, professor of commerce and finance at the University of Pennsylvania, testified today at the consolidation hearing. Called as an expert, he based his statement on considerations of public interest and governmental policy in regulating transportation.

WOMAN TO TELL DEATH FEUD STORY

Hotel Proprietress Will Give Information Regarding Truden-Kirk Fight

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CALEXICO, July 29.—Demanding that her name be cleared of suspicion of any knowledge of events surrounding the Truden-Kirk feud, in which both men were killed, Mrs. Mabel Weaver, proprietress of the Imperial Hotel, where the men lived, appeared before Dist.-Atty. Utley of Imperial county today and volunteered to place all information she might have at the disposal of the county.

Heretofore Mrs. Weaver, it is said, consistently has refused to discuss the lives of the two men, maintaining that everything she knew already had been told.

Following a conference with Mrs. Weaver tomorrow morning, Utley will place certain information concerning the Truden-Kirk affair before the grand jury, which will convene tomorrow at El Centro. No charges or complaints will be filed by Utley, it was said today, the action being taken to see what future disposition the case justifies.

Mrs. Weaver appeared before Utley today following receipt of an anonymous letter by Sheriff Gillette, which stated that she knew more about the case than "anybody else." Mrs. Weaver today said she knew nothing more than had already been brought out, but that she wanted to clear her name of any suspicion.

Kirk is said to have lived at Mrs. Weaver's hotel for three months, while Truden lived there almost a year.

OSMENA MAY ATTEND WASHINGTON PARLEY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANILA, July 29.—The majority party in the Legislature has virtually decided to send Senator Osmena as a delegate to the interparliamentary union meeting at Washington in October. It is also proposed to kep Senator Osmena at Washington indefinitely for the purpose of furthering a solution of Philippine problems before Congress.

BRYAN CORTEGE NEARS CAPITAL

Friday, all subject to the approval of his widow, were made today as the body of the Commoner was being brought to Washington from Dayton, Tenn.

There will be services both at the New York-avenue Presbyterian Church, where Mr. Bryan worshiped when Secretary of State, and at the grave at Arlington National Cemetery, but the whole ceremony will be as simple as might be that of the humblest citizen.

Save, possibly, for the artillery caisson on which the body will be conveyed from the church to the Potomac hills, and the sounding of "taps," the soldier's requiem, at the grave, there will be no hint of military honors.

Immediately upon the arrival of the funeral train at Union Station early tomorrow, the bronze casket will be taken to an undertaking establishment, but if Mrs. Bryan approves, it will be moved a few hours later to the New York-avenue church to lie in state during the afternoon and the early hours of Friday.

Funeral services at the church will begin at 3 p.m. Friday and will be conducted by Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo, the pastor, who is returning here from his vacation in New York State.

At the conclusion of these services the funeral procession will move across the Mall and Potomac Park to the Virginia hills beyond the river where the body will be interred on the side of a hill dominated by the Dewey Mausoleum.

FUNERAL SERVICE WILL BE BROADCAST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Two chains of high-powered radio stations will broadcast the funeral rites for William Jennings Bryan, Friday afternoon, to every hamlet east of the Mississippi, and, perhaps, depending on weather conditions, all the way to the Rockies.

Hundreds of thousands of the admirers and friends of the great Commoner thus will be able to hear the services as they are conducted in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. Two microphones will be installed in the church tomorrow, linking it with WRC and WCAP, local broadcasting stations. Only WRC will broadcast for Washington and the territory within range of its daylight signals. WCAP, the station of the Chesapeake and Potomac company, will relay it through stations WJZ in New York and WGY at Schenectady. Another chain of wires will carry the services as far west as Minneapolis from which point arrangements may be made for carrying the last rites further west.

BREAKFAST CLUB WILL HEAR BRYAN EULOGY

Mattison B. Jones, Los Angeles attorney, will eulogize William Jennings Bryan tomorrow morning at the Breakfast Club, 3213 Riverside Drive, near Griffith Park. This announcement was made by Maurice DeMond, chairman of the organization. S. H. Woodruff will be host for the occasion.

Plans Changed in Washington Klan Spectacle

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The much-advertised Ku Klux Klan parade which was expected to attract thousands of Klansmen to Washington on August 8 will not be held, it was stated tonight. Factional fights wihin the organization are believed responsible for a change in plans which calls for a purely local exhibition.

In other words, there will be a parade, but it will be a local affair, and not the great national demonstration which had been planned.

Grand Kleagle J. W. Mueller announced the change in plans late today.

China War Lord Asked to Help in Doctor's Rescue

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PEKING, July 29.—Roger Greene has arrived at Mukden from Harbin bearing an appeal to Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, to intercede for the liberation of Dr. Harvey J. Howard of the Rockefeller Hospital at Peking, who was captured by bandits when they killed Morgan Palmer, another American.

Consul Sokobin at Mukden telegraphs that the bandits are demanding ransom and a large supply of ammunition for his release.

CITY CLERK SHOOTS SELF

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

STOCKTON, July 29.—Roy Acker, Oakdale City Clerk, and secretary of the Oakdale Chamber of Commerce, is near death from self-inflicted bullet wounds in his head. Worry over financial matters is believed to have been the cause of his act, committed early today.

CAR OVERTURNS ON RATTLER

Family of Nine Persons Also Pulled From Under Wreckage

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ROSWELL (N. M.) July 29. — A rattlesnake, with thirteen rattles, was caught beneath an overturning automobile, eighteen miles from this city, and upon the reptile were piled C. P. Latham and wife and seven children. When the last child had been pulled from the wreckage, the snake was found and killed.

PUPILS OF AUSTRALIA GREET TARS

Thousands Sing Welcome to Americans as Sports and Receptions Are Held

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MELBOURNE, July 29.—Beautiful sunshiny weather added to the numbers of visiting officers and men of the United States fleet who took trips into the country surrounding Melbourne today.

One contingent, which visited Bendigo, was given a great reception, 3000 school children singing songs of welcome.

Sport events vied with more formal scocial functions tonight. The fights at the stadium attracted a large crowd.

All-Australian decorations, with the wattle as motif, were a feature of the Lord Mayor's ball at the exhibition building tonight. Six thousand lights were used in the decorations. The Governor-General also gave a dance for fifty petty officers.

Admiral Robert E. Coontz told of the high character of the men of the fleet in an interview. He pointed out that in the week the fleet has been here only ten cases of sailors overstaying leave have been reported.

EVOLUTION WINS GEORGIA BATTLE

taught in the public schools," Harvey petitioned in a letter to the Governor. "There is enough rot and jazz in the public schools without the corruption of the mind that believes in the great Creator. Help crush the devil and join the Lord's side."

In giving his reasons why evolution should be barred from the schools, Harvey declared "it takes imagination to accept the evolutionist's dogma, but no imagination to accept the word of God."

Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, explained today in a letter to Mrs. Frona Teller of Merced, that a student can graduate from high schools without the slightest knowledge of evolution.

Wood pointed out to Mrs. Teller that while evolution may be taught as a theory, the subject is discussed only in connection with the biology course, and that this course is entirely optional with the student.

BRYAN EXPECTS THEORY TO BE NATIONAL ISSUE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CRESTON (Iowa) July 29.—Congress eventually will be called upon to take a hand in the evolution controversy, Charles W. Bryan, brother of William Jennings Bryan, said when he passed through Creston last night, en route to Washington to attend his brother's funeral.

Bryan indicated he was deeply interested in the cause for which the great Commoner made his last fight, and that he might be active in carrying on the work of his dead brother.

SUBSTITUTE PLAINTIFF SOUGHT IN WASHINGTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—With the probability looming that the courts will throw Loren H. Wittner's "evolution" suit out before it ever reaches the first stages where the basic issues might be argued, counsel for the plaintiff today are looking around for a substitute to take Wittner's role as an "injured taxpayer."

Wittner, it develops, pays only Federal taxes and is not a taxpayer in the District of Columbia. He has no children attending school who might be injured by anything taught there. So far no substitute has been found, but a Washington tailoring firm, through publicity given the suit, did locate Wittner and today obtained a judgment for an unpaid bill of $166.50.

LOSS IN ARIZONA TAX VALUATION

Drop of $7,000,000 Shown for Past Year

Slump Found Almost Wholly in Mining

Total Now $642,973,042 for Entire State

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) July 29. — Arizona's gross valuation for tax purposes has decreased nearly $7,000,000 in the past year. Practically all the loss is in the mining industry, mainly in Gila county, where mine valuations have been cut about $20,000,000, around Miami and Globe. Cochise county, mainly on Bisbee mines, has been cut $5,000,000 while stoppage of gold mining operations at Oatman mainly is responsible for the cut of $1,500,000 in Mohave county, as well as for the $1,000,000 cut in Greenlee county, where the Morenci copper mines are marking time. Navajo, mainly on live stock, has dropped $500,000. Yet two mining counties showed gain. Pima gained $3,000,000, mainly due to heavier assessment of the New Cornelia Copper Company of Ajo, and Yavapai county gained about $2,000,000. In the agricultural counties, Maricopa has an assessment $2,500,000 higher, Pinal, where the San Carlos Dam is to give great benefit, has gone up $3,000,000 and Yuma has risen about $1,000,000. Naturally, with decreased valuations, the State tax rate will be higher than last year.

Maricopa county, including Phoenix, leads with gross valuation of $117,816,189. Then follow, Cochise, $108,008,083; Yavapai, $93,920,554; Gila, $80,432,774; Pima, $70,686,909; Pinal, $46,389,984; Yuma, $23,742,162; Greenlee, $21,682,353; Coconino, $20,262,259; Mohave, $14,518,452; Graham, $12,097,714; Santa Cruz, $12,012,747; Navajo, $11,188,394; Apache, $8,904,063. The gross State valuation is $642,973,042, compared with $649,879,308 last year.

Highway Police Must Furnish Own Equipment

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—State traffic officers will be obliged to furnish their own motorcycles in the future under a ruling made today by Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb in an opinion to Will H. Marsh, chief of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, who appoints the officers.

Webb holds that neither county boards of supervisors nor the Division of Motor Vehicles is authorized by law to purchase motorcycles for the officers but he suggests a legal way out of the difficulty.

The Attorney-General advises Marsh that provision be made in the contracts fixing the compensation of the officers, entered into by the State and County Supervisors, to enable the officers to purchase their own equipment.

Broadcast on Pike's Peak in Try for Arctic

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, July 29.—Radiocasting from Pike's Peak in an effort to reach the Arctic was carried out last night for the first time by the portable radio station, WJAZ, of 250 watts. The power experiment was conducted by the Zenith Radio Corporation, which sent its portable station on a tour to the Pacific Coast to demonstrate the practicability of transporting such a station from place to place to meet a variety of situations.

Two concert programs were broadcast from the 15,000-foot top of the peak in an attempt to reach the MacMillan Navy Arctic expedition now nearing Etah, Greenland, the farthest north inhabited point. No word as to reception has been received.

Japanese Face Cabinet Crisis Over Coalition

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

TOKIO, July 29.—It is understood that a crisis is imminent in the Japanese Cabinet. An extraordinary session of the Cabinet has been ordered to convene tomorrow at which, it is understood, the Premier intends to settle the question of a coalition government before the Prince Regent leaves for Sakhalin.

The resignation of three Seiyukai party ministers was considered probable today because of differences with Kenseikai party ministers over tax adjustment questions.

Hunter, director of intercollegiate athletics at U.S.C., could not be reached either.

Morton Kaer

It is said that Green did not pass in enough hours last semester to make himself eligible for football this fall. With the regular U.S.C. academic sessions not being held now it was impossible last night to get a check on Green's standing.

If Eddie is ineligible, and he may not be, the blow will be a hard one for the Trojans. Although Jones used Morton Kaer, Shirley Drury, Howard Elliott and others at the quarterback berth in spring practice smart football men agree that Green is the best prospect of the lot. He is an accurate passer, combining an unerring aim with great distance. As an understudy to Johnny Hawkins, last year's skipper and quarter, Green ran the Trojans practically without fault.

HUFFMAN MAY BOX GEORGES

Dick Donald Seeks French Heavyweight as Opponent for ex-Sailor

Eddie Huffman's next fight may be against Georges Carpentier, the volatile Frenchman, Jack Curley, who managed Carpentier's tour in this country four years ago, had been approached by Dick Donald, Ascot promoter, with an open-air match in October in view.

Curley, who has been in this city for the last month, is looking after the interests of a group of French wrestlers, and fighters, who are coming over from Europe with Carpentier some time next month.

Solly Harris, diminutive manager of Huffman, is keen for the match.

RICHARDS WINS AT SEABRIGHT

Star Beats Gerald Patterson in Straight Sets

"Vinnie" Shows Class in Net Victory Over Anzac

Cranston Holman Defeats Johnston's Conqueror

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SEABRIGHT, July 29.—In one of the outstanding matches of the tennis season here this afternoon, Vincent Richards, America's No. 2, defeated Gerald Patterson, Australia's No. 2, in the Seabright singles. Richards won in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2.

In view of the possibility that Australia will beat France and challenge the United States for the Davis Cup, the Richards-Patterson meeting excited unusual interest. This was heightened by the fact that William Johnston was beaten here yesterday by Dr. George King and seemingly is not to be counted on as a defender of the international trophy. Richards beat Patterson by playing better and headier tennis.

Patterson had a fine asset in his service, which was vastly superior to that of the American. But the Australian's weak backhand discounted his service advantage and he was volleyed to death. While Patterson was being beaten, Jack Hawkes, another member of the Australian team, lost to Dick Williams, former American champion, at 7-5, 6-3.

James O. Anderson, champion of Australia, beat A. H. Chapin, Jr., 6-3, 6-3.

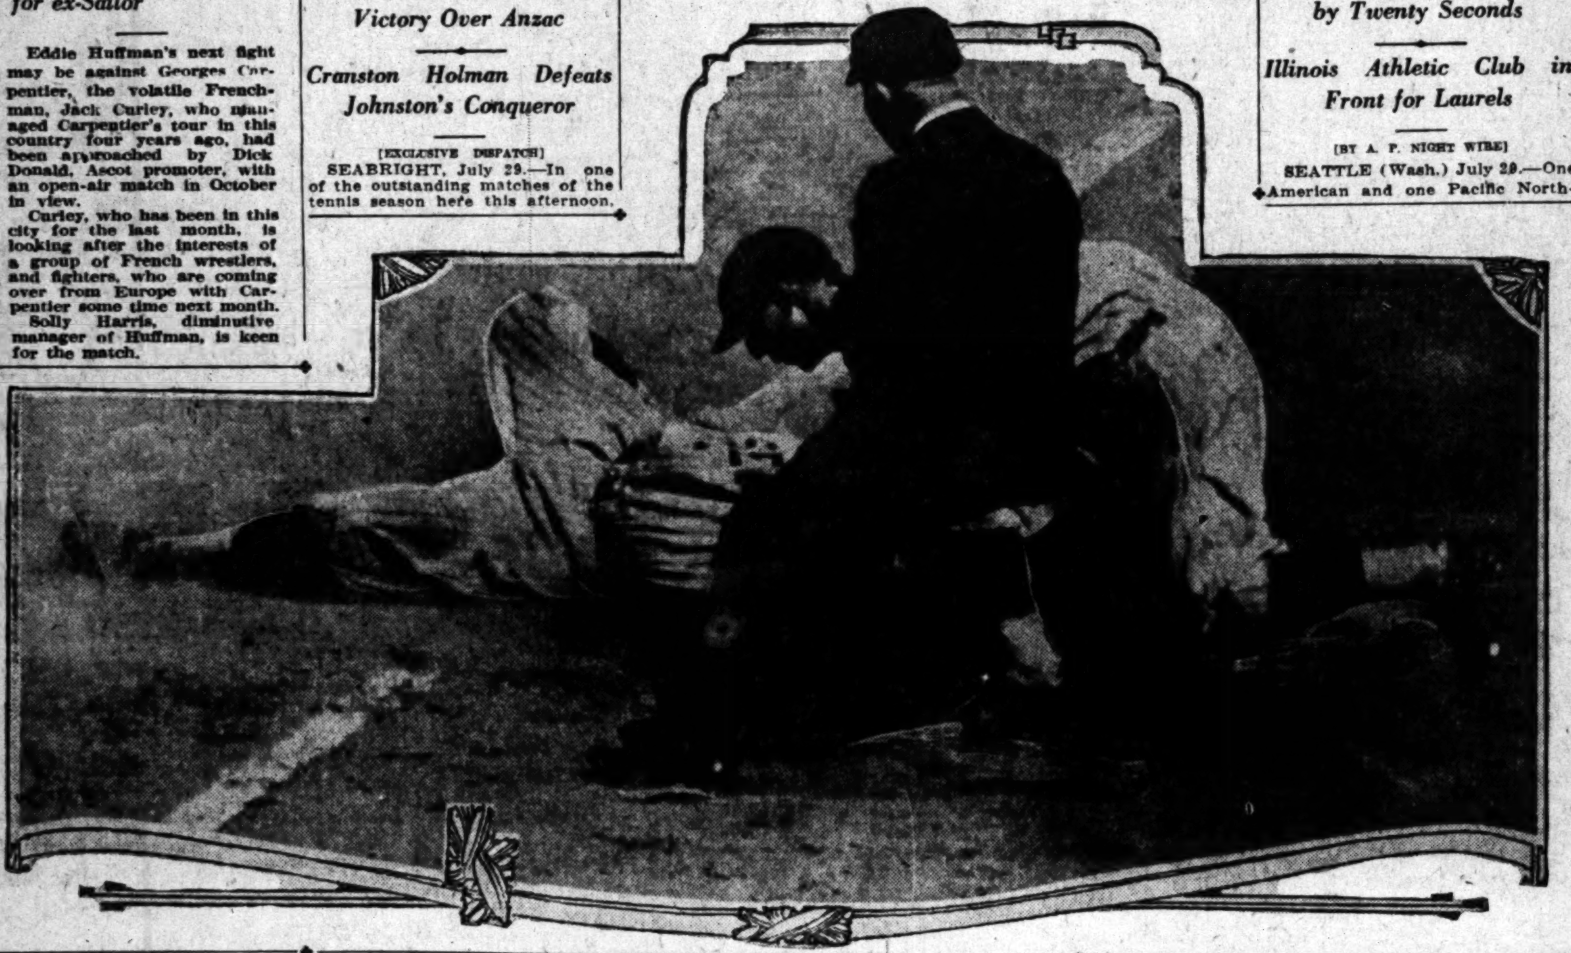
THE END OF A DOUBLE PLAY

Hal Rhyne, Seal shortstop, decided to seal third in the fourth inning of yesterday's combat at Washington Park just at the same time Oliver Mitchell was taking a vicious but unsuccessful swing at a third strike. Rod Whitney, Vernon backstop, whipped the ball to Warner, who is shown below tagging Rhyne out. The gentleman in the civies who appears to be trying to eclipse the action, is none other than Umpire Jimmy Toman, who is flagging Rhyne out. The moral of this picture is "Don't try to steal unless you're sure you can get away with it."



RECORDS FALL IN SWIM MEET

National, Northwest Marks Lowered at Seattle

Skelton Betters Own Time by Twenty Seconds

Illinois Athletic Club in Front for Laurels

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 29.—One American and one Pacific Northwest record were broken here today in the opening session of the national and Northwest swimming meets of the Amateur Athletic Union, and one world mark was put into dispute.

In the national meet, the first one ever held by the A.A.U. to include all standard events, the most points for the day were garnered by the Illinois Athletic Club, 10, and in the Northwest program Crystal Pool, Seattle, was ahead with 17.

The meets close Saturday.

Robert D. Skelton, Illinois Athletic Club, Chicago, winning the 440-yard breast stroke in 6m. 30s., obtained a new American mark. Skelton made the previous mark, 6m. 50s., in Chicago last year.

Neva Brownfield, Crystal Pool, Seattle, in a tight contest wrested from Madelene Pless, who finished second, the Pacific Northwest record in the women's 100-yard free style. Miss Brownfield won in 1m. 31 4-10s. the event in which Miss Pless made 1m. 31 8-10s. at Tacoma, Wash., two years ago.

John Weissmuller, Illinois Athletic Club, retained his championship in the 440-yard free style, but did not disturb the world record, 4m. 57s., which he set at New Haven, Ct., in 1923. His time was 5m. 22 5-10s.

A world record was announced for Lois Murfin, Multnomah Athletic Club, Portland, Or., when she won the Northwest fifty-yards free-style for women in 28.2s. But volunteers soon came forward with declarations that Marie Weslau of Honolulu had done 28s. flat in her home town three years ago.

SOLONS DROP CURLY OGDEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Washington baseball club has exchanged Curley Ogden, pitcher, for Pitcher Win Ballou of the Southern Association. Ogden has already been sent to Chattanooga and Ballou is expected to report here immediately.

ANGELS ARE NOSED OUT BY ACORNS

Seraphs Knot Count in Ninth, Only to Lose Out in Tenth Inning

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29. Oakland beat Los Angeles, 6 to 5, in a ten-inning tussle at Oakland today and old Doc Crandall stuck his nose into the affair just in time to be charged with the defeat. The score was tied at five in the ninth with old Doc and Art Delaney pitching, and as they were both fresh it looked as if the fight might be continued indefinitely.

Los Angeles could not score in the tenth, although Delaney walked two men, and when old Doc got the first two Oaks out in the tenth, eleven innings looked like a certainty. But Buzz Arlett smote the ball a mighty wallop, driving it up against the left field fence, too high up for Hood to reach, and by fast legging it, he reached third base.

Hack Miller looked too dangerous, so he was walked on purpose. Jake Flowers then broke up the game with a humpbacked liner over second base that was too far out for Beck and too far in for Statz to reach, so old Doc's record was dented with another defeat.

The Oaks got three of their four runs on a hit by Fenton that was so doubtful that Fenton stopped running to first base. He thought it was a foul ball, but Umpire Reardon ruled it fair. There were three men on the sacks and three and two on the hitter, so on the next pitched ball, all three men began running. Fenton whipped the ball down the right field foul line and all three runners scored, but Fenton hesitated so long about taking first base

SKIDDING ACT IS POSTPONED

Seals Bunch Hits to Annex Easy 10-to-1 Victory

Bengals Held Hitless Until Eighth by Portsider

Visitors Fail to Play Like Slipping Team Should

BY ROBERT E. RAY

Those pesky San Francisco Seals have yet to prove to the local populace that they are skidding out of the league lead out of the first. Yesterday, with Oliver Mitchell, lanky southpaw, hurling a two-hit brand of ball, the Seals once more took the Tigers into camp, this time by the convincing score of 10 to 1. So the trained Seals great skidding act was once more postponed.

Mitchell did not allow the Bengals a hit until the eighth when Tommy Oliver "blooped" a safety over Pete Kilduff's noble dome for a single. Jackie Warner gathered the other hit off Oliver in the ninth when he rapped one through the box that almost tore Mr. Mitchell's lanky anatomy in two.

Neither of the hits figured in the Vernon run, a couple of walks, an error by Brower of Warner's fly, and Whitney's infield out combining to give the home guards an unearned run off Mitchell in the fourth.

Herman Pillette, Sylvester Johnson and Wee Ludolph took turns at trying to make the Seals skid, but only the latter was successful and then only after the visitors had collected all ten of their runs.

SEALS BUST FORTH

For three innings both sides went out in one-two-three order, but in the fourth the Seals broke out like the hives after a strawberry festival. Six solid singles, a sacrifice and an error by Finn were all grouped in the fourth and out of the conglomeration, the Seals profited to the extent of five runs. The athletes might have quit playing right then for later developments proved that the Seals had clinched the game, but the fans paid their six-bits and if they can't see a close game they'd just as soon see a massacre, so the tilt went on.

Gene Valla opened the troubled fourth by beating out a slow roller to McDowell, and was sacrificed to

MONDT MEETS EUSTACE

Rival Heavyweight Wrestlers Clash Tonight in Main Event at Doyle's Vernon Arena

BY BRAVEN DYER

General Kenneth Dix, whose forces are opposing those of General Lou Daro in the wrestling war now raging in our midst, will fire his opening broadside from Jack Doyle's Vernon arena tonight. Eight stalwart grapplers, tried and tough, will do the fighting for the young promoter, with hostilities commencing promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Dix's big guns of the evening will be "Toots" Mondt and Alan Eustace. These bone crushers will be snarling at each other in the main event of the evening. Together they weigh approximately 500 pounds. Both desire to meet any grapplers in Gen. Daro's camp, Champion Joe Stecher not excepted, and for this reason tonight's brawl ought to bring out a lot of hot action. The two behemoths are slated to tug and grunt until one has secured two falls.

Mondt, who is one of the most pleasing wrestlers in the country today, appeared here a year ago in a flock of shows staged by Gen. Daro. Now the pink-skinned cowboy is allied with Dix. It is not expected that the change in commanders will affect Mondt's effectiveness as a grappler. He probably never remembers for whom he is working once he gets in the ring—at least, his actions would hardly lead one to believe that he does. Toots tears around the inclosure like an enraged bull and for a man of his great weight is tremendously speedy. He should win tonight, but not without a struggle, as Eustace is big and has bowled over some good men in the East and Midwest lately.

Gen. Dix plans to send tonight's winner against Wayne "Big" Munn early next month. That match will draw a tremendous crowd and naturally both Mondt and Eustace want the crack at the former champion.

Richard Schikat, another mountain of flesh, is slated to lock horns with Herman Stroh in the semi-wind-up. This will be the former's first appearance here, while Stroh did his stuff in one or two shows last season. Schikat is a big German with a splendid record in the East. He is favored to topple Stroh. The men wrestle one hour.

Pat McGill, the Omaha Irishman, is expected to mangle Hans Bauer, a local grappler, in the third bout of the night. Pat is a likable chap and knows how to wrestle well. There is a thirty-minute time limit on this clash.

Promoter Dix has added an opening match which will feature Prof. C. Bragg, the raw-food devotee, and Jack Brown. The men are middleweights and will make faces for half an hour.

DEMPSEY, KEARNS SETTLE

Manager Agrees to Take Over Wilshire Apartments While Fighter Gets Barbara Hotel

The split up of the properties owned jointly by Jack Kearns and Jack Dempsey was accomplished yesterday, it was learned last night from a reliable source.

It was an amicable adjustment, by the terms of which Dempsey is to take over the Barbara Hotel on West Sixth street and Kearns obtains the Wilshire Apartments.

Jack Dempsey

It was also learned that Dempsey has not signed for the proposed match with Harry Greb in Michigan City. The only bout he has signed for is the one with Harry Wills in September of next year.

UNABLE TO LOCATE HOWARD JONES'S WIFE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DENVER (Colo.) July 29.—Efforts to find Mrs. Leah Bissell Jones, who filed suit for divorce here yesterday against Howard Jones, nationally known football coach, were unsuccessful today. Her attorneys declared the charges in her complaint were "extreme and repeated acts of cruelty," but said no detailed complaint was made.

Relatives declined to talk about the suit. Jones was said to be visiting in Middletown, O.

FERRANDINI NOT TO PLAY

Tom Ferrandini, versatile left-handed tennis player, will not enter the 1925 Southern California championships, starting August 3, according to announcement made yesterday by Secretary Wynn Mace of the Southern California Tennis Association.

Ferrandini is partly angry because the association did not see fit to send him east this year, and, for business reasons, can not play in the tournament. The combined reasons will keep him out of the battle this year.

Just what Harold Godshall will do for a partner in the doubles is uncertain. He and Ferrandini have played together for so long that he should have trouble getting used to somebody else. Godshall probably will not enter the doubles.

More than 100 have entered the tournament already, Mace said yesterday. He expects upward of 300 to be on hand when the time for the closing of the entries comes around. Most of the local stars are entered and several new faces from San Francisco and Santa Barbara will be seen.

BARRETT WINS CANADIAN TITLE

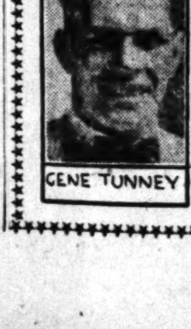
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TORONTO (Ont.) July 29.—Percy Barrett of the Lake Shore Club, Toronto, won the Canadian professional golf championship today with a card of 74-71—145 for the two-day thirty-six-hole test, leading by two strokes, Dave Spittall of Savannah, Ga., the only prominent American contender.

YOUNG BOB FITZSIMMONS MAY MEET GENE TUNNEY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Young Bob Fitzsimmons, son of the late heavyweight champion, is being considered as an opponent for Gene Tunney, American light-heavyweight champion, at a boxing card here September 7, Diamond Jubilee Week. Last week Tunney was signed to fight here on the date, his opponent to be named later.



GENE TUNNEY

Discussing a report from New York today that Fitzsimmons had been selected, promoters at the Mission Athletic Club, which is staging the card, said he had been approached, but terms had not been reached, nor had Fitzsimmons's name been submitted to Tunney.

Pittsburgh Wins Third Game from Tail-Enders

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) July 29.—The Pirates made it three straight from Boston today, winning, 8 to 6. They landed on Cooney in the fifth for seven runs. The Braves staged a rally and scored four in the seventh. Boston filled the bases in the ninth and Yde was taken out. Morrison then held the visitors to one run.

x—Batted for Burrus in seventh.
xx—Batted for Ryan in seventh.
xxx—Batted for Selmer in eighth.

GIANTS DOWNED

CHICAGO, July 29.—Chicago defeated New York, 4 to 2, today in a pitching duel between Sheriff Blake and Kent Greenfield, youthful pitcher of the Giants. New York's defeat and Pittsburgh's victory placed the league champions another full game behind the Pirates, who defeated the Braves. Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs smashed out his twenty-third home run of the season in the seventh inning, breaking the tie score. The blow unnerved New York's young pitcher and he weakened in the next inning to the extent of walking two men and allowing two hits, one a double which, with a sacrifice fly, netted two runs. McGraw rushed his reserves into the game in the ninth inning when Blake appeared to waver, but the best they could do was score one run on three hits and an error.

BROOKLYN PITCHERS FAIL

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Bunched hits enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to defeat the Brooklyn Robins today, 10 to 3, although the visitors got fifteen safeties to the locals' fourteen. Two Brooklyn errors also aided the Cardinals' scoring. Brooklyn used four pitchers. Score:

x—Batted for A. Brown in seventh.
xx—Batted for Ehrhart in eighth.

CINCINNATI WINS

CINCINNATI, July 29.—Cincinnati ran its winning streak to five games by beating Philadelphia today, 9 to 5. The game was marked by free hitting with the Reds connecting safely thirteen times, several of them for extra bases. They drove Carlson off the mound in the fifth. The Phillies also batted Pete Donohue rather freely but his big lead saved him.

x—Batted for Sand in 9th.

DARRAH OFFERED MATCH WITH GREB

An offer for Jimmy Darrah, middleweight, to fight Harry Greb, the middleweight champion, in Erie, Pa., was received yesterday by Art Braathen, his manager. The bout is set tentatively for August 26, next, according to Braathen, who indicated that he would accept the match along with a shot at Dave Shade in Cleveland following the Greb fight.

SEATTLE NABS TILT FROM BEAVER SQUAD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 29.—Seattle beat Portland today, 7 to 5, in the opening game of the series, after hammering Pat Martin for a three-run lead in the first inning. Portland tied it with runs in the second and third, but Seattle got two more in the fifth on Eldred's homer, and two in the sixth on four hits. The score:

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YONKERS (N. Y.) July 29.—J. F. Richardson's Fraternity Second won the Melrose Stakes for $2000 at one and one sixteenth miles at the Empire City track today. Duckweed was second and Lockerbie third, with Jibe, which led most of the way, finishing a bad last.

The time was 1:49.

Four Runs in Eighth Give Washington, 8-to-6 Win

Athletics Hard on Detroit Hurlers; Score, 10 to 2

Yankees Take Another from Browns, 8 to 7

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Washington rallied in the eighth today, scored four runs and won from the White Sox, 8 to 6. Zachary started for Washington, but was hit hard, giving way to Marberry, who in turn retired in favor of Walter Johnson. Faber, who replaced Blankenship in the seventh, was the victim of the Senators' comeback. Score:

xBatted for Marberry in 7th.
xxRan for Severeid in 7th.

MACKS POUND DETROIT

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—The Philadelphia Athletics hammered three Detroit hurlers today and won, 10 to 2. Slim Harriss was touched up for thirteen hits, all singles, but was complete master in the pinches, thirteen Tigers left on bases testifying to the big hurler's effectiveness with the bases occupied. Score:

x—Burke batted for Doyle in eighth.

YANKEES WIN

NEW YORK, July 29.—Ernie Johnson's home run off Southpaw Danforth broke a deadlock in the twelfth inning today, giving the Yankees an 8-to-7 victory over the Browns. It was the New York club's fifteenth two-game winning streak of the year.

Harry Rice, who replaced Sisler at first, helped the Browns tie up the game in the ninth with a homer. The St. Louis manager was called to Barberton, O., today by the death of his mother. Score:

x—Johnson batted for Shanks in tenth.
xx—Combs batted for Bengough in tenth.
xxx—Meusel batted for Wanninger in tenth.
y—Bush batted for Giard in eighth.

INDIANS BUMP BEANERS

BOSTON, July 29.—Cleveland hit Ehmke freely in the third and fifth innings today and took the second game of their series with the Boston American club, 10 to 5. Miller was effective with a sharp southpaw curve and his hitting was a material help in the visitors' scoring game. Catches by Jamieson, Speaker and Flagstead featured an otherwise tame game. Score:

x—Batted for Ehmke in 9th.

HAROLD RYDER TURNS IN LOW GOLF SCORE

Larry Kelly, professional at the Westward Ho Country Club, is not the only one playing nine holes who is giving par a treat. A few weeks ago Larry shot a twenty-five. Yesterday one of the members, Harold Ryder, turned in a card of twenty-eight, one stroke over par.

Ryder was playing in company with W. K. Jones, H. C. Thomas, and O. W. Lehmer.

The first flight of the match play for the President's Cup at the Westward Ho will tee off at 9 a.m. Saturday morning and the second round will follow that afternoon at 1 o'clock.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

NOBODY seems to respect the wishes of the New York Boxing Commission. Contrary to the edicts of the Gotham body, here's Jimmy DeForest, matchmaker at the Polo Grounds, out here in Los Angeles trying to date up Jack Dempsey for a heavyweight brawl.

The New York commission told the promoters within its jurisdiction they could not do business with Dempsey until he had been whitewashed. That has not come about, and Dempsey apparently has not the slightest intention of obeying the mandate of the commission to see them next Tuesday.

It looks as if DeForest doesn't give a darn about the commission and if he can beat the time of Tex Rickard and other rival promoters he's going to do it.

Just who will be Dempsey's first opponent when he returns to the ring is problematical. Chicago sports writers have nominated Harry Greb as the man the champ should box at Michigan City for Floyd Fitzsimmons.

The mere mention of Greb brings a snort from Charley Rose, manager of Bartley Madden, the Irish heavyweight who stayed fifteen rounds with Harry Wills.

Rose has written Dempsey on the subject and seems considerably annoyed to think Jack would even consider Greb, a middleweight, as an opponent. He points out that just recently Greb fought a middleweight in Maxie Rosenblum and before that boxed Mickey Walker, the welterweight champion.

In conclusion, Rose mentions a promise of Dempsey to give Madden a chance at his title.

It's hard to understand what possessed "Dutch" Meyers, manager of Bert Colima, to send his Mexican battler into the ring in the condition he was in Tuesday night at Major ball park. The writer has never seen Bert in such poor shape.

In the effort to build up Colima's poundage, his speed was utterly ruined. The extra ten or twelve pounds he carried looked like blubber. The Mexican was fatter and flabbier by comparison than Dempsey in spite of the latter's long layoff from the ring.

On the other hand we have never seen Huffman in such splendid physical perfection. There wasn't an ounce of superfluous flesh on his powerful body and his eyes snapped keenly out of an otherwise emotionless face.

"He can't hit," was the universal verdict at ringside as the bout meandered along to the seventh round. Then something happened. Colima was jumping backward when out sailed the sailor's right and Bert went clear through the ropes.

But the blow that put Colima down just before the bell was the most peculiar we have seen for a long time. It was a downward chop with the right, apparently only a cuffing blow, but the force of it deposited Colima on the floor with a thud. And Colima was sitting there with a pained expression on his face when the bell rang and saved his goose.

It looks as if Tommy O'Brien will be in one of the early line-ups at the new Olympic Auditorium. Jack Root is very anxious to put Tommy on with Ace Hudkins in a return match, and it may be signed soon.

BEES WIN SECOND IN ROW OVER SENATORS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SALT LAKE CITY, July 29.—Salt Lake made it two straight from Sacramento, by winning a slugging match today, 23 to 11. The Bees made twenty-four hits for a total of forty-two bases. The hits included two home runs and three triples. Tony Lazerre, Bee shortstop, knocked in nine runs, twice cleaning the bases of three occupants, once with a double, and again with a home run. The score:

MYERS JOINS DEMPSEY

Meets Dode Bercot at Hollywood Tomorrow Night for Fictitious Coast Welter Title

Spug Myers completed arrangements with Jack Dempsey yesterday afternoon to join the champ's camp when Spug's fight with Dode Bercot is over this week. Bercot and Myers head the Hollywood American Legion stadium card Friday night.

Myers is pretty fast for a boy his size. He can hit pretty well and is aggressive. Dempsey wants a fellow Myers's size with these qualities and, as Spider Roach, Spud's manager, and Dempsey are old friends, arrangements for the Pocatello kid to join the stable of sparring partners working with Dempsey were completed.

Dode Bercot is just now wondering whom he will have as his chief second when he enters the ring Friday night. Lonnie Austin, Dode's manager, usually handles him when the fight is on, but Lonnie has gone to Seattle to handle the funeral arrangements of Dan Salt, his partner, who died last week.

These two lads have had three six-round fights in Seattle. Two were draws and the last fight was won by Bercot, but he had to fight to win, as Spug had him on the floor in the second round. Myers believes that he can beat Bercot in ten rounds, as he just took an even break in six.

second by Mulligan. Waner, Brower, Ellison, Kilduff and Rhyne followed with singles and four runs were over the plate before Bill Essick could yank Pillette and send Johnson in to try his luck. Agnew was first to face Johnson and he reached first safely and Kilduff fanned when Finn dropped "Tham's" pop-fly. Mitchell fanned and Rhyne was doubled trying to steal third to end the inning.

The Tigers did their scoring bit in the home half of the fourth when Wolfer walked, reached second when Brower dropped Warner's fly, took third when Blakesley walked, and scored on Whitney's infield out after Griffin had fanned. That concluded the Vernon scoring for the day.

The Seals nicked Johnson for two [illegible] ligan walked, while Waner doubled to right, scoring the former. Brower lined to McDowell, who made a one-hand catch of the drive and then threw to Finn, doubling Waner off second. Mulligan scored when Warner bobbled Ellison's hot grounder and then threw wide to first.

JOHNSON RAPPED

Johnson was rapped out of the picture in the sixth when Rhyne singled, Mitchell singled, and Valla's hit got by Oliver for three bases. Valla also scored when Mulligan doubled to left. Ludolph then took the mound and the shooting for the afternoon ceased.

Another one today with Clyde Barfoot scheduled to hurl for the Tigers, which means that they have a chance to make the Seals skid if they're going to this week. Ellison says he doesn't know just whom he will start, but Geary or Griffin are in line for the job. Score:

DOUBLE-HEADER AT WHITE SOX PARK

Kant Score Pistons and the White Sox play a double-header Sunday at the White Sox Park. In the first half of the season the Kant Scores won both games in the double-header and the White Sox hope to even the score Sunday. In connection with the double-header a number of prizes will be given from a country store to be operated at the park. Women will be admitted free at the park Sunday.

"One o'Clock Saturday"

Men's Athletic Union Suits 95c or 6 for $5.00, in the Store for Men---Today

Splendid quality No-Rip Athletic Union Suits selling at a price far below that which their quality usually commands. Bullock's No-Rip Union Suits embody many features which are new in the making of them—features which give them superiority to others, regardless of price.

Some of the new features embodied in these suits—which make them superior to others are—

1. All made of 88x88 square Nainsook. (One technically informed will tell you that this quality of Nainsook is thoroughly reliable. If it was not, Bullock's would not exploit it.)

2. Seams taped and stitched so that they will withstand hard wear and many launderings.

3. Knit strip across back with three rows of stitching, as an additional surety of service.

4. Horizontal buttonholes. This doesn't mean much unless you know that it is usually only the higher-priced garments which are made this way and that buttons are not so likely to come unbuttoned under strain.

5. Seams reinforced at every point of strain with stays of blue buttonhole stitching. (Notice the cut, these stitchings are indicated by solid black lines.)

6. But one could go on at length on details such as good quality ocean pearl (imitation) buttons, full cut of garments, tailoring to fit, all of which mean so much in the aggregate, and go so far toward interpreting the determination of Bullock's to make Bullock merchandise distinctive and reliable, no matter what the price.

Wisdom suggests early shopping, as selling is usually vigorous after an announcement of this kind. At Bullock's Store for Men, Street Floor Broadway Building, today—95c pair, or six pairs for $5.00. Order through Bullock's Telephone Order Service—until 9:30 evenings except Saturdays. BRoadway 6900. Ask for "Order Board."

RUE VICTOR IN HOTEL SWIM MEET

Youngster Defeats Leach in 100-Yard Dash at Ambassador Plunge

In the third outdoor swimming meet held in the Ambassador Hotel plunge last night, Vernon Rue, unattached, provided an upset when he defeated Jerry Leach of the Los Angeles Athletic Club in the 100-yard free style for boys under 16 years of age. Rue made the fast time of 1m. 3s. to defeat his L.A.A.C. rival. Another upset that featured the evening meet was the defeat of Phil Daubenspeck of the Venice Plunge Swimming Association by his team-mate Wallace O'Connor, in the 220-yard free style for men.

Viola Hartman, L.A.A.C. star, won first in the 220-yard free style for women to defeat Mildred Lowe of the Hollywood Club in 3m. 12 2-10s. Miss Lowe reversed the tables in the girl's 100-yard back stroke, winning from her rival in 1m. 31 4-10s.

A touch of bone fide humor was introduced into the meet when an 8-year-old marvel and a 225-pound heavyweight provided spectators with an exhibition diving contest. Mistress Dorothy Pointer was the victor in the exhibition contest over Kenneth Green, heavyweight splasher

Last night's meet was one of a series of outdoor meets being held in the Ambassador plunge. Ben Frank of the Ambassador has put up a diamond trophy for the man who scores the most points in all the Ambassador meets, and a similar trophy for the woman who scores the most points.

Summary of the meet:

100-yard free style for boys under 16—Won by Vernon Rue (unattached,) Jerry Leach (L.A.A.C.) second; Fred Wadley (Venice Swimming Association) third; Bob French (H.A.C.) fourth. Time, 1m. 3s.

100-yard breast stroke for girls—Won by Sara Freeman (L.A.A.C.,) Lucia Schmidt (L.A.A.C.) second. Time, 3m. 12 2-10s.

220-yard free style for girls—Won by Viola Hartman (L.A.A.C.,) Mildred Lowe (L.A.A.C.) second. Time, 1m. 16 2-10s.

100-yard back stroke for men—Won by Bob Drummond (H.A.C.,) Paul Nelson (unattached) second, Phil Daubenspeck (V.P.S.A.) third. Time, 1m. 16 2-10s.

220-yard free style for men—Won by Wallace O'Connor (V.P.S.A.,) Phil Daubenspeck (V.P.S.A.) second, Phil Elliot (H.A.C.) third. Time, 2m. 33 4-10s.

Girls' 100-yard back stroke—Won by Mildred Lowe (H.A.C.,) Viola Hartman (L.A.A.C.) second. Time, 1m. 31 4-10s.

Mixed diving, men—Won by Delane Tisten (H.A.C.,) Mickey Galitzen (L.A.A.C.) second, Cleve Morrison (H.A.C.) third.

Hollywood Polo Club Engages in Big Program

The polo players at the Hollywood Heights Polo and Hunt Club are going to have a couple of hectic days beginning immediately, according to the plans which have been laid by Frank Foster, organizer and manager of the organization.

Tonight the junior and senior teams will meet in a match which should develop into one of the best night matches that has been staged in the twilight hours. Tomorrow morning the members of the polo teams and a number of their lady friends will ride in the Greater Movie Season parade downtown and tomorrow evening Capt. Nunguesser, French polo star who is visiting here, will give a moonlight riding party to the members of the club.

In the last two games which have been played between the junior and senior teams the juniors have surprised the high-goal team by getting off to a start that has been impossible to head and although the senior team has never been snowed under it has been decisively beaten in these two contests. It is therefore with a great deal of rivalry that the match will start tonight and it is expected that there will be some wild riding and playing.

Culver City Plans Great Tennis Plant

The Palomar Tennis Club, a $100,000 project to be built in Culver City, will be ready for use the latter part of October, according to an announcement made here yesterday. The new club has been granted a charter by the Southern California Tennis Association and construction will be under way in the near future.

A $40,000 Spanish-style clubhouse will be constructed and fifteen or more courts will be built. A swimming pool and other novelties will also be incorporated in it.

Something like 300 have applied for membership in the club already. It is under the sanction of the Southern California Tennis Association and all tournaments will be arranged by that body.

GOVERNMENT RATES PARKRIDGE RANGE

The Parkridge rifle range has a "first-class" rating with the government, according to a special charter granted by the U.R.A. under whose auspices the championship shoots will be held, and includes all high-power firing from 200 to 1000 yards. It has for a natural setting a mountain, it is said, big enough to stop the broadside of a battleship.

GOLF CHAMPIONS

The Cornell University Golf Club of Southern California is claimant to the university golf championship of the State of California and challenges any other university to dispute its claim. The Cornell club is composed of the following members: Paul Overton, a member of the Hole-in-One Club; Sterling Lines, John L. Mothershead, Sylvanus B. Marston, Walker Smith, Dana Smith, John W. Potts, Carl Herbold, C. D. Coulter, Charles F. Blakeslee, C. Gardner Bullis, Henry R. Davis, Wallen Taylor, Abram C. Denman, Jr., Fred H. McClintock, Kenyon Reynolds, John R. Woodbridge and H. Roy Kelly.

ALL CLUBS IN NEWPORT RACE

Santa Barbara, San Diego to be Represented

Star Boats Will Fly Burgees in Championship Race

Announce Seven-Mile Course for Title Event

Although the commodores, of the Santa Barbara and San Diego yacht clubs wired yesterday that they would have no boats available to enter in the Inter-City Star Championships Saturday and Sunday at Newport Harbor, Commodore William Warmington of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club announced that locally owned boats would fly the San Diego and Santa Barbara burgees.

It is planned to transfer club ownership of two local stars, as a matter of courtesy, in order to have every yacht club in the Southern California Association represented. "If the waivers are satisfactorily made," Commodore Warmington announced, "Ray Griffith's Dona Bertha No. 108 will represent the Santa Barbara club and Simon's No. 115, will fly the burgee of the San Diego club."

REVISE LISTS

This change has necessitated a revision in the entry lists of the local clubs. As previously announced Southland Sailing will be represented by Plumb Brothers' No. 154 and W. C. Hervey, Jr.'s, No. 114; Bay Island Yacht Club, by Van Landingham's No. 298 and Ben Cope's No. 326; Newport Harbor by Vincent Jardine's No. 299, and Ralph Noble's No. 112, and the Los Angeles club by Rey Schauer's No. 110 and Vice-Commodore W. W. Wilson's No. 47.

Changes in entries have been made by the California and the Catalina Island yacht clubs, Al Frank's boat, No. 237, instead of competing for the Catalina club will enter under the colors of the California Yacht Club and takes the place of Roy Griffith's boat, which will represent Santa Barbara. Al Solland's star No. 237 will race for Catalina in Frank's place.

SEVEN-MILE HEATS

Following telegraphed arrangements with the National Starboat Association, Commodore Warmington announced that each heat will be seven instead of ten miles. A triangular course, which is particularly good for all conditions of sailing has been laid out, starting from the Balboa pier and going to the Newport pier as the first leg and thence two and one-half miles out into the ocean.

The first heat will be held Saturday afternoon with the second on Sunday morning and the final race Sunday afternoon. According to James Webster, Newport racing committee chairman, events for bay sloops, snowbirds and marlocqs will be held on the bay course both days.

liams and Anderson vs. Cranston Holman of California. Holman today defeated Dr. George King at 6-4, 6-2.

Miss Helen Wills, national tennis champion, got a scare here this afternoon. Meeting Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup in the third round of the women's singles, the fair Helen was forced to drop the opening set and play second fiddle through a fair part of the second set, but when it was all over Miss Wills had the match at 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California, who has returned here after a thirteen-year stay in England, created quite a sensation when she defeated Miss Eleanor Goss of New York at 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Ryan outplayed the New York star in every department and gained respect as a potential winner of the tournament, yes, even with Helen Wills in it, for while Miss Ryan was beating Miss Goss, Miss Wills was dropping a set to Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup at 4-6. It was the first set Miss Wills had lost since her match with Miss Mary Browne in the semifinals of the national championship last August. Miss Ryan stroked too hard and too cleverly for Miss Goss.

Tomorrow Miss Ryan will get a severe test, as she meets Miss Mary K. Browne, former national champion and winner of the Seabright singles last year. Miss Browne today defeated Miss Martha Bayard at 6-8, 6-1, 6-3.

TO RETURN GOLF PURSE

Junior Chamber of Commerce to Take Over Promotion of Los Angeles Open Golf Tourney

The $10,000 purse put up by the Southern California Professional Golfers' Association, to be awarded the winner of the Los Angeles open golf tournament, to be held here January 4 to 10, will be returned to that body, and the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce will handle the financial end of the coming tournament. That was the net result of a two-hour session between representatives of the two associations at the Biltmore Hotel last night.

Definite plans were formulated by the Chamber of Commerce for the staging of the biggest golfing event in the West. Roy L. Carver was chosen chairman of the executive committee. Jack Kegley will be vice-chairman, Barton Stebbins, secretary, Everett Grubb, treasurer; finance, Mel O. Haldeman; tournament, Shannon Crandall; publicity director, Barton Stebbins.

The tournament has grown overnight, from an event of golfing interest only, to a nationally important affair that will require the untiring labor and resource of the Chamber of Commerce from now until January 4. The money put up by the pro's will be refunded and a greater amount, to cover the purse and the attendant expenses, will be raised by the Chamber of Commerce.

Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Joe Turnesa, Bobby Jones, Willie MacFarlane and all the rest of the nation's golfing coteries will be invited.

A representative to the national Professional Golfers' Association tournament, at the Olympia Field Country Club, Chicago, will be chosen in the near future.

Plans for bringing world-famous writers to Los Angeles to "cover" the tournament day by day for the various syndicates and newspapers of the world were also outlined.

The course over which the tournament will be staged, will not be selected until the last minute. El Caballero County Club was the first to offer its course. It is being considered.

Famous Referee Wires Donald He Will Work La Barba-Genaro Go

Harry Ertle, famous eastern referee, who was selected to officiate in the Frankie Genaro-Fidel La Barba bout for the world's flyweight championship at Ascot Park, August 22, next, yesterday wired his acceptance of the job to Donald.

Ertle, who has been writing of his sixteen years in the ring exclusively in The Times each Sunday for the last few months, is one of the best-known arbiters in the country.

He refereed the Dempsey-Carpentier fight for the world's championship at Jersey City in 1921.

Ertle was chosen from a list of nine referees by Phil Berstein, manager of Genaro, and George Blake, manager of La Barba.

TONIGHT

PASADENA—Dave Pollack vs. Oscar Trovar, ten rounds, main event; Phil Mata vs. Manuelo Jurada, six rounds; Al Brown vs. Battling Ares, four rounds; Mata Garcia vs. Carlo Martinez, four rounds, and Pete Mazalino vs. Henry Miano, four rounds.

TOMORROW

HOLLYWOOD—Dode Bercot vs. Spud Meyers, main event, ten rounds; Danny Sachs vs. Ernie Sliegel, semi-wind-up, six rounds; Joe German vs. Joe Burns, special event, six rounds; Eddie Sylvester vs. Johnny Weber, four rounds, and Young Magdalina vs. Howard Ward, four rounds.

Dave Pollack Meets Trovar in Armory Ring

There will be a big representation from the movie world at the Pasadena Armory tonight, when Dave Pollack takes on Oscar Trovar in the ten-round main event, at 130 pounds. Pollack claims the championship of the studios at that weight.

Trovar may not have as many supporters in a body at the ringside, but he will have a large percentage of the Pasadena crowd with him. He made as good an impression as did Pollack when these two boys pulled a great ring sensation two weeks ago at the Armory.

The rest of the card consists of the following bouts:

Semifinal, six rounds, Phil Mata vs. Manuel Jurada, 126 pounds.

Four rounds, Al Brown vs. Battling (Siki) Varos, 125 pounds.

Pete Mazalino vs. Henry Miano, 115 pounds.

Trambitas is Loser to Spar at Wilmington

Jack Spar won a close decision over Johnny Trambitas in the main event of last night's boxing show at Wilmington. The boys battled along on fairly even terms until the final round when a sudden spurt by Spar carried him to victory.

Allie Nelson thumped Paul DeHate in the semi-wind-up of eight rounds, while Hank Gatton trimmed Jack Inman in another eight-stanza brawl. In the curtain-raiser, Young Gonzales won the nod over Young Alexander, the bout going four rounds.

ALHAMBRA TOURNEY REPORT IS FALSE

Reports of another tennis tournament at the Alhambra Athletic Club, were denied yesterday by Wendell Chambers, secretary of tennis at that club. Chambers said that he knows nothing of a new tournament and that, on the contrary, most of the Alhambra players have entered the Southern California championships starting next week at the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

SAM HANFORD WINS AT NEWSBOYS' CLUB

Sam Hanford, a lightweight with a wallop, won the main event of last night's show at the Newsboys' Club, knocking out Martin Ochoa. James Buress kayoed Manuel Sanchez in the semi-wind-up. Other bouts: Alfred Rueff beat Kid Lee, Able Miller defeated Kid Johnny, Tuffy Abdo knocked out Bert Collins, Jimmy Olivas beat Alex Thompson, Walter Van Dale won from Al Jacobs.

Irving Messenger acted as announcer and master of ceremonies.

BLUE DIAMONDS BEGIN SUNDAY BALL

F. A. Graham's Blue Diamond baseball team has started Sunday baseball again and will play Delvedere at Belvedere, Sunday. Pacific Fruit Express are also scheduled for a game Sunday with the Watts Monarchs at Watts. Considerable rivalry will feature the Sunday contest of Jimmy Proctor's team, which meets Echo Park at Echo Park.

'DEATH STROKE' TESTS SOUGHT

Bay City Inventor Will Ask Navy to Try Machine

'Canned Lightning' Declared Fatal in 20-Mile Area

Steinmetz Held Responsible for Basic Principle

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Dr. Edwin R. Scott, self-styled inventor of what he terms a "death stroke" in the form of "canned lightning," which, he declares, will revolutionize existing war tactics, said today that he will formally request the Navy Department's assistance in testing his invention off the California coast some time in September.

Dr. Scott said he wished to convince government officials of the truth of his conventions regarding the efficacy of his invention as a death-dealing agency. He plans to make the test with the aid of an old battleship or a pilotless airplane, or both. These, he said, he will ask the government to furnish him.

DEADLY AGENCY

Here are a few of the possibilities attributed to his invention by Dr. Scott:

Destruction of all life on land, sea or in the air, within a radius of twenty miles; disabling of all radio apparatus within a similar radius; destruction of the superstructure of battleships at a distance of ten miles or more; the bringing down of airplanes from any height possible for a plane to achieve; destruction or disabling of land fortifications at long distances.

"In tests already conducted," said Dr. Scott, "holes were burned in two-inch steel plates at adistance of one mile; dead trees have been fired at the same distance, and animal life has been snuffed out at distances ranging from three to seven miles. Dummy planes also have been destroyed in air tests."

While maintaining strict secrecy regarding structural details of his machine, Dr. Scott said all necessary parts are here ready for assembling, and that the more important parts are carefully guarded in a safety-deposit vault.

Dr. Scott is a native of Detroit, Mich., but now says California is his home. For nine years, he said, he was a student and protege of the late Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, electrical wizard of Schenectady, N. Y. He credits Dr. Steinmetz with giving him the foundation principles for his "death stroke."

Dr. Scott also declares he is the inventor of a synthetic gasoline. He predicts the world's crude-oil supply will be exhausted by 1935, and declares that this view is shared by J. F. Norris, president of the American Chemical Society.

Mexican Bandits Free American Paying Ransom

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

SANTIAGO (Nayarit, Mex.) July 29.—Philip Holden, an American, manager of the Hacienda La Canada Mine, west of here, was captured by bandits several days ago and released only on payment of ransom.

He was held for three days in a jungle stronghold of the bandits.

He returned suffering from exposure.

HELD ON GOLF HONEYMOON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BUFFALO, July 29.—A charge of attempted grand larceny today was placed against Frank W. McKenzie, whose golfing honeymoon was interrupted by his arrest in New York charged with failure to pay a hotel bill here. McKenzie was charged with attempting to obtain possession of an automobile by presenting a worthless check for $2575.

PLANE STARTED BY ACCIDENT

Girl's Dress Catches on Gas Lever and Craft Goes Forward

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 29.—What could have been a very serious accident happened to Miss Ruth Ahlgran in Flourney pasture landing field, at Taylor, Tex., when after Robert Pfiel had taken her for a ride among the clouds, he landed and alighted to assist Miss Ahlgran from the plane. In some manner the girl's dress hung on the gas lever that started the propeller in motion and the plane started skipping over the ground. Without a pilot the machine traveled some fifty yards and began to pick up speed, and it was then that Miss Ahlgran had the presence of mind to jump to the ground. She was slightly bruised, but no bones broken. The machine swerved and turned over on its nose. The owner reports only a broken propeller.

MEXICO TO BE SPANNED BY HIGHWAY

Branches Will Link Main Cities With Road to be Paid for by Gas Tax

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, July 29.—A highway running from Laredo on the northern border to the Guatemalan border on the south through Mexico City and with branches connecting Mexico City with Puebla and Acapulco, is to be constructed by the Byrne Brothers Construction Company of Chicago, according to announcements here.

Funds for the great highway are to be derived from the recently imposed tax on gasoline, and a tax on tobacco producers, but construction can be started immediately through a financing plan arranged with the construction company, according to the announcement. The company will advance 1,000,000 pesos a month for six months before the government begins to make payments, after which the company will be repaid the cost of the highway, plus 10 per cent, according to the plan.

President Calles was quoted as stating that the roadbuilding operations will employ between 40,000 and 50,000 men and will eliminate all possibility of revolution by taking care of the unemployed who are tempted to join rebel leaders.

Presbyterian Boys and Girls Will Organize

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—Plans for the organization of boys and girls of the Presbyterian Church around the world in one organization, were announced today by the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, through its general secretary, Dr. William Chalmers Covert.

Organizations will be under the direction of Dr. Paul R. Landis of New York for the boys, and Miss Deborah A. Clark of Hollywood, Cal., director of girls' work of the Board of Christian Education, for the girls.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION LETS FIVE CONTRACTS

AWARDS ANNOUNCED ON STATE ROAD AND BRIDGE WORK TOTAL $374,975

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The State Highway Commission let five contracts here today for road and bridge improvements in various sections of California, totaling $374,975.45. One of the important projects is the Shasta county bridge, which is part of the construction work under way on the Pacific highway in the Sacramento River Canyon. The span will be at a height of more than 100 feet over the stream.

The contracts and winning bids were as follows: San Bernardino county, 25.7 miles to be graded on the National Old Trails, from Victorville to Hicks, $156,196. Engineer's estimate $153,215.

Riverside county, bridge over Coachilla storm water drain, $37,495. Estimate, $38,250.

Shasta county, reinforced concrete bridge over Charley Creek, $71,770.45. Estimate, $69,320.60.

Fresno county, maintenance shop and equipment station, $29,292. Estimate, $30,065.

Successfull bidders on the five contracts were: H. G. Fenton of San Diego for the San Bernardino county grading work; Badt, Falk & Bergendahl, Los Angeles, for the Riverside county bridge; Broadwell Zimmerman, Napa, for the Shasta county bridge; Basich Brothers Company, Los Angeles, for the Riverside county paving work, and J. P. Williams, Fresno, for the shop building and equipment warehouse.

FALL FROM WINDOW KILLS BAY CITY MAN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—H. O. Blumenthal, 60 years of age, a retired merchant, fell or hurled himself to his death from a window here today. The window was but four feet from a light well, through which he crashed twenty feet to the ground. Tenants of the building said he had brooded over the death of a friend, Herbert Goodman, who killed himself by leaping six stories on the 15th inst.

BRITISH HOUSE FOR CRUISERS

Government Program for Warcraft Supported

Talk of American-Japanese Trouble Comes Up

MacDonald, Lloyd George Hit £58,000,000 Plan

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, July 29.—The House of Commons tonight put its stamp of approval on the government's cruiser building program. This was done after the Liberals and Laborites had sought to have the appropriations for new warships reduced on the ground that there was no naval war in sight and therefore there was no need to burden the already heavily taxed country with an additional expenditure of £58,000,000.

Ramsay McDonald, former Labor Premier, moved a reduction of the shipbuilding vote, but the House rejected the proposal by a vote of 276 to 140. There was much talk about potential trouble in the Pacific, but Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer and the other government spokesmen steered clear of this subject in their contributions to the debate.

The Chancellor in his official statement respecting the new cruiser building program said there was only one menace—that the fleet was wearing out.

TO MAINTAIN POSITION

Mr. Churchill repeated one of his most persistent remarks, that Great Britain, having immensely modified her whole historic position by agreeing to have a navy of the same size of another country, intends to maintain her sea forces not inferior to those of any country in the world.

Several speakers with no government portfolios to incline them to vagueness and generalities had much to say about possible trouble between the United States and Japan and also about the tendency of the French to increase their submarine strength.

Mr. MacDonald, arguing that there was nothing in sight to make war either necessary or inevitable within a dozen years, said that nobody would say that the United States and Japan were possible enemies. So far as France was concerned, if anybody imagined her a possible enemy, the problem was not naval, but one of the air primarily, or of co-ordination of land, sea and air forces. Already Great Britain had forty-nine cruisers while Japan, the next power in that type of armament had only eighteen. He seemed to think it a pity there was no indication that the government was doing anything regarding a disarmament conference.

LLOYD GEORGE SPEAKS

Former Premier Lloyd George contended there was no menace in Europe to justify the new cruiser program and he asked the government to say whether there was a menace through the trade routes on the Pacific which justified it in imposing a burden of £58,000,000 on the people.

"Can the government conceive any peril in the Pacific in the next ten years in which the United States will not be far more involved than we are and on the same side?" he asked. He said that Mr. Churchill had been beaten by the Admiralty, which had arrogated to itself the position of a sovereign independent state and which "had negotiated with the government at the risk of war" and, he went on, "the first condition of security in this country is to teach discipline to the admirals."

Alluding to the foreign press comment, Mr. Lloyd George said there was no use preaching disarmament with the Sermon on the Mount in one hand and an order for £58,000,000 worth of battleships in the other.

Chancellor Churchill in defending his stand, said he thought the program which the government had presented to Parliament provided no more than any reasonable man would regard as necessary for "the sober, yet solid, defense of our permanent naval position."

He commended it as discharging the joint functions of national economy and naval defense.

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during this Critical Time

Baltimore, Md.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the Change of Life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. Gingrich, 1375 N. Gilmor St., Baltimore, Maryland.

The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of middle age. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

FINAL ACTION ON CHINA PACT DUE

Nine-Power Treaty Exchanges Being Prepared

France Last of Powers to Reach Agreement

Customs Conference Should Follow Soon

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Arrangements are being made at the State Department for the formal exchange August 5, next, of ratifications of the nine-power treaty relating to China which was signed at the time of the Washington Arms Conference.

Notification has been received that the necessary documents from Paris showing the French action in ratifying the treaty would reach Washington within the next few days. France was the last of the nine powers to ratify.

The treaty is that providing for a commission to revise Chinese customs to provide the Chinese central government with a 5 per cent ad valorem duty on imports. The American policy contemplates the assembling of this commission as the first essential step in stabilization of conditions in China in order to insure adequate protection of foreigners.

In addition to the customs conference, virtually all of the countries concerned have indicated in some way their intention to appoint representatives on the commission to study the question of extraterritorial rights in China, but no date nor scope of inquiry has been decided so far as known here. This commission was authorized by a resolution of the Washington conference.

Under the nine-power treaty, the customs conference would meet in China within three months after final exchange of ratification.

COOLIDGE JOINS CLUB'S REUNION

Mingles With Essex County Republican Group

Hears Himself Praised by Governor of State

Executive's Candidates for Congress Backed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) July 29. President Coolidge mingled for an hour today with old friends and associates at the midsummer reunion of the Essex County Men's Republican Club. The outing was at Chebacco Lake, near Essex, twenty miles by motor from White Court.

The President did not deliver an address. After posing for a group photograph, however, he went to the speaker's stand and heard himself praised by Frederick H. Tarr of Rockport, president of the club, and Gov. Fuller of Massachusetts.

Mr. Coolidge started on the return trip to Swampscott before other speakers, including Senator Butler of Massachusetts; his close friend, Senator Deneen of Illinois, who is a house guest at White Court, and Representative Andrew of the Fifth Massachusetts District had delivered their addresses.

Those attending including former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana and William Phillips, Ambassador to Belgium.

Before his departure, the President was made an honorary member of the club, his name being proposed by Henry Cabot Lodge, grandson of the late Senator.

Gov. Fuller, after asserting that no President since Lincoln had stirred the imagination of the American public as has Mr. Coolidge, pleaded for party harmony.

Gov. Fuller contended that it was the duty of Republicans in selecting candidates for the Senate and House to give their support to men known to be in sympathy with President Coolidge's policies.

PRISONS HIT IN SYNOD ADDRESS

Institutions Assailed as Breeders of Crime

Ministers Pension Plans Outlined at Meet

Hollywood Chosen as Next Convention City

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—An attack upon prisons in general as breeding places for both crime and criminals was launched today by Rev. Vincent J. Steffan, prison chaplain, and himself an ex-convict, in his annual report made to the Arizona and California synods of the Presbyterian church in session today at the First Presbyterian Church in Oakland. Steffan, who served two terms in California State prisons for burglary, one at Folsom and the other at San Quentin, was released from the latter institution five years ago and has since took up visiting prison chaplain work for the Presbyterian church. He declared in his report that the prison work offered a virgin field and an opportunity for a rich harvest of regenerated humanity to the church.

"During the early period of apprehension," said Steffan, "the prisoner is in the most receptive mood for a conversion from the life of a criminal. It is after they have had the opportunity of forming the hardening associations of the prison that their cases become hardened and start on their way toward utter hopelessness. It is this situation which makes prisons the breeding place of both crime and criminals."

PENSION PLAN OUTLINED

The pension plan for old ministers, together with the plans for the home for clergymen and their wives and widows, were outlined to the synods by Ruling Elder James Marwick, chairman of the pension committee, and C. Franklin Ward, superintendent of the home in Pasadena. The synods were urged by Elder Marwick to unite in an effort to gain the complete cooperation of the churches to realize the pension plan before December 31 and that particular pains be taken to see that the full proportion of the budget allocated to ministerial relief be forwarded to that agency before March 31.

According to Ward, an effort is being made to obtain a $1,000,000 endowment fund for the home to care for old ministers who are needy. A group of duplex bungalows to house the ministers with their wives and a central building for the invalids is at present planned, he said. Under the pension and home plan, ministers over 65 years of age having thirty-five years of service as a clergyman, are entitled to $600 pension and residences at the home, the latter only in case of the needy ones, Ward explained.

The school of evangelism, a movement of personal evangelism broadcast through the laymen, started by Rev. Joseph P. Hicks while pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Seattle, and since spread all over the United States, has been adopted by the Arizona and San Francisco Presbytery, it was announced. As a result, training schools will be established in the Calvary Presbyterian Church in San Francisco and the Oakland, Berkeley and Trinity Center churches, it was said.

The school was launched for the purpose of helping church members become more efficient as personal workers.

INSPECT ORPHANAGE

During the afternoon the delegates and those in attendance at the synod session inspected the San Anselmo Orphanage of the Presbyterian Church.

Other speakers at the sessions today were Clyde W. Smith of Chicago, who lectured upon the missionary work of the church among the Slavs, and Dr. J. H. McLean of Santiago, Chile, who told of the missionary work in Latin-America. Re-election of William S. Young of Los Angeles as State clerk for the coming year, and also the re-election of Dr. James Reid, pastor of Howard Church in San Francisco, as reporting clerk for the same period were announced.

The First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood was selected today as the 1926 meeting place of the synod.

VERDE WATER VALUE SHOWN BY SHORTAGE

PHOENIX SUPPLY PUMPED FOR WEEK; CONDITIONS ELSEWHERE VARIED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, July 29.—A temporary lack of water from the Verde gravity system and a week's resort to pumping gave the people of Phoenix fuller appreciation of the benefits of the Verde supply. The Verde water is said to be better in quality. A few months ago, use was started of an equalizing reservoir that cares for the peak load each day of a demand that approximates 15,000,00 gallons a day. The city now has a gross revenue from the plant of about $250,000 a year.

Tucson this summer reports a peak consumption of about 8,000,000 gallons a day. The supply, thus far ample, is from wells in the University section and in the Santa Cruz Valley. With new wells lately brought in, Douglas is reported to have an ample water supply. Bisbee is short and has ordered discontinuance of irrigation. The same drought conditions are known in Prescott and Jerome.

Just now Flagstaff is nearing the end of its stored water supply. But new works are being pushed that will store 20,000 gallons for each person in the city.

EX-CYCLOPS PLANS TO SUE KLAN KLAVERN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MIAMI (Ariz.) July 29.—Former Exalted Cyclops D. Aiken has announced that he is bringing suit against the Gila county Klavern of the Ku Klux Klan for $648.08 and interest, this on the basis of salary unpaid as State representative at the rate of $150 a month. His term as cyclops ran out June 30, last, but he says he still is State representative. In the meantime, he is holding; all official papers, as well as a quantity of lodge paraphernalia.

JAPAN'S STEEL SHORTAGE TOLD

Politics Institute Speaker Laughs at Fears

Menace Declared Impossible With Ore Lacking

Orientals Held Unable to Supply War Needs

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) July 29.—Lack of steel eliminates Japan as a war threat and the Far East as a menace to western civilization, according to Dr. Charles K. Leith, professor of geology at the University of Wisconsin, a speaker at the Institute of Politics today.

Addressing his round-table on "Mineral Resources in World Affairs," Dr. Leith said:

"Since steel plays such a vital part in modern civilization, the dearth of minneral resources in the East seems to contradict decisively the theory that the East is going to be the center of the civilization of the future. It also removes Japan as a war threat. A nation cannot have great war power without great industrial power. In the opinion of many students of world affairs, steel is more important than food in war.

"The view of Japan as a formidable power is based on a misapprehension of the facts. All Japan's menace is merely bullying, a puny power. Japan is woefully weak in this main sinew of war—steel—and knows it. It seems incredible that Japan, realizing this situation, could consider war on a large scale. It seems impossible that the Japanese could keep the way open to any one of the three great steel producing centers—the Lake Superior region in the United States, England, and the Ruhr, which together produce more than 90 per cent of the world's steel, especially if they were at war with any one of the countries which control these regions."

THREE FACTORS

Dr. Leith pointed out that there are three factors necessary for establishment of a great steel producing industry—iron ore, coal, to which the iron always is moved, and an established steel finishing industry.

The cause of the need for all three factors in the same place is because of the immense amount of capital required to build up such an industry, and because geological surveys indicate that no new discoveries of large deposits of coal and iron are likely. Dr. Leith asserted, it is hardly possible that any steel producing industry could be established in the Orient, or anywhere else in the world, to compete with the three in America, England and the Ruhr.

"Many people suppose," he said, "that Japan is turning her eyes toward the Philippines because of its iron ore reserve, which is as yet entirely undeveloped. There are 400,000,000 tons of low grade ore there, practically ready for the steam shovel. But in the world production this is a comparatively small amount. The low grade of the ore, and its distance from the coal supply make it questionable that a large steel center could develop there."

Jugo-Slavia has a truly national government for the first time in its history, and is in a relatively good financial position. Dr. Bernadotte Schmitt, professor of history, University of Chicago, declared at his round-table on "European political problem." He said, however, that there still is dissatisfaction among the Croats, because of alleged corruptness and inefficiency in the administration, which is chiefly Serbian.

UNION FORECAST

Count Antonio Cippica, Italian spokesman at the institute asserted that public opinion in Bulgaria was tending toward a union with Jugo-Slavia in a great Balkan nation and warned that this would menace the peace of Europe. Dr. Schmitt replied that Serbian public opinion did not seem anxious for the union and that it did not appear to be a present possibility.

At the round-table on Latin-American affairs, Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director-general of the Pan-American Union, said that the North American investments in Latin-American industrial enterprises, exclusive of government loans, have increased from $1,600,000,000 in 1912, to $3,150,000,000 in 1925.

Dr. Jesse R. Reeves, professor of political science at the University of Michigan, at his round-table on "International justice" emphasized the importance of a free press. Disagreeing with Walter Lippman's view that the government should act as a news-collecting agency, he said that government news was always "suspect." The privately-owned press, he declared, should never be under the control of "the interests."

FEW APPROPRIATION MEASURES AFFECTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—In the opinion of the State Board of Control, not many special appropriation bills passed by the last Legislature will be affected by the ruling of Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb to State Controller Ray L. Riley that raises a doubt as to the validity of certain appropriations.

Riley declared that Webb's decision will make it necessary to test the legality in the Supreme Court of approximately $750,000 worth of appropriations. Webb advised Riley to go to court before honoring claims against two appropriations carried, in bills drawn in conflict with the constitution.

George G. Radcliff, chairman of the Board of Control, and H. R. Braden, a member, issued the following statement today, "the letter from the Attorney-Genera' to Controller Riley explains itself. The constitutional provision states that a special appropriation bill can only cover one subject. With regard to this provision the general appropriation bill is specifically expected so that no difficulty need be anticipated in that regard.

"We are inclined to believe that upon analysis it will be found that not many appropriations will be affected by the opinion given by the Attorney-General with reference to Marshall's Monument and the Greenhouse Land for the University of California, and it is to be hoped that the Supreme Court will finally pass upon the legality of these two worthy special appropriation measures."

TREASURY TAX AIMS TOLD

Abolition of Federal Estate Levy, Cut in Surtax Peak and Flat Corporation Rate Urged by Winston

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Abolition of the Federal estate tax, a maximum surtax of not more than 20 per cent and retention of a flat rather than a graduated tax on corporation earnings are advocated by Undersecretary of the Treasury Winston in a letter in response to an invitation to address a meeting of the Iowa tax clubs.

Mr. Winston's letter represents the most definite statement of the high points of the treasury tax program thus far made. It carries the inference that the treasury will not be content merely with a reduction in Federal estate tax rates, but will insist upon their complete repeal.

It is asserted without qualification that the treasury thinks that the maximum surtax should be cut from 40 per cent to at least 20 per cent, and that the combined surtax and normal tax should not be more than 25 per cent, which was the surtax maximum advocated by Secretary of the Tretsury Mellon during the consideration of the 1924 Revenue Act. It is also made known that the treasury is prepared to fight agitation for a graduated tax on corporation earnings, which is being advocated by leading Democrats as a substitute for the present 12½ per cent flat tax.

"The treasury believes that the Federal estate tax should be abolished," said Mr. Winston in the letter.

"It shauld be possible from a revenue standpoint to have a maximum normal and surtax combined of 25 per cent. The treasury thinks, therefore, that 20 per cent is the highest surtax rate which should be now in the law.

"An income tax on corporations graduated on the amount of income has no logical basis. The theory of a graduated income tax is that it is related to the capacity of the taxpayer to pay. A man with $100,000 can spare a larger proportion of his income than a man with $10,000. This reasoning has no relation whatsoever to corporations. A large corporation having a large income may be owned by a great number of small stockholders who cannot afford to have their dividends cut down; whereas another corporation having a moderate income may be owned entirely by one man, who can well afford to pay a larger proportion of his income to the government. If we have two corporations, each earning $1,000,000, they would be taxed at one rate; if they are consolidated into one corporation they would be taxed at a different rate, a purely arbitrary discrimination. The tendency of a graduated income tax would be to split up large corporations into a great number of small corporations, the economic effect of which would be undesirable. These are some of the reasons why the Treasury is opposed to a graduated income tax on corporations, and I hope that further agitation for this type of tax may be avoided."

Treasury officials, it was learned, have evidences of widespread support of the Treasury surtax and estate tax program by southern Democrats.

Coroner's Jury Fixes Blame in Traffic Death

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MONROVIA, July 29.—"We believe the deceased came to her death by the reckless driving of R. C. Redding and recommend that he be prosecuted in accordance with the law provided in such cases."

Such was the jury's verdict at an inquest this morning at Penaker Chapel over the body of Mrs. Reketta Campbell, 22 years of age, 650½ South Chicago street, Los Angeles, who was killed in an auto crash Sunday afternoon at Second and Vainett avenue, Arcadia. Coroner Frank Nance conducted the inquest.

Mrs. Campbell was riding with her husband in a small car driven by E. E. Miller, 26 Alta street, Arcadia, with his wife and their four children. They were struck by a heavy touring car driven by R. C. Redding of Lamanda Park, with his wife and their two children, and Mrs. B. Glover and her little daughter of San Gabriel. All of them were sent to the Monrovia Hospital.

Redding was arraigned yesterday on a charge of manslaughter before Judge Horlock at Arcadia, upon complaint of Acting Chief of Police Cayer of Arcadia, and released under $2000 bond.

Move Reported for Completion of Mexicali Line

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, July 29.—According to newspapers here an American construction company has petitioned the Department of Communications and Public Works soliciting concession to complete construction of a railway between Mexicali and Port San Luis on the Gulf of Lower California. Construction of the railway was started by the government of Lower California but work was suspended four months ago owing to lack of funds.

The company soliciting the concession promises to complete work within a year's time as there remain 250 kilometers unconstructed. It is stated here that when completed the railway will enable a great number of cotton growers to send their crops direct to Pacific ports instead of having to ship by rail to San Diego for steamer embarkation, thus avoiding paying American customs duties as at present.

PROWLER FRIGHTENS GIRLS ALONE IN HOME

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, July 29.—The two daughters of F. O. Howard, 1306 West Commonwealth avenue, were frightened last night when a mysterious prowler endeavored to enter the house in which they were staying alone. Without a telephone and afraid to leave the house, the girls were unable to get in touch with the police. M. Grant, a neighbor, noticed the strange man trying to open the front door of the Howard residence, however, and summoned the police. Officer Kellogg, responding to the call, was unable to find any trace of the man.

Decree Signed by Judge in Suit Held Essential

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, July 29.—In the Arizona Supreme Court it has been decided that a divorce cannot be considered granted till a decree to that effect has been signed by the judge who may preside over the divorce action. So Mrs. Edith Chenoweth of Cochise county is held to have obtained no release from Ralph Paul, from whom she had thought herself divorced since 1917.

The judge at that time appears to have not received a copy of the decree for signature and the action seems to have been stricken from th docket sixteen months later. It was from this order of dismissal that Mrs. Paul-Chenoweth appealed two years ago.

GILA PACKING PLANT FIRE LOSS $75,000

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GLOBE (Ariz.) July 29.—Loss through the burning of the plant of the Gila Meat Company now is estimated at $75,000, of which $20,000 was represented by the value of packed meats held in storage. The fire started at midnight from a cause that has not been determined, and had gained headway before employees were roused by th howling of a watchdog. A new refrigerating plant lately had been installed. The company is a local one, with stock widely held, and will continue in business. At the time of the fire the pens contained 100 head of cattle and 250 hogs. All were saved.

La Estación Terminal de la Plaza ha sido Aprobada

WASHINGTON, 29 de julio.—La Interstate Commerce Commission hizo hoy del conocimiento del público su resolución, aprobando el sitio de la Plaza para la proyectada construcción de una estación terminal de los ferrocarriles unidos en Los Angeles; con esto, el éxito ha coronado los esfuerzos de los funcionarios municipales, quienes, por un periodo de diez añes han venido luchando por que se establezca una terminal adecuada para los ferrocarriles transcontinentales, y se eliminen las "trampas de muerte" que constituyen a la fecha los cruceros con las vías ferrocarrileras en el centro de la ciudad.

La resolución viene a ser más bien una aprobación que una orden, dejando a la Comisión Ferrocarrilera de California la tarea de arreglar que el proyecto sea ejecutado; pero, existiendo el antecedente de que la Comisión Ferrocarrilera del Estado ha tomado parte activa, en armonía con las autoridades municipales, no queda duda alguna respecto a la actitud que tomará, al desempeñar su cometido.

La noticia causará buena impresión en Los Angeles, considerando el beneficio que resultará a la ciudad, en lo relativo a seguridad personal de los innumerables transeuntes que a diario se ven en peligro, al cruzar las vías del ferrocarril en las calles céntricas de la ciudad.

Varias legislaturas de otros Estados han pedido copia de la ley promulgada por la de San Luis Potosí, y se cree que algunas otras entidades federativas seguirán el ejemplo, concediendo a la mujer el derecho de voto.

Causa Sensación la Presencia de Mary Pickford en la Corte

Mary Pickford, "en persona", hizo ayer su aparición sensacional en la Corte, ante el juez McLucas, y ocupó un sitio en el estrado de los testigos, poniéndose frente a frente de los tres acusados a quienes persigue el Estado de California, por haber tramado el secuestro de la popular estrella del arte mudo, con intenciones de exigir $200,000 por su rescate.

La presentación de Mary Pickford fué la señal para la más dramática, aunque ordenada, manifestación que jamás se haya visto en la Corte del Condado, sirviendo de paso para asegurar la victoria de la parte acusadora, cuyo triunfo consitió en que el juez resolvió que el fiscal exhibiera como pruebas las declaraciones de Charles Z. Stevens, Claude Arthur Holcomb y Adrian James Wood, que son los nombres de los acusados.

Los agentes de policía, difícilmente podían contener a la multitud que se aglomeraba en la vía pública, frente a la Corte, en espera de ver a Mary Pickford, a su llegada. En cuanto se presentó, fué recibida con aclamaciones. Mary, al dirigirse a las oficinas judiciales, marchaba despacio, prodigando sonrisas a sus admiradores, y estrechando de vez en cuando algunas de las manos que se alargaban buscando la suya.

Un gran número de fotógrafos se habían estacionado al paso de la artista, y enmedio de las aclamaciones de la multitud, de los fogonazos del magnesio y del bullicio general, hizo su entrada al severo local de la Corte.

YOUTH BITES SWEETHEART

Fails to Close His Mouth During Sprawl from Virginia Reel

UNION CITY (N. J.) July 29.—Otto Carver, 20 years of age, of 1041 Liberty avenue, Brooklyn, carved his sweetheart with his front teeth while enjoying the Virginia reel ride in a local amusement park. The "carved" sweetheart is Miss Emma Albert, 17, of 916 Eldert Lane, Brooklyn.

An unlooked-for jerk caused Otto to rise and sprawl forward, laughing with his mouth wide open. His mouth struck Emma squarely on the forehead and his teeth inflicted a gash. The blood gushed and a call was sent in for the North Hudson Hospital ambulance. Dr. Oshrin stitched up the wound and allowed the couple to return home.

TELLS WORLD TRADE BASIS

Dr. Swiggett Advises Mexican Hearers National Viewpoints Fix Course of Commerce

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

MEXICO CITY, July 29.—Dr. Glenn L. Swiggett, president of the National Council on Foreign Service Training, of Washington and at present in Mexico representing the Los Angeles Times, co-operating with El Universal in conducting the national student contest in Mexico on Constitutional government, at a lecture before the students and faculty of the National University here spoke on the social basis of international commerce. A representative audience, composed of many of Mexico's leading educational men, members of the diplomatic corps and leaders in Chamber of Commerce work, heard Dr. Swiggett.

In part he stated that the course of international commerce or the foreign trade of nations has usually been determined by two national points of view, fundamentally different from the governmental viewpoint, namely protection and free trade. He stated that a succession of efforts at readjustment of these opposite viewpoints has resulted in a great waste and loss in world trade. Until the purpose and technique of international commerce are based upon the understanding that world trade proceeds naturally from the progressive demands of complementary trading nations, the advance of whose peoples is dependent upon and determined by the natural interflow or exchange of commodities and ideas, Dr. Swiggett stated, irreparable economic loss will ensue and international economic misunderstanding will arise.

He stated that there is a threefold approach to the understanding of the development of international commerce and international problems, the political, the economic and the social. He said: "We have been governed largely in our international relations, including commerce, by a mental attitude as the result of the political approach. This attitude is distinctly one of self-interest. It has been dominant so long that it has not previously suffered by the well-recognized tendency among nations to base their international relations upon economic laws and facts."

Stephenson, Klinck and Gentry have been in jail since April, charged with murder in connection with the death of Madge Oberholtzer of Indianapolis.

POSTOFFICE CRITICISED AT HEARING

Publisher Calls Deficit "State of Mind" and Says Favoritism Practiced

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—The Congressional special joint subcommittee on postal rates, in resuming its Philadelphia hearing on the equity of the revised scale of rates today, was told: "The Postoffice Department must be divorced from philanthropy.

The extension of beneficences to certain users of the mails, detailed by Charles F. Jenkins, Philadelphia publisher and chairman of the postal committee of the Agricultural Publishers' Association, has led to an aggregate deficit of $12,000,000.

The Postoffice Department, said Mr. Jenkins, should not tax other users of the mails for its special benefits to privileged distributors. The witness also criticised "archaic book-keeping methods" of the department and asserted its purported deficit is "only a state of mind and poor book-keeping."

Altadena Doctor Names Alhambra Man When Wife Disappears

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, July 29.—Believing that an Alhambra man can furnish information as to the whereabouts of his wife, Dr. William E. Lewis, reputed to be a prominent physician of Altadena, today sought the aid of local police in the case. He told Detective Lieutenant Murbl Boone, who was assigned to the case, that his wife had made a sudden, mysterious disappearance last night, and he supplied the name of a man here whom he thought had something to do with her actions.

The missing wife was described as extremely attractive. She is 26 years of age and has dark auburn hair.

Dr. Lewis gave his address in Altadena as 82 Manor street.

No trace had been found of the man sought in the case up to late today.

PURSE NET BAN EFFECT FEARED

New Law May Injure Fresh Fish Industry

Act of Particular Import to Barracuda Men

Consumer Already Feels Pinch in Price Boost

Just what effect the Chamberlin Act, which went into force on the 24th inst., prohibiting the use of purse seine and round-haul nets for the purpose of taking salmon, steelhead, striped bass, barracuda or shad, will have on the fresh-fish industry in Southern California is the problem confronting the fishing interests of this section.

The prohibition as it effects the catching of barracuda is what particularly interests the fishing industry, as the barracuda is the only fish that runs off Southern California waters the year 'round. More than 50 per cent of the fresh fish sold on the fish market is of barracuda variety, and approximately 80 per cent of the barracuda taken is caught with the purse seine.

LARGE BOATS HIT

In the opinion of Gilbert C. Van Camp of the Van Camp Organization of San Pedro, this prohibition act will force the larger boats, which use the purse seine, out of existence. The boats equipped with this net represent an investment of more than $20,000 each and there are more than forty boats of this type in service off the Southern California coast and working out of San Pedro. The purse seine alone represents an investment of approximately $5000, and it is a question whether the fishermen can afford to only operate their boats during part of the year when other fish are running.

Of course, at this season of the year, the boats are spending their efforts in taking albacore and white tuna, but the season is due to close within a short time, and the boats will be forced to either suspend operations or develop the catch of scarcer varieties.

PRICE ADVANCES

The Chamberlin Act, which went into force on the 24th inst., has already had its effect in boosting the market price of fresh fish. During the first three days following the prohibition, the market price of all kinds of fresh fish at San Pedro was doubled, and packers are of the belief that the price will continue to advance.

While the use of the purse seine in Southern California waters is a comparatively new thing, it has developed into a big industry. The use of this net was inaugurated by the fishermen in the north a number of years ago, but owing to better fishing resources off Southern California, these operators have moved into these waters.

Section 5 of Senate bill No. 641 as introduced by Senator Chamberlin and later amended, relating to the protection of fish and game, is as follows:

"Section 5. It shall be unlawful to use purse nets and round-haul nets (also known as circle seines or lampara nets) in fish and game districts, 6, 1, 8, 9, 10, 11, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 'A,' 21 and 22; provided, that purse or round-haul nets are not to be used in any fish and game district for the purchase of taking salmon, steelhead, striped bass, barracuda or shad and that any person who has in possession any salmon, steelhead, striped bass, barracuda or shad, which have been caught with a purse or a round-haul net, is guilty of misdemeanor."

Street Railway Adds Two New Bus Services

Two new bus services have been added by the Los Angeles Railway Company during the past two weeks, the first an extension of the Melrose avenue bus line and the second the inauguration of the Inglewood and Fairview Heights line.

The Melrose avenue line formerly ran from Melrose and Fairfax to Melrose and Larchmont. It has been extended to a new east terminal at Western avenue, providing connection with car lines "R," "S" and "H" and the Western avenue cross-town bus of the Los Angeles Motorbus Company.

The Inglewood and Fairview Heights line runs from the end of the Fifty-fourth street branch of line "M" at Mesa Drive, and connects with line "E" cars at that point, and extends through Fairview Heights to Market and Queen streets, Inglewood, where a second connection is made with line "E."

CAR SHORTAGE FORECAST

Observers Assert Rail Equipment Inadequate to Handle Extraseasonal Increase

BY EARLE E. CROWE

So little has occurred since the first of the year to disturb the even tenor of domestic business that the wise people are becoming suspicious. Ordinarily, complacency in the business world is of short duration. Sometimes the trouble is a shortage of raw materials, or possibly a strike of employees. In 1920, one of the memorable obstructions was the shortage of railroad cars, and there are omens now on the horizon portending a possible repetition of this difficulty in the fall of the year.

Predictions of such a contingency hardly accord with the general impression of railroad equipment surplus, but an examination of the actual trend in railroad buying seems to lend some credence to the suggestion of a shortage. One of the national economic services, the Brookmire organization, even goes further than this, and asserts that a car shortage is a probability.

SHORTAGE UNEXPECTED

Undoubtedly, the realization of a shortage would come as a shock to the country, and would certainly furnish all the trouble that has been singularly missing thus far. The effects would have far-reaching significance because of the confidence of the public in the ability of the railroads to give efficient service. By an intensive publicity campaign the railroads have won the support of the people in the last three years, and have backed this campaign with the expenditure of millions of dollars in the acquisition of new equipment.

Particularly has this effect been noticed in the strict adherence throughout the ramifications of business to the hand-to-mouth buying policy. Retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers, all have adopted this policy, simply because the railroads have shown that orders will be delivered promptly. As a result, inventories are calculated for only short periods ahead, and compared with a few years ago, are especially small.

EFFECTS WIDESPREAD

In reflection of this situation, the large manufacturing industries have gradually brought the level of operations down to a lower point. Prices in some measure have been influenced, particularly in the industries like steel, where the forward business customarily rolls up to the point where inability to deliver on time acts as a lever to raise prices. The absence of large forward orders in the last several months is seen in the softness of steel and iron prices.

Because stocks of goods are smaller, the amount of money tied up in inventories has steadily decreased. Here is where the banks and the commercial-paper houses come in. Unquestionably, the demand for commercial accommodation has been slow, and in some instances, it has been laid at the door of unsatisfactory business. But the more satisfactory explanation is that the merchants and manufacturers are not in the market for short-time money, because the railroads are performing their function efficiently.

If a car shortage is to intervene, it will mean a complete reversal in the methods of conducting business, and usher in a period of costly experiences for some individuals and industries. Inability to obtain shipments of goods urgently needed invariably brings higher prices, the accumulation of unfilled orders, increase in plant operations, greater demand for money, and losses to the shippers of perishable crops. Failure to read the writing on the wall is not unusual in such times, many companies preferring to remain out of the markets until the situation becomes acute. And then they pay the price of indecision.

FRUIT MEN SAFE

As far as the perishable-fruit industry in California is concerned, the railroad-traffic authorities already have assured the growers that an adequate supply of refrigerator cars will be available. It seems that the expected shortage will be felt more by the regular lines of business, and not by specialized traffic such as perishable fruits and vegetables.

The basis for the arguments of a probable shortage is found in the statistics showing that actual purchase of railroad equipment has declined radically in the first six months of the year from the same period of 1924. Writing in The Annalist, Charles W. Foss submits figures on the purchase of freight cars which reflect a reduction of one-half in orders, and about the same in locomotives. He points out that the decrease in buying is the result of a surplus in equipment accumulated on the basis of the business volume now handled.

Going further into the equipment situation, the Brookmire Economic Service finds that the seasonal increase in loadings coming in the fall will probably place all the available freight cars in service by the middle of October. Should a fundamental increase in business activity appear, the assertion is that the railroads would not meet the emergency.

WEAKNESS IN COTTON CONTINUES

Rain Prospect in Texas Starts Liquidation and Prices Close Lower

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Although the long drought over the central and southern part of Texas continued unrelieved today, prospects were held out in the Weather Bureau's forecasts for showers over Northern and Eastern Texas, with partly cloudy weather over the western half of the State.

The mere possibility of rains occurring there, following some further light, but beneficial showers, in the north and northwest sections of the State overnight, caused enough further liquidation today to break prices to a maximum of 35 to 40 points or about $2 a bale from yesterday's closing.

October contracts went off in the early afternoon to 24.67, December, 24.78; January, 24.22; March, 24.50, and May, 24.80. This brings prices down about 70 to 80 points from the high levels of two days ago.

A good deal of local liquidation and southern selling occurred on this decline, and the Liverpool market followed it by closing irregular at 2 to 6 points net advance, against 1 to 3 that should have been held to have met our closing of yesterday, after prices in that market had gone off at one time between 10 and 15 of their points.

After their official closing, Liverpool houses were good sellers on balance on the more favorable Texas weather forecast. It is too late for rains to save the crop in many sections of Central and Southern Texas, but they would be highly beneficial.

Oklahoma has been getting some fairly good scattered showers the last two days, including one-quarter to three-quarters of an inch at Shawnee and Ada today.

The season's exports of cotton went above 8,204,000 bales today by clearances of 17,150 bales. This is a new high record for any season for several years, comparing with 5,800,000 for the cotton statistical season of last year. New cotton from Texas is arriving at Houston and Galveston from the rapidly developing crop in that State.

SIMON SILVER LEAD MINE POSITION SHOWN

Current indebtedness of the Simon Silver-Lead Mines, Inc., at the close of business on June 30 amounted to $266,454.71, according to a report made yesterday to the Los Angeles Stock Exchange on the affairs of the company. Cash in the company's treasury totaled $3414.93.

Total assets of the company on that date were $3,146,951.56, of which $15,254.03 were current. Current liabilities totaled $48,991.41. The company has levied eight assessments, the last of which, amounting to 3 cents a share, is delinquent August 4.

BOOKINGS IN IRON TRADE ON UPGRADE

Orders for July Exceed June and Volume Report Shows Steady Gain

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND, July 29.—As the end of the month approaches, it becomes more apparent that bookings of most finished steel products in July will exceed those of June by from 10 to 20 per cent, says Iron Trade Review. Thus, for the third consecutive month since the low point in April, the volume of steel orders has shown an appreciable increase. This steady gain, in the face of virtual cessation of railroad buying, indicates from day to day that normal steel requirements of industry are fairly large. It also reflects the surprising activity in the automobile industry and the healthy buying of building projects now under way.

Operations continue at or near 60 per cent of capacity, with finishing mills running 10 to 20 per cent higher. The demand for steel bars continues to lead that of other forms of finished steel. Due largely to automobile demand, bar bookings in Chicago are estimated to be 20 per cent ahead of those of June, while in Pittsburgh they are from 10 to 20 per cent in excess of last month. Heavier plate orders are reported in Chicago, where one mill has acquired a sixty-day back log.

Awards of Pennsylvania Railroad passenger cars and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas inquiry for 1000 box cars involve large plate requirements. Railroad buying is confined to scattered lots of locomotives and cars. The Fruit Growers' Express has placed 400 underframes. Structural lettings reported this week total 40,704 tons. A large proportion of this tonnage is involved in New York projects.

While the threat of a strike hangs ominously over British industry, hope for peaceful settlement is inspired by the action of Premier Baldwin and his Cabinet in meeting with mine owners and the union, according to the Iron Trade Review weekly cable. The Panama Canal office at Washington has again rejected bids for cast iron pipe for the Canal Zone because foreign makers, this time French, were low.

The Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products this week is $37.45 compared with $37.60 a month ago and $39.73 a year ago.

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[BY WIRELESS-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, July 29.—The markets opened firm today, with investments leading, due mainly to the Times' editorial, which unlike any other newspaper, takes the line of interpreting the report on the coal court inquiry as compelling the mine owners to withdraw their notices.

Financial circles regard it as an obvious attempt to force the mine owners' hands, and the editorial stand is resented in many quarters. Nevertheless, the stock exchange welcomes the possibility of no immediate stoppage, hence the improvement in prices. It remains to be seen whether the situation is really improved and the rally in prices justified.

Josiah Stamp has associated himself with Keynes in the assertion that the unemployment problem is intensified by the gold standard. Financial circles however, depreciate this diversion of attention from the main causes of the trouble.

The Times in mentioning that the American Rubber Association persuaded the Washington administration to protest through the American Ambassador against the scheme restricting the export of rubber says:

"A new terror to existence would be added if it became a diplomatic custom for one country to protest against the high prices charged in another country for its product. Speculation in cotton or wheat in America is not unknown.

"American producers are not generally guilty of selling goods and commodities below the highest price obtainable, and it is difficult to believe that international relations would be improved if protests against one another's high prices became common."

The Times, however, proceeds to criticize the rubber restriction.

Steel Corporation's Earnings Reveal Conditions Better Than Had Been Realized—Apparently Bottom Has Been Reached in Seasonal Decline in Bookings

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—The United States Steel Corporation's quarterly statement of earnings, published after the close of the market yesterday afternoon, was an improvement over what Wall street had expected.

That the corporation would show earnings about equal to those reported for the first quarter of the year, or $39,882,992, was the consensus. To do so well in the face of the decline in operations from above 90 to around 65 per cent of capacity, would not, it was figured, be a bad showing. But the second quarter balance reached $40,627,224. Clearly the corporation did better in the second than in the first quarter of 1925.

ANALYSIS MADE

It is true that the corporation did not do so well as in the corresponding quarter a year ago. Earnings in the three months' period ended June 30, last, fell short of the $41,381,039 reported for the second quarter of 1924. But the significance of the comparison is lost unless we separate the quarterly total into its component parts and examine the performance of each month this year and a year ago.

A year ago the steel corporation started the second quarter in much better position than it did the same quarter this year, but ended poorer. Earnings for April, 1924 were $16,048,911, for May, $13,419,194, and for June, $11,912,934. The total of these three makes $41,381,039 more than now is reported for the second quarter of 1925, but totals do not always tell the whole story. They do not reveal the true situation in this case.

INDUSTRY SOUND

Earnings for April, 1925, were $13,376,321 for May, $13,803,453, and for June, $13,443,947. Business in the second quarter this year in other words has held up in fine style whereas a year ago it was on the wane.

Whether we look at current earning statements of the steel companies or the charts of our steel statisticians, we must arrive at the conclusion that business in the steel industry is sound. At no time have operations fallen below 60 per cent and, while they fell below 40 last summer, nobody now expects any substantial slump from present levels for 1925.

Indeed, all of the signs give evidence that a period of stability has been reached in the steel industry from which an upturn may be expected as autumn approaches.

The steel figures give no basis for fears of inflation but good general business is pretty definitely indicated for the months immediately ahead.

What History Tells About French Bond Prices

The ability of a healthy nation to recover financially from the loss of war is strikingly shown in the history of France since the Napoleonic period.

In the days of financial stress following Napoleon's exile, French bonds were issued at 5%—a high rate for the time, yet before the outbreak of the Prussian War in 1870, practically all the French debt was on a 3% basis.

The Franco-Prussian War was again financed on a 5% basis, which, despite indemnities, had been reduced by 1888 to 4½%, and in 1902, the whole French debt was back again at 3%.

England, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland, Denmark and other European nations have all had similar experiences.

In every period of reconstruction after a devastating war there have been opportunities for profitable investing unavailable in normal times. Such opportunities, we believe, are now offered you in the carefully selected bonds of European nations, states and municipalities which are selling on a 6½% to a 7½% basis.

A brief analysis of investment opportunities in foreign securities, together with our current list of high-grade foreign offerings, will be gladly sent you on application.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Gains Canceled

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Although active trading developed in an assortment of railroad bonds today, puzzling cross-currents marked the general movement of prices. The same disposition to take profits which caused a sharp reaction in the stock market was evident in bond dealings, resulting in the cancellation of most of the early gains.

Initial operations indicated that the carrier issues were about to take a new lease on life. Estimates that June earnings of the class one railroads would be the second largest on record, and announcement that car loadings had passed the 1,000,000 mark for the first time this year, stimulated buying of a diversified list of bonds. Realizing sales subsequently forced recessions in recent features, such as Frisco and "Katy" liens, unsettling the rest of the market. New financing continued to absorb investment interests. The $30,000,000 Danish loan offered today was quickly subscribed, and, encouraged by the success of the offering, bankers were completing preparations for the sale of a $20,000,000 Tokio Electric Company issue, expected to take the form of three-year 6 per cent notes. Discussions regarding large loans for the Czecho-Slovakia and the German Renten bank, have not yet reached the formal contract stage.

More interest was shown in public utility mortgages, which maintained a firm tone, despite selling of the local traction issues, West Penn Power 5s and Kansas City Power and Light 5s.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices on bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond. These quotations are received over Associated Press wires, and to expedite transmission the closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close are omitted when they are the same as the high.

NEW YORK CURB

Prices React

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Reactionary price movements predominated in today's curb market, although isolated strong spots cropped out in a few sections of the list. Oils were sluggish, but the net losses in the popular issues were limited to a point or less.

A break of 10 points in St. Regis paper and the establishment of new high records by Nizer A and Serv-El were the features of the industrial list. Rubbers yielded in sympathy with the reduction in crude-rubber prices, Goodyear Tire closing a point lower. Baking issues were firm. Little activity was noted in the motor and radio groups.

Speculative activity in the mining group was confined to the low-priced issues, Ray Copper duplicating its record high on reports of further important development work.

Public utilities were mixed. Heavy liquidation of Power Corporation of New York forced that stock down over 7 points to 70 5-8, and Commonwealth Power, Electric Investors, Lehigh Power Securities, National Power and Light, Southeastern Power and Light, and Western Power showed net declines of 1½ to 4 points. American Light and Traction showed independent strength by soaring over 8 points to a record high at 188½ and then yielding to 184 on realizing. Good buying also was noted in Middle West Utilities.

Power and Light Holding Companies

CONTROLLING through stock ownership a group of power and light utilities, the holding company offers investors a type of security that gives them an opportunity to increase their income yields. When carefully selected, obligations of this type have a high degree of security.

The debentures and notes of these holding companies benefit directly by the well-recognized stability of earnings of the power and light companies whose stocks they own. Usually operating under public regulation, these subsidiary companies have very dependable earning power. The obligation of the holding company enjoys in addition the benefit that comes from diversification.

The holding company is a comparatively recent development in the power and light field, and investors have not fully recognized the advantages of its obligations for safe investment. There is a present opportunity to obtain relatively high income yields at the current prices of these securities.

We will be pleased to send you a list of holding company securities, which we recommend, if you will send us your name and address.

We recommend and offer

Jewelers' Building of Chicago
First Mortgage 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, Due 1950

For the following reasons:

1. These Bonds are secured by a First Closed Mortgage on 22,624 square feet of land owned in fee, together with a magnificent forty-story office and shop building, being erected thereon.
2. The total appraised value of the property securing this issue is over $11,700,000, making these Bonds less than a 60% loan.
3. The property is located at the corner of North Wabash Avenue and East South Water Street, near the center of Chicago's greatest new development and within two blocks of Marshall Fields, the Wrigley Building, the new Tribune Tower and the Michigan Avenue Bridge.
4. A considerable portion of the building will be occupied by the Jewelers' Association of Chicago and allied trades, one of the oldest and strongest trade associations in Chicago.
5. The annual net earnings are conservatively estimated at more than 2.14 times the maximum annual interest charges on these Bonds, and 2.66 times the average annual interest charges over the life of the issue.

The Company agrees to refund the present four mill California Personal Property Tax on proper application.

Price 100, interest to yield 6%

First Annual Report of Southeastern Power and Light Company Explains Recent Strong Demand for Its Securities—Expansion Program Going on Quietly.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—The first annual report of the Southeastern Power and Light and its subsidiaries, covering the year 1924, which has just been made public, explains in a measure the strong demand which has been noticeable for its securities recently, although it does not set forth much that has happened since the beginning of the current year.

"For several years past careful consideration was given by your directors," the report states, "to the extension of your power system into important cities and towns in South and West Alabama; and such studies seemed to make feasible a further extension along the Gulf Coast from Pensacola, Fla., Mobile in Alabama, and into Mississippi.

"In view of the important industrial and agricultural development of that section of the South," the report continues, "it was determined early in the present year to acquire the utility properties serving Pensacola and Mobile, and Gulfport, Meridian and Hattiesburg in Mississippi. Subsequently several of the utilities serving smaller cities and towns adjacent to these centers were acquired, and a comprehensive system of transmission lines will be constructed connecting these properties with your hydroelectric system in Alabama.

"The properties were purchased upon a basis that your directors deemed satisfactory, and as the operations become unified economies will be effected and the net result will be a satisfactory return upon the investment."

GOING AHEAD QUIETLY

This company, which appears destined to take its place as one of the biggest power-producing properties in the South, has been quietly absorbing desirable properties and has been extending its operations steadily without attracting undue attention. Nothing, it seems, except, perhaps, the constantly improving position of its principal operating subsidiary, the Alabama Traction, Light and Power Company, could more adequately explain the persistent buying that has been going on in the stock of the parent company than this well-planned policy for expansion.

POWER EXTENSIONS

Work on the construction of new units of the Alabama Power properties is being pushed steadily and is progressing according to schedule. The new dam and powerhouse at Cherokee Bluffs is expected to be in operation in January, 1927. This dam will be raised to an initial height of 150 feet and will have approximately 1,375,000 acre feet water storage capacity, while the generating station will have initial installed capacity of 140,000 horsepower, which ultimately will be stepped up to 180,000 horsepower.

Sites acquired on the Tallapoosa River, for which a comprehensive development scheme has been prepared, will provide power facilities with approximately 103,000 horsepower hydroelectric capacity. In addition to furnishing a large volume of electric power, this development also will serve to control the flood waters, which, at certain seasons of the year, are a serious menace to the rich agricultural district adjacent. The company's lease of the government's 80,000 horsepower steam plant at Muscle Shoals has been renewed. The parent company also took advantage of the opportunity to add to its coal-mine property holdings by the purchase of an additional 15,000 acres of coal lands adjacent to its Winona mines.

CAPITAL EARNINGS

At the close of 1924 the investment of the Southeastern in securities of subsidiaries and advances to them at book value totaled $46,406,279. Its capital structure consists of $21,168,900 in funded debt, including $7,500,000 in 6 per cent notes and underlying bonds of subsidiaries, $1,437,500 in $7 cumulative preferred stock and an outstanding total of 340,000 shares of no par value common stock.

Consolidated earnings totaled $9,533,547 for the period, and the balance after all charges, including subsidiary requirements and preferred dividends, was $1,085,954.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE: There was more snap to today's market than there has been for the past several days and a stronger undertone exists in the better grades of steers and all kinds of she stock, with half fat steers dull, although no material price change took place. The supply was moderate and practically all of the offerings were cleaned up on the morning session. Steers were generally steady, while she stock ruled strong. The price spread of 6.75 to 7.00 took in the bulk of steers, mostly 980 to 1140-pound weights, eleven loads of 1096 to 1137-pound grassers making the latter price. Several lots of common steers turned from 5.50@6.25, mostly 6.00@6.25, with a few very thin kinds downward to 5.00 and below.

She stock was scarce and odd head and small lots sold upward to 6.00; however, the practical top was 5.75, paid for a load of 974-pound grass cows. Other load lots of cows were common and medium kinds at 4.75; however, odd head and small lots were numerous from 4.25@5.00. Canners and cutters turned largely from 2.00@3.50, with a few strongweight cutters at 3.75, while thin, shelly canners sold downward to 1.50. Bulls ruled firm, most bolognas clearing from 4.00@4.75, with beef bulls from 5.00 to 5.10, a few choice kinds making 5.25.

CALVES: Fair demand cleaned up today's small supply at generally steady values, a few good and choice 140 to 230-pound vealers selling upward to 11.50 and above, while a small lot of choice 300-pound weights made 10.50. Common and medium kinds, including heavies, were most numerous from 5.50 to 9.00.

HOGS: No good and choice grain-feds were offered on today's market, the total supply consisting of mixed butchers and Californias that went over at around steady values. A sizeable lot of 195-pound trucked-in butchers scored 15.50, while a load of 204-pound Californias and a load of 208-pound Kansas butchers realized 15.25. A few medium weight trucked-in butchers sold downward to 14.50, with pigs at 14.25. Packing sows were scarce, with the few smooth kinds on hand making 13.00.

SHEEP: None. Choice lambs are quotable around 14.00, in the opinion of the trade, with choice lightweight ewes around 6.50.

YESTERDAY'S QUOTATIONS

Slaughter cattle and calves: Steers (1100 pounds down) good, 7.75@8.25; medium, 6.50@7.75; common, 4.00@6.50. Heifers (850 pounds up), good, 6.00@6.50; (all weights), common and medium, 4.00@6.00; medium, 5.75@6.25. Cows, good, 5.75@6.25; common and medium, 3.65@5.75; canners and cutters, 1.75@3.65. Bulls, good (beef yearlings excluded), 4.75@5.25; (canner-bologna), canner to medium, 3.25@4.75. Calves (milk fed excluded), medium to choice, 8.50@11.50; culls and common, 4.50@8.50. Vealers, medium to choice, 9.00@12.00; culls and common, 5.00@9.00.

Hogs: Medium weight (200 to 250 pounds), medium to choice, 14.85@15.50; light weight (160 to 200 pounds), common to choice, 15.15@15.65; light lights (130 to 160 pounds), common to choice, 14.85@15.40. Packing hogs, smooth and rough, 11.50@12.50. Slaughter pigs (90 to 130-pounds), medium, good and choice, 13.00@15.00. (Soft or oily hogs and roasting pigs excluded in above quotations.)

Slaughter sheep and lambs: Lambs (84 pounds down), medium to choice, 13.00@14.00; (all weights), culls and common, 9.50@12.00; ewes, common to choice, 4.50@6.50; culls and canners, 2.00@4.50.

Spirited Bidding on Cash Wheat Enlivens Mart

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 29.—There were numerous attractive features in the grain markets, the most sensational being the bidding for cash wheat by Kansas City in Illinois territory, the prices offered being higher than Chicago, without bringing out much wheat. Another feature was the bidding up of July wheat 3 cents, with the close at 1.56¼@1.56⅜, a gain of 3⅛ cents for the day, while the deferred futures were ⅝ cent lower and all the outside markets also closed with moderate declines.

In addition to the new features in wheat, there was weakness in the coarse grains at the last, although July corn closed at a fractional premium over the September, with a loss of ⅛ cent, while the other deliveries were 1@2 cents lower. Oats lost ⅛@⅝ cent and rye ⅝@1⅛ cents.

Crop news from the Canadian Northwest was more bullish on wheat and from the Dakotas rather more favorable. Harvesting is progressing on both sides of the international line, and trade leaders are supposed to go slow until there is more definite information as to the size of the crop. In the winter wheat country there is no particular pressure to sell wheat on the part of farmers and in the Southwest, particularly, higher prices are being made than in Chicago, and the movement is liberal, especially as compared with the size of the crop, arrivals being 1,764,000 bushels against 1,227,000 bushels a year ago. For the three days this week, the aggregate is 3,650,000 bushels, against 2,926,000 bushels last year. Millers are buying cash wheat in all markets, but export business is light, 250,000 bushels at the seaboard. Hedging pressure was moderate volume on the deferred futures and September had a range of 2⅛ cents, with the close at 1.51@1.50⅞.

The corn market is a comparatively small affair, with an advance in July to 1.07¼, with the close 1 cent below that level. Cash interests are taking the July, securing a delivery and leaving the corn out. The leading holder of July contracts has practically little corn left, having taken the delivery and disposed of the cash grain. A feature was the heavy selling of December and May by local interests, with a break of 2 cents, due to reports of good rains in Kansas and Nebraska.

Interest in oats was moderate, with hedging sales the main feature. Primary receipts were larger and threshing returns mixed.

Rye was sold largely by liquidators and the buying was poor, with the close at the lowest of the day, 94⅛ for July.

Trading in provisions was limited, a feature being the buying of September lard by grain interests and selling by commission houses. Hog prices were higher on lighter receipts. Cash trade was slow. At the close lard was unchanged to 7½ cents higher, short ribs unchanged and bellies unchanged to 7½ cents higher for the day.

What to Buy —And when
AT times when investments in general sell at favorable prices it is only necessary to know what to buy. In other periods even the soundest securities sell far too high for conservative investment. Moody's with its international facilities for gathering investment facts and information provides reports and advice which will enable investors and bankers to make proper selections. Our booklet, "A Permanent Investment Policy," explains our plan.

The Shell company yesterday completed its first well of gusher proportions in the Ventura-avenue field at Ventura, bringing in its Gosnell No. 15 with a production during the first day reported at 3500 barrels. The well is 4650 feet deep, and is flowing 30 degrees gravity oil, and a gas production of 4,000,000 cubic feet a day. It is an offset to the Associated Oil Company's Lloyd No. 13, now drilling.

Gosnell No. 15 was placed on production in the record time of sixteen hours, according to official reports. The well stopped drilling at 7 o'clock in the morning, and was flowing into the tanks by 11 o'clock on Tuesday night.

The Shell has two other wells in this field, which it expects to complete before the end of the week. Edison No. 4, located on the property of the Southern California Edison Company, drilled to 4728 feet, began swabbing yesterday, and Taylor No. 8, located farther west, and drilled to 4743 feet, also began swabbing. Both these wells are in the center of the field, and both are expected to be large wells, especially the Edison No. 4.

The Shell in common with other operators in the Ventura-avenue field, is meeting with much trouble because of the high and fluctuating pressure characteristic of the district. Changes of several hundred pounds in pressure at the casing-head frequently occur within a period of a few minutes, and constantly endanger the success of operations. Pressure of 1500 pounds is frequently found.

Prospects Fade

The Burnham Exploration Company's Wagner No. 2 wildcat well appears to be about the only one of the wells searching for a western extension of the Rosecrans field that has even a fair chance at the present stage of developments, according to operators. The Wagner well is drilling ahead at 3913 feet in hard sand, while both the rival wells are past 4900 feet without showings, and little chance to get them, in the opinion of geologists.

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Bilhorn well at 5435 feet, is drilling ahead, according to field reports. This well is about half-way between Athens and the Inglewood field, almost on a direct line, and when it was started was believed to be the best remaining location for a test of the theory that the structure should show an uplift between the Athens and Inglewood fields.

South of the Bilhorn well the Pan American Petroleum Company is nearing 5000 feet in its Anderson No. 2 and also has had no showings worth mentioning. This well is due west of the Pan American's Anderson No. 1, which was abandoned several months ago after considerable mechanical difficulty.

The Shell company was the original proponent of the theory that a new field should exist northwest of Athens, and pioneered the district with its Leonis No. 1, which was abandoned several months ago at 5979 feet. The Pan American and C.C.M.O. wells followed the Leonis, the latest of the entries being the Burnham with its Wagner No. 2. The comparatively shallow depth of the Wagner gives it the best chance for discovery, oil men believe. If this well fails, the prospect for a field between Athens and Inglewood is pretty well exploded.

Gets Small Well

The Union Oil Company's Jamison No. 1 in the central part of the Rosecrans field again went on production yesterday, flowing by heads and making 105 barrels a day. The well is down 4934 feet, and has been on and off production several times since its original completion about three months ago.

Gas Increases

The Leland Mitchell well in the Athens area of the Rosecrans field, which came in last week making about 10,000,000 feet of gas a day, and a little oil, has increased its gas output to about 14,000,000 cubic feet, and in addition, is making about 200 barrels of oil a day. The well was drilled to 4450 feet.

Gets Good Pumper

The Brownmoor Oil Company's No. 2 well in the northern part of the Inglewood field, is making about 200 barrels a day on the pump, according to field reports. The well is down 2160 feet. It is making considerable water with the oil, it is said, the cut ranging between 25 and 40 per cent.

Three New Wells

Three new wells are reported in the Torrance field, their total output being considerably less than 100 barrels.

The Petroleum Midway Company is getting about forty barrels, half oil and half water, out of its Redondo No. 3 at 3350 feet. The Standard Oil Company's Interstate No. 4 is yielding twenty-four barrels with a 5 per cent cut from 3879 feet, and the C.C.M.O. Del Amo No. 37 is making about fifty barrels at 3685 feet.

Official Report

Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. D. Bush during the week ending the 25th inst., show seventeen new wells started, as compared with twenty-five during the previous week. Of the seventeen notices to drill filed this week, four were for wells in the Inglewood field, one in the Huntington Beach field, two in the Long Beach field, one in the Brea Olinda field, one in the Newport field, one in the Piru field, one in the Conejo field, one in the Casmalia field, one in San Luis Obispo county, one in Alameda county and three in the fields of Kern county. The total new wells this year is 823, as compared with 903 at the same date last year.

Tests for water shut-off this week numbered twenty-four, as compared with thirty-eight during the previous week. Yearly total to date, 885; total to same date last year, 994.

Deepening or redrilling jobs this week numbered seventeen, as compared with twenty-three during the previous week. Total to date this year, 560; total to same date last year, 466.

FARMERS' INCOME GROWS

Improved conditions among the farmers of the United States is reflected in the fact that, during the year ended June 30, the farmer received a larger gross income from agricultural production than in any other year since 1921, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Estimates place the gross income at $12,136,000,000, compared with $11,288,000,000 during the year ended June 30, 1924. This gross income is the value of production less feed, seed and waste. The increased value, about 7 1-2 per cent, was due almost wholly to higher returns from grain and meat animals, particularly wheat and hogs.

Gross cash income from sales, exclusive of live stock and feed sold to other farmers, was $9,777,000,000, compared with $8,928,000,000 the preceding year. Food and fuel producer and consumed on farms was valued at $2,359,000,000. The expenses of production last year were estimated at $6,486,000,000, or nearly 2 per cent greater than the $6,363,000,000 estimated for the previous year. Net cash income from sales was $3,291,000,000, compared with $2,565,000,000 in 1923-24, while the net income from production, including with the net cash sales the value of food and fuel produced and consumed on the farm, was $5,650,000,000, compared with $4,925,000,000, the previous year, or an increase of 14.75 per cent.

Grains returned $1,934,000,00 last year, compared with $1,393,000,000 the preceding year; meat animals $2,621,000,000, compared with $2,167,000,000; fruits and vegetables $1,370,000,000, compared with $1,526,000,000; cotton and cotton-seed oil $1,690,000,000, compared with $1,608,000,000, and dairy and poultry products $3,254,000,000, compared with $3,315,000,000.

The average net income per operator, including all farmers, tenants, as well as owners, amounted to $876 during the past year, compared with $764 the preceding year, and covers the return on the farmer's equity in his farm property as well as earnings for the labor of himself and his family for the year.

If a conservative rate, 4.5 per cent, of return for the operator's net capital investment is deducted from the net income of $876, the return for the operator's labor and management and for the labor of his family was only $649 in 1924-25, and $531 in 1923-24. The average wage of hired farm labor was $569, compared with the return of $649 for the labor of the farmer and his family.

RUBBER MARKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Rubber prices continued their downward movement and influenced by a decided weakness in London, which was as low as 44 pence at one time, crude was quoted at 96 cents a pound shortly before noon. A better feeling prevailed after mid-day and, with London closing at 46 pence, a gain from the low for the day, but a decline of 2 pence from Tuesday's close, local prices were slightly stronger, although still below the previous day's quotations. Crude was off 3 cents at $1.02 and other grades varied from 4 cents lower to 3 cents higher. Little business was transacted in local circles and activity abroad was mainly confined to foreign dealers who are attempting to stave off a general collapse by absorbing the speculative liquidation that has undermined the entire market.

STOCKS HIT BY PROFIT TAKERS

Drop is Orderly and Losses Generally Small

Underlying Tone of Market Seen as Sound

Volume of Trading Figures Drops Sharply

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Stock prices turned reactionary today under the weight of an unusually large volume of profit-taking. The orderly character of the decline suggested good underlying support, considering the rapidity of the recent advance in many issues. Net losses in the popular shares ranged from 1 to 3½ points. The market showed a tendency to become dull on the reaction, the day's sales running about half a million shares below those of yesterday.

Operations for the advance were not entirely abandoned. A large accumulation of overnight buying orders imparted a strong tone to opening prices, more than a dozen issues attaining new peak prices for the year on initial sales. In all, about forty issues broke through their previous high levels during the session, although many of the gains were reduced or were wiped out in the late wave of profit taking.

Trade news was largely favorable. It included the publication of statistics showing that freight cars loading had crossed the million mark for the first time this year in the week ended the 18th inst. Weekly steel trade reviews stressed expanding operations and orders.

NEW HIGH REACHED

Strength of the specialties was based largely on individual developments. Foundation Company touched a new high for all time at 134 3-4 on reports that earnings in the first six months of the year were in excess of $20 a share.

General motors touched another new top at 89⅛ in speculative expectation of a large extra dividend next month. Fisher Body reached new high ground at 86. Among the many other industrial issues to establish new maximum prices were Brown Shoe, Continental Can, International Nickel, International Telephone, Pacific Gas and Electric, United Drug, Remington Typewriter, Spicer Manufacturing and Orpheum Circuit.

RUBBER SHARES OFF

Rubber shares turned heavy in sympathy with the lowering of commodity prices. United States Rubber common dropped over 3 points to 53 3-8. Net declines of 2 points or more also were recorded by American Safety Razor, Chrysler, Crucible Steel, Famous Players, Houston Oil, Mack Trucks, May Department Stores, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, United States Cast Iron Pipe, White Motors and Woolworth.

Call money ruled unchanged at 4 per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady with 4 to 4 1-4 per cent, the ruling rate.

Except for the weakness of Scandinavian currencies, due to heavy profit-taking, there was little of interest in the foreign exchange market. Danish kroner dropped about a cent to around 22.75 cents and Norwegian kroner fell back over 30 points to around 18 3-8 cents. Demand sterling held fairly steady around $4.85½; French francs were quoted slightly higher at 4.75 cents.

WHEAT MAKES GOOD SHOWING

High Tests Feature of This Year's Crop

Many Cars of Winter Red Get No. 1 Grading

Last Year's Receipts Likely to be Exceeded

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Shipments of new wheat pouring into this market show an unusually high test, according to officials of the Merchants' Exchange. A number of cars of the red winter wheat have graded No. 1 with a weight of 60 to 61.2 pounds per bushel. A large percentage of the early shipments has been accepted as No. 2, considered a high rating, at from 58 to 59.7 pounds.

With early prices ranging around $1.60 a bushel and the yield per acre generally good, farmers in the territory surrounding the St. Louis market are obtaining a profitable return. In general, growing conditions last spring were favorable to wheat. In spite of statements by experts that heavy damage had been done to the crop following the frosts that occurred in May, no loss in quality or production is now apparent.

From present indications wheat receipts here in 1924, which totaled 41,253,769 bushels, will be exceeded this year. St. Louis has long been considered a red winter wheat center, the bulk of this variety being shipped here for sale and distribution. Millers, therefore, look to this market for their supply of grain to be used in soft flour manufacture. A great deal of such wheat is ground here, but about 80 per cent usually is shipped to other centers. Last year 31,017,290 bushels went from here to other districts.

The bulk of wheat received here comes from Missouri, Illinois and Iowa, with smaller lots from Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas and South Dakota. This year shipments began the 1st inst., but there has been a great deal of delay in threshing operations due to heavy rains. While this has retarded wheat operators, it has been of great benefit to corn and a heavy yield of this grain is indicated. The condition of corn as of July 1, according to government reports, was 89 per cent, as compared with 82 per cent for a ten-year average.

Wheat sold on the St. Louis market must be subjected to thorough inspection by the State grain department, in accordance with regulations laid down by the United States Grain Standards Act. Sales are made through bids received on the floor of the Merchants' Exchange and the proceeds are turned over to the original owner after commissions and other small charges are deducted.

The Merchants' Exchange, which now has a membership of about 700, had its beginning back in 1836, when a number of merchants organized a sort of a debating society for discussion of matters pertaining to civic welfare and trade.

Bond Issue for Eastern Utility to be Marketed

Early offering of $12,000,000 first lien and refunding mortgage bonds of the Monongahela, West Pennsylvania Public Service Company, are to be made by Halsey, Stuart & Co., W. C. Langley & Co., E. H. Rollins & Sons, Hambleton & Co., W. A. Harriman & Co., and Dominick & Dominick.

Proceeds from the issue are for the financing of the purchase of five newly acquired public utility companies in West Virginia, to retire series A 6 per cent bonds, called for redemption August 1, 1925, and for other corporate purposes.

Asquisition of these properties, the largest and most important electric light, power and railway utilities in the State, will extend the super-power system to link the great industrial centers in Southwestern Pennsylvania and Northern Central West Virginia.

Subsidiaries of the West Penn constitute the largest group of properties controlled through stock ownership by the American Water Works and Electric Company, a successful holding company owning public utility properties throughout the United States.

FATALLY BURNED BY TAR

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, July 29.—A skidding auto struck a vat of boiling tar on the Folkstone road, hurling a spray of the tar upon two workmen. Alfred Slender, 61 years of age, one of the men, was pinned beneath the vat. The tar caught fire and he was burned to death. His companion was also burned.

TOMATOES TO BE PLANTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 29.—Dimmitt county will plant about 1000 acres of tomatoes for the fall crop. Seed beds are now up and growing well. The tomatoes planted direct in the fields are not coming up so well, due to hot weather.

Wall Street Paragraphs

(Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, July 29.—Wall street today came to a parting of the ways in which were created sharply defined lines in sentiment toward the future trend of the stock market. An insistent selling movement got under way and gained some ground, but in opposition was the continued efforts of clique managers to put higher their favorites. And here, too, headway was attained. Warnings were sent out over commission-house wires that the time had come for a reaction and, doubtless giving heed to these flashes, operators of large and small degree made response, although it was by no means general in character. That time money had stiffened and now was difficult to secure, was the gist of discussion with a number of stock exchange partners. Even 4½ per cent, it was stated, was not sufficiently attractive to bring out six months' funds. This, to many observers, was considered significant. Again, it was declared that banks were pursuing greater caution in the matter of collateral and were refusing some stocks which heretofore had been well regarded. This condition, it was explained, was due to the rapid price flights which many of the issues had lately taken.

RAIL SITUATION

As the market softened the motor, merchandising and tobacco shares seemed under the greatest degree of pressure, and later weakness was to be found in other portions of the list. Confronting the rails was the thought of continued good earnings and much was made of the fact that $75,000,000 net operating income, against $60,000,000 last year, had been shown by nearly half a hundred roads for June. Furthermore, the point was stressed that while gross ~~was~~ but 8 per cent the net had claimed about 35 per cent.

NEW HIGH FOR CAN

A new price haven was found by American Can, as its forward urge was resumed after several days' idleness. And while the street had no new ideas on the subject, the expected split-up and dividend questions were uppermost in speculative minds. That the probable year-end disbursement had been discussed as to amount, it was stated in banking quarters that officials yet had to have their first official round-table conference bearing on the subject closest to Wall street's imagination—the anticipated adjustment of the company's capital structure. November for some time had been named as the month when the Can directors were expected to take the desired action, but on this moot point it now was suggested that it might be put over for early consideration in 1926. In much the same manner that considerable Mack Truck profits were credited with figuring the current rise in White Motors, did the street attribute to the belated interest in Continental Can a share of financial benefits accruing from operations in American Can shares.

TALK OF REPRISAL

Belated though it was, the Pan-American official statement of earnings for the first quarter was not without its interest to the financial district. But this was only one of the topics discussed in connection with the company. That pressure on the Pan-American shares had been due in part at least to market operations based on unsuccessful attempts elsewhere to bring about a consolidation of two oil properties, was an interesting but unconfirmed report supposedly covering the weakness in these securities. The story as related among brokerage officers was to the effect that thwarting of these merger efforts led to reprisals in the form of heavy selling of Pan American. Although these suggestions were accorded a hearing, there was another theory which left room for later negotiations between the Independent Oil and Gas and White Phillips Petroleum Company. A difference of price, it was latterly indicated, was all that delayed linking up these two properties.

PREPARING FOR FUTURE

Quick to reflect conditions arising from the present situation in the crude rubber market, the Goodyear company wrote into its books a $3,000,000 "special raw material reserve." Coupled with another item closely approximating $6,000,000 for contingencies and Federal taxes, the question of reserves was regarded by the street as being amply cared for and at the same time not interfering with the building up of a strong surplus position. At midyear the company surplus fell short of the $26,000,000 mark by less than $20,000.

A COUNTER ACTION

North American reacted in the face of the best annual report ever presented to stockholders. But the growing importance of the company had been made plain and its fast climb among the expanding utilities had drawn toward it a market affiliation difficult to offset. Both gross revenues and net earnings were far ahead of all that had previously come out of the executive offices of the corporation.

SEEKING CONTROL

A bid of $100 a share was understood to have been made for control of Power Corporation of New York. This concern, dominated by the St. Regis Paper Company, had but lately come into the limelight through a decision of the latter's management to distribute the subsidiary's holdings as a special dividend.

TURNING TO COPPERS

An unusually heavy turnover in Kennecott and strength in American Smelting and Refining common drew the street's eye to the metal group. For the former there was visualized approach of the time when further steps might be taken toward carrying to fulfillment its plans of corralling affiliated properties and the creation of a greater Kennecott, which should yield to none the first honors among the world's copper producers, either in quantity or production costs. The resumption of interest in smelting company shares was based on knowledge of the steady demand for copper and other metals, large quantities of which annually pass through the sales department of this concern. The copper price, for some time, has had but little effect on the American Smelting Company's earnings, owing to the fact that the bulk of red metal handled by it goes through on a toll basis. It was learned from producers today that large quantities of August copper yet must be bought to cover consumers requirements, and with this in mind they have assumed an attitude of optimism, although by no means have they come to the conclusion that prices soon must have much, if any, of an advance. Urgent buying for fall delivery would, they believe, take the market out of hand, and in the establishment of materially higher prices, later work as a reactionary measure to the detriment of the industry.

WHISPERING WIRES

Liquidation came into the tobacco stocks, but it was at a time when pressure elsewhere was being forced on the list. That all support had not departed was apparent from the manner in which Tobacco Products snapped back, and the buying power was replaced on Bar Harbor wires, from which point prominent market operators again were directing their business interests.

SLACKENING DOWN

White Motors again was prominent, but from early indications the volume of the previous day was likely to stand out boldly in contrast with current operations. The pace in this stock was considered to have been a trifle too fast, notwithstanding which belief there appeared to be but little effort to take profits. The street was inclined to hold that whatever constructive arguments would be made in favor of Mack Truck should equally well apply to the White affairs and the call in behalf of the Westchester line—New Haven's commuting subsidiary—for a fleet of equipment presaged as well as for one as the other from the stock market viewpoint.

BAD CHECKS

The following bulletin on bad-check writing was issued yesterday by the forgery detail of the Los Angeles Police Department, detective bureau:

Los Angeles merchants are warned to accept no checks of the Standard Cabinet Works, Inc., Los Angeles, numbered in the 3000 series, as the following described bad-check artist has been forging checks of this concern: American, dark hair, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weight 160 pounds, 24 years of age, slender build; smooth shaven, light complexion. When last seen wore dark, rather shabby clothing, and a cap.

This man uses the name of Johnnie Ohls, and signs the checks "Standard Cabinet Works, Inc., by Bob Anderson." This latter name is a forgery. The checks of this firm are printed on green paper, are drawn on the Union Bank and Trust Company, and Ohls fills in the amount with a check writer.

Commerce With Mexico Shows Large Increase

Trade between Mexico and the United States in the first five months of this year amounted to $151,423,791, reckoned in United States currency. Mexico's exports to the United States were $87,710,083, and imports from the United States $63,713,708. The average rate is over $1,000,000 a day. These figures are all in gold.

The Mexican Embassy says the trade in March amounted to $30,000,000. Minerals and oil were the principal products, followed by coffee, cotton, sisal, tomatoes, chicle and other vegetable and animal products. Exports of petroleum in March were above 18,000,000 pesos (a peso being equivalent to 50 cents gold in United States currency.) Silver was above 11,000,000 pesos; lead, 10,000,000 pesos, and copper under 3,000,000 pesos.

Trade with the United States is constantly increasing. The total between the two countries in 1922 was $241,972,757 gold. In 1923 it increased to $260,338,126, and in 1924 to $302,164,008. During the present year it has run at the annual rate of $365,000,000.

The Mexican market is becoming more important as a consumer of manufactured products, and as a source of raw materials and natural products.

MOTOR CAR PRODUCTION DROP SEEN

Decline in July Output Forecast in Survey for Week by Trade Organ

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, July 29.—While automobile production in the first half of this year was highly gratifying, it should not be expected that the record will be equaled in the second six months, according to the weekly survey of Motor.

Although domestic output of passenger cars up to July 1 aggregated 1,856,000, as compared with 1,774,000 in the same period last year, a gain of 82,000, actual sales were not quite as large as in 1924. Increased exports accounted for fully half the excess, and it should not be forgotten that by the middle of last year dealers had disposed of the major part of a heavy carryover of cars from 1923. They were under no such necessity in 1925.

The remarkable earnings shown by many of the leading companies in all branches of the industry have been due to increased efficiency and economy rather than an unprecedented volume of business. As good a record, comparatively, will be made in the remaining months, provided overproduction is avoided.

July should show a decrease in output of at least 10 per cent in domestic passenger-car production, which would bring the total down to 315,000, and it probably should be less. The tapering off in later months will have to be even more rapid if the industry as a whole is to avoid the accumulation of surplus stocks.

A few companies, including some of the larger producers, but not the largest, have had a materially bigger business than they had in 1924, and they will do very well in the second half, but the aggregate of their sales will be well under those of the first half.

USE RADIO PHONES IN MIMIC WAR

Fort Sam Houston Officers Well Pleased With Result of Field Test

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 29.—Radio telephones were used for the first time on record in a communication net for control and coordination of airplanes, infantry, and artillery, in movements on a simulated war front, at Fort Sam Houston. Fourteen two-way communication stations were in operation simultaneously along a front two miles long, and staff officers were highly pleased with the results of the test.

Four battalions of infantry, four of artillery and four airplanes, each co-ordinating with a battalion of ground troops, were equipped with radio, in addition to two directing stations at strategic points in the rear of the lines. All sets were operated simultaneously within a radius of a mile.

The problem has been in process of preparation for the last three weeks, and was the development of an idea, orignated by Brig.-Gen. Paul B. Malone, commander Second Division, Fort Sam Houston, who, with his staff, kept in close touch with all of the stations and troop movements from one of the ground stations.

Persian Chief Pays Penalty for Treachery

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TEHERAN (Persia) July 29.—Sirdar Mvazazas, the strongest chieftain in Northeast Persia along the Russian frontier, who plotted for years to undermine the central government, was hanged yesterday with four of his henchmen in a public square in Teheran. His conviction by a military court of having instigated the Turcoman revolt came as a surprise because of the many powerful influences working for him.

It is understood that a big sum of money was offered to the president of the military court not to sentence him to death. He was Governor of the Boujourk district, where he was implicated in furnishing forbidden official information both to Russia and to England.

Stoke-on-Trent, the famous pottery town of England, has been made a city.

BUILDS FIRE ON NITROGLYCERIN

Rancher's Son Hurled Some Distance by Blast But Survives

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) July 29.—Bemas Britong, son of a Chiricahua mountain rancher, dismounted in the evening to build a fire at which to dry his rain-drenched clothing. A few minutes later, he was lifted from the ground by the force of an explosion that scattered firebrands in every direction and that hurled him a considerable distance. He got to the home ranch and thence was brought to Douglas, where he was found suffering from a dozen cuts, apparently from glass fragments, mainly above the knees. It is believed that in the ground below where the fire was made had been secreted a bottle containing nitroglycerin. Britong is not seriously injured.

NEWS OF SPRING STREET

Trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday was reactionary, with the leaders, Edison common and Los Angeles Investment, dropping on profit taking.

Edison common opened off ½ point at 130, and continued to lose ground and closed at 128 1-8. Los Angeles Investment advanced 12 points as a reflection of the announcement of the special oil dividend to 6.78. On profit taking the stock dropped to 6.60, but later reacted to 6.65.

Pacific Gas and Electric common featured trading in the utilities, advancing to a new high of 117 5-8 and closed at 117. San Joaquin stocks moved fractionally higher. The only advance in the mining list was registered by North Star, which moved up 1 cent to 3½.

Makes Address

J. F. T. O'Connor, member of the law firm of McAdoo, Neblett & O'Connor, and a former United States Senator from South Dakota, will address the Los Angeles Exchange Club tomorrow noon at the Biltmore. His subject will be "Americanization and Its Relation to Business."

E. S. Crawford of the commercial development departments of the First National Bank and the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, will be chairman of the meeting.

Meeting Postponed

Meeting of the district governors of the California Affiliated Exchange Clubs, which was to have been held in Fresno yesterday to consider the appointment of a new governor of District No. 4, has been indefinitely postponed, according to an announcement made yesterday by Louis O'Neal, president of the State association.

Otis Shows Profits

Net profits of the Otis Steel Company for the three months ended June 30, after deducting general expenses, taxes, interest, discounts, etc., were $871,759, according to private wire advices received by Blair & Co., Inc., yesterday.

Manufacturing profit of the company for the period amounted to $1,330,102, and profits of subsidiary companies totaled $44,054. General expenses and taxes amounted to $280,391.

General Outdoor Advertising Company, Ind., announces the payment of a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock and $1 a share on the 125,000 shares of Class A stock of the company, payable August 15 to stockholders of record August 5.

Standard Oil Company of California yesterday announced a dividend of 50 cents, payable September 15 to stockholders of record August 17.

OIL OUTPUT FOR NATION TAPERS OFF

Drop of 3400 Barrels in Week Reported; Increase Shown for California

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, July 29.—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 3400 barrels for the week ending the 25th inst., totaling 2,111,750 barrels, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production of Smackover (Ark.) heavy oil field decreased 13,350 barrels. The daily average production in the United States, excluding Smackover heavy, increased 9950 barrels. The daily average production east of California was 1,444,250 barrels, a decrease of 15,400. California production was 667,500 barrels, an increase of 12,000.

Oklahoma shows a daily average production of 445,400 barrels, an increase of 4150; Kansas, 104,400, an increase of 4350; North Texas, 82,100, a decrease of 1500; East Central Texas, 99,900, a decrease of 1050; West Central Texas, 81,700, an increase of 3150; North Louisiana, 49,350 barrels, an increase of 100; Arkansas, 239,850, a decrease of 13,900; Gulf Coast, 93,500, a decrease of 6300; Southwest Texas, 45,200, a decrease of 1300; Eastern, 103,000, no change; Wyoming, 82,250, an increase of 1250; Montana, 12,450, a decrease of 3050; Colorado, 2450, a decrease of 150; New Mexico, 2700, a decrease of 150.

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for the week ending the 25th inst., were 147,571 barrels, compared with 275,572 for the previous week, and 124,857 for the four weeks ending the 25th inst. Daily average receipts of California oil at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports for the week ending the 25th inst., were 78,714 barrels, compared with 102,571 for the previous week, and 56,429 for the four weeks ending the 25th inst.

No changes were reported in crude oil prices for the major districts. Pennsylvania crude, Bradford district, is quoted at $3.90 a barrel; all other grades being quoted at from $3.45 to $3.80 a barrel. Mid-Continent crude oil is quoted at $1.40 to $2.68 a barrel, according to the gravity of the oil. Gulf Coast crude, grade A, is quoted at $1.75 a barrel; grade B at $1.50. California prices range from $1.25 to $2.40 a barrel, according to the gravity.

Domestic Onion Crop Shortage Boosts Prices

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 29.—Prices nearly twice as high as last year's have resulted from a shortage in the national supply of domestic onions.

The United States Government Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today that a peak of $6 per 100 pounds, wholesale, in Chicago has been reached by California white onions, with Massachusetts sacked yellow onions touching as high as $5.50 here. Midwest onions are bringing mostly $4.50 to $5.50.

Many of the important commercial States report poor stands of onions because of unfavorable weather conditions. In Indiana, for example, spring frosts followed by drought and high winds, damaged the onion crop 50 to 75 per cent in some sections. Similar conditions prevail in Southwestern Michigan, while Hardin county, Ohio, is reported to have only 100 acres left of 3500 originally sown. Kentucky and Virginia's output is hardly one-half of last year's to date. New Jersey shows one-third less, and Washington shipments are below one-fifth of the 1924 amount.

On the other hand, Iowa has had an excellent season to date, with some fields averaging more than 500 bushels an acre. Iowa onion shipments are far ahead of last season's movement.

Partly offsetting the United States shortage, imports of onions from Spain into this country are running much beyond last year's record. More than 1,000,000 bushels are expected to be received direct from Spain this season. Supplementary supplies of onions are also expected from Egypt.

COTTON PLANTERS ON NAZAS PLAN FESTIVAL

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORREON (Mex.) July 29.—Animated by the heavy flow of water in the Nazas River which irrigates their lands, the cotton planters and business men of this district are taking more interest in the cotton festivities to be conducted in this city next September. September 7 has been chosen for the principal events and the opening day. A number of young women candidates have been placed on the election ticket for queen. There will be a large allegorical street parade and athletic sports at the Spanish amusement park. Prizes will be awarded for the most attractive show windows of the business houses.

BALBOA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

BALBOA, CALIFORNIA

Mr. R. W. Pridham,
President, Chamber of Commerce,
Los Angeles.

My dear Mr. Pridham:

Here is good news for you and other Southland Chamber of Commerce executives who work for Southern California's greatness.

Business is good in Balboa and Newport -- the best we have ever had. Rentals of $1,000 a month have been offered for some of our Bay Shore homes; the price of choice home sites has advanced 500% in three years. Several of your wealthiest men have recently invested here.

We truly regret that more of your citizens could not enjoy Newport Bay with us this year. But you can be with us next year. For the SOUTHERN SEAS CLUB, pictured above, a community enterprise backed by the leaders of Newport, Balboa and Orange County, will be ready, with hotel like service, and apartments for members -- some of which may be privately owned.

We plan a suite for the Governor, and should be happy to reserve one for the civic leader of the Western metropolis. Would you prefer it facing the Bay or the Ocean?

Yours cordially,

President, Balboa Chamber of Commerce.

HAIRCUT MUST BE MILITARY

Fort Sam Houston Soldiers Warned to "Keep It Short"

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 29.—No more will fair admirers have the pleasure of running their fingers through the sleek or curly locks of their warrior swains, as a result of a memorandum issued at Fort Sam Houston.

Noting that the fashion in vogue among soldiers of clipping the back of the head while allowing the strands on top to grow to excessive length is becoming prevalent, the order directs that the practice be discontinued. Quoting Paragraph 7 of Section 40-205 of army regulations that "the hair will be kept short," the decree requires all soldiers to comply "literally."

Among the military reasons for the edict prohibiting "flowing manes" it is pointed out that errant wisps of the hair, falling over the eyes as the soldier lies prone at target practice, seriously interfere with his vision and aim.

SOUTHWEST PLANTS BUY NEW WHEAT

Dealers Assert Farmers Holding Back 60 Per Cent of Season's Crop

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) July 29.—Oklahoma and Texas mills continue to buy practically all of the new wheat that is offered for sale in Oklahoma, buyers for Northwestern mills have practically withdrawn from the territory to fill their demands in Kansas City, Omaha and other Middle West markets. Dealers said the movement during the third week of July was slightly heavier than in earlier weeks of the month but it was agreed that fully 60 per cent of the new crop is not being offered for sale by growers.

Texas demands are heavier than those of any other State, dealers say. An increased flour business in both Texas and Oklahoma has created an unusual competition among mills in the wheat markets. Texas demands are stronger in Oklahoma than Minnesota demands, although where distance and freight rates come to somewhat of a balance in the northern part of Oklahoma, Minnesota mills are still getting some wheat of the highest protein content. Dealers say that Kansas City and Chicago prices are likely to govern in Oklahoma during the remainder of the season instead of export prices.

Recent hot winds have more than offset the benefit of rains that preceded them in some sections of Oklahoma and the corn crop has been virtually destroyed. The yield may be as low as 20,000,000 bushels, or less than half of that of last year.

FRESH FISH DECLARED HIGH IN BUENOS AIRES

MOVEMENT AFOOT TO BRING SEA FOOD WITHIN REACH OF ALL

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BUENOS AIRES, July 29.—Probably no city in the world having equal facilities consumes less fish than Buenos Aires, and one of the reasons for this is its high price. A movement is now on foot for placing this food on the local market at a price more in accord with the citizens' pockets.

The comparison in the prices paid for fish on the beach at Mar Del Plata and those at which it is sold in the city markets leaves a profit of something like 100 to 400 per cent, according to the class of fish. True, a good amount must be written off to loss in transit and to arrival in bad condition. The result of this asserted profiteering is shown in the fact that the consumption of fish per head per annum in Buenos Aires is as low as one ounce.

Some years ago an English company brought out fishing boats from England, but taxation and the attitude of the local dealers forced them out of business. Why fish has to be brought up from Mar Del Plata by train to Buenos Aires, when it is nearer at hand and can be delivered fresh and in the port by trawlers, is a mystery.

BASEBALL BANNED IN YARD OF COURTHOUSE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

INDEPENDENCE (Mo.) July 29. The county employees of Jackson county decided to form a baseball team. So during the noon hour each day they gathered in the Courthouse yard for practice. But the Courthouse employees were a bit wild with their batting and throwing and now the County Court has issued an order prohibiting them from using the lawn for practice. The team, however, is not discouraged and will find another place to practice.

GRAND CANYON LURES TRAPPER

Old Yukon Prospector Quits Arctic for Arizona

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GRAND CANYON (Ariz.) July 29.—From the headwaters of the Nasse and Stikine rivers in the Yukon, a thousand miles north of the American line, to Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona, is a long cry, and Dan W. Austin, an old Yukon prospector and trapper, has arrived in the park to prove the statement.

Leaving Vermont when he was only 15 years of age, he drifted westward to Indian Territory, and shot squirrels on the banks of the Arkansas River, long before Tulsa ever came into being. From Oklahoma he headed northwest to Oregon, where he prospected around for a number of years and then finally drifted up into the Yukon, where he has been constantly for the past twelve years. Prior to that time he had served a few years with the Forest Service, assigned to the McGrible Ranger Station near Port Orford, Or.

Austin gives as the reason for his being in this part of the country the fact that last summer while up in the Yukon, trapping and prospecting, he ran across an old copy of a weekly magazine, in which was an article dealing at length with the wonders of the Grand Canyon, the wild life to be found on the north rim of the canyon, and the amount of undeveloped natural resources. This article made such a tremendous impression on him that he left the Yukon as soon as he could get out, came down the west coast to Los Angeles, and from there to Phoenix, where he outfitted with three burros, pack equipment and a dog. The dog part of the outfit increased en route from one to nine.

When he arrived in Grand Canyon National Park he was shown maps of the country, and just where he could prospect and trap. Austin is now en route across the canyon with his outfit by way of the new Yaki Point section of the Kaibab Trail, which has recently been completed, and when he reaches the north rim will strike west until he crosses Kanab Creek, where he will make his headquarters, this area being off the National Park as well as the National Forest.

CARTOON OF KING IN BELGIAN PALACE

WORK OF LATE WILBUR STEEL APPRECIATED BY KING ALBERT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DENVER, July 19.—A cartoon drawn by the late Wilbur F. Steele of Denver, internationally famed as a cartoonist, has been accorded the extraordinary honor of being hung in the royal palace of Belgium at Brussels. The cartoon had for its subject King Albert of Belgium.

The Count and Countess Cornet De Ways-Ruart—the latter being the daughter of Mrs. Spencer Penrose of Colorado Springs—were in this country last winter on a visit. On that tour they visited at the winter home of Eugene P. Shove of Colorado Springs at Honolulu.

Mrs. Shove was a sister of Steele and in the Shove art gallery were hung a number of originals of his famous cartoons. The Count was deeply impressed with the cartoon of King Albert. He asked that he be permitted to take it back to Belgium and present it to the King.

Shove granted the request, and Count Cornet took the cartoon to Brussels, where he delivered it to Count D'Arschot, the Belgian Prime Minister. The latter had it hung in the royal palace, and then wrote Steele, conveying the deep appreciation of King Albert and royal gratitude for the gift. Steele died last March.

GEM WORTH $2000 FOUND IN OLD PURSE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, July 29.—Downtown shoppers passing the corner of Colorado street and Raymond avenue saw a dirty old purse lying on the pavement. Not one of the thousands of passers-by would tarry long enough to pick it up. The majority went by without giving it a look. Others kicked it, and finally it came to rest in the gutter.

C. A. Burmester, 1166 North Michigan avenue, rather than take the chance of puncturing his tire while parking, picked the much-booted purse up. Inside he found a diamond ring valued at $2000.

ARKANSAS RICE CROP ESTIMATE SHOWS GAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) July 29.—About 7,000,000 bushels is the estimate of the Arkansas Department of Agriculture on the rice crop of the eastern part of that State last year. This will be an increase of about 500,000 bushels over an estimate formerly made by the United States Department of Agriculture. The yield was about 10 per cent below the ten-year average. About 160,000 acres were planted and about 4000 acres were too much damaged by dry weather to harvest. The average price received by the planter was $1.38 per bushel.

NUMEROUS TARPON ATTRACT FISHERMEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 29. Tarpon have been unusually numerous in the waters of Brazos-Santiago Pass, and a steady stream of fishermen has been traveling to the point and going after this sport king. The plentiful supply of tarpon is accounted for by the fact that the water from the Rio Grande has sweetened the water near the point and that the tarpons prefer this water for feeding.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

CIVILIAN NAVAL EXPERT IN PORT

Here for Information on Oil Buying by Japan

Huge Purchases Seen as in Excess of Needs

Urgency of Great Navy Base on Coast Stressed

Henry W. Shearer, civilian naval expert, whose disclosures incident to the sinking of the U.S.S. Washington recently, attracted international attention, yesterday visited Los Angeles Harbor for information relative to the activities of tank steamers of the Imperial Japanese Navy, which have transported millions of barrels of fuel oil from this port to Japan's naval fuel reserves at Tokuyama.

International affairs, particularly those centering on the Pacific are at a critical point, which demands the location of a great base of the United States Navy on the Pacific Coast, according to Mr. Shearer. He said he advocates the location of such a base at San Francisco, because the land-locked harbor would offer protection from foreign aggressions.

FLEET TO REMAIN

In his belief Los Angeles Harbor will always remain the operating base and anchorage of the United States Battle Fleet, because of its accessibility, splendid anchorages and regular weather for gunnery and tactical training.

"However, I am putting a puzzle together," said Mr. Shearer. "I am interested in knowing, as a citizen of the United States, and without any of the outside affiliations with which I have been charged, just how much war material Japan is over-reaching her credit to assemble at her naval base at Tokuyama and other focal points of military activity.

BUYING ELSEWHERE

"Japan, we know, is getting other incalculable amounts of oil from the Dutch East Indies. She is assembling planes, chemicals, poison gas and submarines from whatever sources of supply are available.

"Tarbell, an American inventor, recently sold to the Japanese a process for extracting oil from coal, I believe. I understand that this process will be tested out at Nagasaki.

"When the storm will break I do not know. I do know that the American citizen must be awakened to the need for naval preparations. Sometimes I am undecided whether we are crazy, or conceited, or just fools.

"But naval bases must be taken out of politics. Where States of the Atlantic seaboard have a Senator to each navy-yard or base, California has failed to secure the world's greatest naval base, which is her need and due."

BIDS FOR DREDGING JOB COMING UP SOON

Bids for the dredging of the West Basin to a depth of thirty-five feet, providing for a slip 1500 feet long and affording berthing space for eight vessels, and for the dredging of additional yacht anchorage in the inner harbor, will be called for within two weeks, J. C. Starr, secretary of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, announced late yesterday.

Several thousand square yards of anchorage will be provided for the Yacht Club through dredging the shallow waters adjacent to the present anchorage, which will also be deepened to accommodate the largest yachts in the harbor.

The Board of Army Engineers granted the Board of Harbor Commissioners the right to proceed with the dredging, which has been planned for several years, yesterday morning, it was announced at the harbor.

The present depth of the anchorage at the Yacht Club is too shallow to permit of many yachts lying up in the inner harbor. Those vessels which could not anchor in the shallow water have been forced to drop their hooks in the outer harbor. The inner harbor anchorage was found inadequate many years ago, but the action yesterday by the Board of Army Engineers was the first assurance that their needs would be fulfilled, it is said.

The material from the Yacht Club anchorage will be used to fill in on the east side of Terminal Island, while the material from the West Basin district will be used to fill in the slough adjacent to Lomita Road and to level up some low districts in the Wilmington area.

Only one general cargo vessel is listed among the twenty-three steamers scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles Harbor today.

The list of ships due to arrive includes six coastwise passenger liners, eight tankers, five of which are coastwise and three intercoastal, and eight lumber schooners.

The Robert Luckenbach, putting in here from Seattle to take on merchandise for New York, is the only general cargo ship due here today. The Willapa, a lumber schooner, will put in here from San Diego with a special cargo to discharge.

The three tankers from the east coast include the Agwismith and Samuel Q. Brown, both Tidewater Oil Company boats, and the Joseph M. Cudahy, from New York, for the Sinclair Oil Company.

Predicting that more than 2,000,000 tons of pipe, considered a conservative estimate, will be handled through this harbor in case the Boulder dam project is authorized, Ray Francoeur, cargo and insurance surveyor with offices both at Los Angeles and at the harbor, announced last night that he will leave within a few days to establish another office at Mobile, Ala.

Most of the pipe to be shipped into Southern California, Francoeur stated, will be from Gulf and Florida points.

The Transmarine Corporation is now making delivery of the 30,000-ton contract for the delivery of pipe, the Associated Terminals, into which the Banning Company was incorporated under a $20,000,000 merger recently, handling the discharge of the cargo.

The sudden flood of large quantities of pipe into this district, Francoeur said yesterday, has justified him in establishing a branch office on the Gulf Coast. In this manner he will have a check on the condition of the pipe at the time it is loaded and at the time it is taken off the ships at this terminus.

Several plates on the Union Oil tanker Oleum, which arrived here yesterday and put into the Los Angeles Steamship Company yards, were damaged in a collision at Oleum, it was announced here last night. Survey of the ship to determine the extent of damage will be made early today. The Oleum is not expected to load cargo oil for delivery at Oleum until Saturday.

What is expected to be a record in quick loading of gasoline may be established by the Pan American Petroleum Company tanker W. L. Steed, which ties up at the local wharves of the company at midnight tonight.

Company officials said last night that they expect the W. L. Steed to be loaded and ready to put to sea within twenty-four hours. She will take on 70,000 barrels of gasoline. The usual length of time to load gasoline is from four to five days, because of the low pressure necessary in order not to run too great a danger from fire.

The Standard Transportation tanker Tamaha, the last of the eight tankers owned by the same company which put in here in a ten-day period, will put out for Shanghai late today. Six of the eight tankers were from the Orient, while the other two came here from the Atlantic Coast.

Two vessels, the Norwegian lumber schooner Alaska and the Ellerman Line freighter City of Peking, are scheduled to stop here today for bunkers.

The Alaska, completing her first trip under charter to the South Alberta Lumber Company, comes here in ballast from Norfolk, Va., en route to British Columbia.

The City of Peking, due here from New York, is handled here by the Norton, Lilly & Co. She is en route to Shanghai with a cargo taken on at Atlantic ports.

It cost the Harbor Department but $1830.70 to exploit Los Angeles Harbor through personally-conducted tours during the year ending April 30, last, according to figures just submitted to the Board of Harbor Commissioners by Burt Edwards, comptroller.

There were fifty-two of these inspection trips, on which approximately 5000 persons were present. The personnel of the official surveys covered a widely varied field, including railroad and steamship officials, engineering societies, municipal leagues, schools, builders' association and industrial heads. In addition, Mr. Edwards figures, there were as many more excursions conducted by various Southern California chambers of commerce and other organizations.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Sale of the steam schooners Hoquiam and Tahoe by Hawes & Andrews to J. R. Christie, and the steamer Griffdu to Charles Nelson & Co. by James Griffiths & Son, was announced here today.

With 165 cabin and 148 steerage passengers, the Dollar liner President Cleveland arrived here today from the Far East. The Cleveland brought in 5412 tons of cargo, including 268 bales of raw Japanese silk.

With every berth occupied and with her cargo holds filled to capacity, the Matson Line steamship Wilhelmina, sailed today for Honolulu.

James Griffiths, well-known Pacific Coast shipping man, has been appointed general manager of the Alaska Transportation Company, with offices at Seattle, it was announced by S. A. Perkins, president of the company.

SEATTLE, July 29.—An exclusive passenger list comprising the members of the Los Angeles commandery of the Knights Templar will sail on the steamship Alameda for Southern Alaska points at 9 o'clock tomorrow night. The Alameda will call at Sitka and other points not usually made on the Southeastern Alaska trip. The party will include 230 Knights Templar and their wives.

The Japanese motorship Atago Maru, which sailed from Yokohama the 20th inst., is expected to arrive here August 7 with a cargo of 2610 bales of raw silk and about fifty cases of silk goods.

The Blue Funnel Line steamship Achilles with Capt. W. Melling, arrived here today from Vancouver, B. C., with a cargo of general Oriental freight for local distribution. She will shift to Tacoma to discharge additional cargo and is to return here Monday. Capt. Melling will be relieved by Capt. W. Hill, who is expected to arrive here next week.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 29.—The Yamashita Company expects the Japanese steamship Gyoko Maru here early next week to carry a full cargo of lumber for the Orient. The steamer, which is the first of the Yamashita fleet to be sent here in several months, will load 600,000 feet of lumber, after which it will proceed to Coos Bay to take around 2,000,000 feet. It will return to Portland to complete.

Mitsui & Co. dispatched the steamer Kinkasan Maru from the Columbia River today en route for Japan via Seattle. The Kinkasan Maru loaded lumber and steel scrap here and at St. Helens.

A slight increase in the amount of Japanese lumber buying is expected to be noticeable before August 21.

The Admiral Farragut of the Pacific Steamship Company's coastwise fleet, left Portland today with more than 100 passengers bound for San Francisco and Los Angeles.

With lumber loaded for Gulf coast ports, the steamer Commercial Pathfinder left downstream from Vancouver, Wash., today.

The German motorship Isis with toys and miscellaneous freight for local discharge is scheduled to dock here Sunday from European ports.

TACOMA, July 29.—To load doors and lumber for European delivery, the Dutch vessel Noorderdyk is expected to arrive from Sound ports early tomorrow morning. She is bringing some inbound cargo for discharge here. Also coming tomorrow is the Arizonan, which will drop large shipments of pipe from the east coast. The vessel will take about 7,000,000 shingles in addition to more than 2600 tons of Oriental merchandise.

Bringing Oriental cargo, the Blue Funnel steamship Achilles is due from Sound ports tomorrow. She will load close to 1,000,000 feet of lumber for the return trip.

To load lumber for the Orient, the Toyama Maru arrived from Seattle this morning. The Africa Maru also to load lumber for the Orient docked this morning from the same port.

With the discharge of some 2600 tons of freight from the Orient finished, the London Maru left tonight for Vancouver. She will return early next week to load about 1,000,000 feet of lumber.

After taking general freight, the Henry S. Grove left for Seattle early this morning. The Jane Nettleton departed for Everett also this afternoon, but will return some time tomorrow for lumber. Coming to take freight for the Hawaiian Islands, the Makiki moored this morning. She left tonight for Seattle.

PRINCE RUPERT (B. C.) July 29.—The H.M.S. Capetown, British light cruiser, operating from the Bermuda base, arrived here at noon today on its annual visit to the Pacific Coast. Commander Knowles of the vessel reported no mishaps were encountered on the eight days' voyage from Honolulu.

THE DARING OF A DOG

After Being Run Over by a Train Shows No Signs of Fright

C. I. Ratliff, foreman of the Oswego Independent's printing plant, relates the following incident as the most thrilling he ever witnessed. He was driving on the road between Oswego and Columbus recently, where the road parallels the Frisco tracks. A long railroad trestle spans the low bottom land and sitting serenely in the middle of the tracks, head and ears erect, was a small black and tan dog, while bearing down on him from the west was passenger train No. 306, the heaviest and fastest train on the Frisco. It was apparent that the doggie had no idea of sidetracking for the oncoming train, so Ratliff stopped his car to witness the impending tragedy. When the pilot of the big engine reached him, the little dog ducked neatly to the center of the rails, and as the engine and the tender and the various cars of the train passed over him the little fellow would bob up and down like a target in a shooting gallery. When the train finally cleared him, the dog bobbed up, head and ears erect, and he about faced to watch the departing observation platform on the rear car, apparently as serene as before and with every indication of having enjoyed the experience immensely while the observers at the side of the road had been sitting with their hearts in their throats.—[Oswego Independent.

GETTING EVEN

Counsel for the prosecution had been rather sacrastic about the age of the youthful doctor who was one of the important witnesses for the defense, but now he reached a point where his cross-examination had to be serious.

"You are familiar," queried the lawyer, "with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

"I am," replied the young physician grimly.

"Then, if Mr. Smith"—waving his hand toward the defendant—"and I banged our heads together, should we get concussion of the brain?"

"Well," said the doctor, deliberately, "Mr. Smith might."—[Unidentified.

MOTHER AND BABE JAILED IN TAX ROW

Woman Refuses to Pay Levy; Fellow-Prisoners Raise Fund for Release

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—Mrs. Addie Sterling, 28 years of age, wife of a New Hope barber, and her 6-month-old daughter spent three hours in the County Jail at Doylestown for refusing to pay her school tax.

She was committed to prison by Justice of the Peace Clinton Oblinger, in New Hope, when she prevented her husband from paying the per capita school tax of $3, and declared she would go to jail for a short vacation.

Later, however, her husband paid the tax and she was released. In the meantime, the thirty-eight prisoners in the jail, hearing of her commitment, took up a collection of $7, covering the tax and the constable's cost of $4, and presented it to the jailkeeper to obtain her freedom.

Mrs. Sterling is the second woman committed to the Doylestown jail in a year for refusing to pay the school tax. She insisted she did not see why she should be forced to pay a school tax.

Magistrate Oblinger explained the law in detail, and her husband pleaded he be permitted to pay the tax. Mrs. Sterling remained defiant. Then, when the Justice of the peace saw further efforts were to no avail, he ordered John Hartman, his constable, to take her to jail.

Mrs. Sterling amazed Grant Myers, head keeper of the County Jail, when she appeared there carrying her infant in her arms and in the custody of the constable. He was in a quandary as to what to do with the baby when he saw a commitment only for the mother.

The child screamed when an attempt was made to take her from her mother, and finally the keeper permitted Mrs. Sterling to keep the child until she was released.

GREEK STATUE FOUND BY FISHERMEN IN SEA

ART TREASURE ATTRACTING ATTENTION IN ATHENS, SAYS LETTER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GALVESTON (Tex.) July 29.—From depth of the ocean, off the coast of Greece, there was recently brought to light an art treasure which is attracting great attention in Athens, according to a letter received here from Mrs. Marie Economidy of Galveston, who is on a visit to her old home in Greece.

"The Greek sea gave up one more art treasure when fishermen, diving at the Bay of Marathon, discovered and brought to the surface a bronze statue of a youth," Mrs. Economidy says in her letter. "It is the most beautiful of all bronze statues that the sea has kept in her bosom for centuries, for with the exception of the charioteer of Delphi, all our bronze statues came from the sea. It is 1.30 centimeters high, holding something in the left hand and raising aloft the right. With the exception of the toes of the right foot, the statue is in perfect condition."

German Borgia Doomed to Die on Guillotine

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STRASBURG, July 29.—Mrs. Wilhelm Soumann, known as the "Borgia of Lorquin," has been condemned to die by the guillotine for her role in several poisonings.

Paul Lebrun, her accomplice, has started on a twenty-year term in prison. Every move to change the death sentence to life imprisonment has failed.

RACIAL CLASH IN AFRICA FEARED

Passive Resistance of Native Woman Significant

Blacks Outnumber Whites in South Union

Natives Learn to Look on Race as Expropriated

BY G. WARD PRICE

[Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved]

LIVINGSTONE (South Africa) July 29.—One problem only matters in South Africa today—the threatening clash between black and white. This racial danger dwarfs into insignificance all other questions.

Hitherto the good temper and happy disposition of the native races have kept them in the subordination to which they were reduced by the stern methods of the earlier white settlers, especially the Dutch.

STILL A FIGHTING STOCK

But they are still a fighting stock and are being worked upon by new and powerful influences. The growth of the spirit of opposition among them was instanced in Johannesburg last week, when an order that native women out of doors after 10 p.m. must carry passes was met by a campaign of passive resistance, in which black women of undoubted good character courted arrest. It is the best educated among the natives that are often the centers of disaffection.

From time to time the very efficient native intelligence department of the South African police discovers traces of the activity of the Omalita, a blood-thirsty native secret society, whose members take an oath to kill a man, whether white, black or half-breed, before they die. Seventeen of them were arrested in the Transvaal only a few weeks ago, and one, who was struck down as he tried to murder a policeman, was a man who had served six years as cook in a Pretoria hotel.

There are certain zones where natives can still live their old life and white men are not allowed to acquire territory. Basutoland is one of these, but it is full to overflowing. Its habitable ground is the most thickly populated part of South Africa, with forty-two native inhabitants to the square mile. It is cultivated to the limits of possibility, yet just across the border lie in provocative contrast the half-exploited farms of white settlers. Meanwhile, like all other native tribes of South Africa, the 500,000 Basutos are increasing far more rapidly than their white masters, with no outlet for their numbers.

What makes the black man's resentment against such conditions potentially formidable is that within the union of South Africa itself he and his kind number 5,400,000, compared with 1,500,000 whites, while, if you include the adjoining native territories of Swaziland, Basutoland and Bechuanaland, together with Rhodesia and Southwest Africa, you add another 2,700,000 blacks, but only 61,000 whites.

From economic to physical struggle has always been an easy passage. No one who visits South Africa with his eyes open can avoid reflection on the possibility of events taking that course here. In town and country alike he sees black men outnumbering white by five to one, held permanently, and so far submissively, to the role of hewers of wood and drawers of water, excluded from the franchise except in the Cape province, owning only 8 per cent of the land in a country where they form 85 per cent of the population, yet gradually being imbued, through travel, education, easy communication and the growth of a native press, with the belief that they are an expropriated race.

Farmer Shoots Self Instead of Chicken Thieves

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 29. John Schroeder, well-known poultry man and farmer, residing near Floresville, Tex., almost severed his right arm as the result of an accidental gunshot. Schroeder is in the poultry business on a large scale and on two different occasions recently chicken thieves have visited his place and made heavy hauls.

The other night they took about 200 hens, young pullets and cockerels. Subsequently they visited his chicken-house again and as the intruders were making their way across a field to their car, Schroeder jumped in his car in an effort to head them off. As he attempted to back out of his garage his pump gun was discharged and the entire load of No. 2 shot tore into his right arm near the shoulder.

NATIONAL FRATERNAL CONGRESS WILL MEET

ALL STATES AND CANADA TO BE REPRESENTED AT DULUTH CONVENTION

CHICAGO, July 29.—Representing 100 societies carrying death benefit protection on 5,000,000 American families, the National Fraternal Congress of America will meet at Duluth, Minn., the week beginning August 10. Every State and several of the Canadian provinces will be represented by delegates who will come from societies composed of various classes of American life. Many of the societies draw their members from one nationality, one religion or one trade, and their officers find no difficulty in meeting on a common ground to discuss and enact laws for their mutual welfare. Catholics, Jews and Protestants are active in the organization.

Women's societies are active in the congress. Miss Bina M. West, supreme commander of the Woman's Benefit Association, is vice-president.

The first day's meeting will be divided into sections of the presidents, secretaries, attorneys, medical directors, editors and actuaries. On Tuesday, August 11, Gov. Theodore Christianson will welcome the convention to Minnesota, and Insurance Commissioner George W. Wells, Jr., will deliver an address on fraternal insurance.

DEATHS

With Funeral Announcements

A WORD OF COMFORT

Some people are like the ground-squirrels which, after feeding on succulent vegetables and grain before they are ripe and ready for use, sleep through the months of drought. They sneer at others' faith and sincere endeavor, but sneak away from facing the hard facts of life when difficulties threaten.

Be not like unto them! Never lessen the splendid courage of your fellows. Believe what you can; doubt if you must; but never shake another man's faith.

ARRENDO. The funeral of Reynal Arrendo will be held today at 10 a.m. from chapel of Gus Alvares & Moore.

BALKINS. Martin Balkins, aged 69 years. Remains in care of George B. Remington's Funeral Home.

CHARITIES NEED AID NOW

Santa Barbara Agencies, Unable to Meet Demand Thrust Upon Them, Require Assistance

One month ago yesterday Santa Barbara was visited by the disastrous earthquake which wrought damage of several million dollars to the Channel City. The city has been valiantly struggling to repair the losses it suffered in its business and residential section, a deep wound that will take long in its healink.

Santa Barbara's business area is making vast strides in its return to normal. Banking, business and building for the past four weeks have climbed to the normal mark and the few residents who fled from the city have been replaced many times over by workmen from Los Angeles and San Francisco. Almost every building along State

BEGIN WORK ON HARBOR SEA WALL

Actual Construction of $17,000,000 Breakwater at San Pedro Starts

Actual construction work on the $17,000,000 government breakwater which will stretch from Long Beach to San Pedro was started yesterday, when the Union Pacific System began building the $60,000 track system on Terminal Island over which will pass all of the millions of tons of limestone going into the giant barrier. The first rock will be delivered during the first week in August, it was announced yesterday by J. V. Carroll, Union Pacific general agent for the harbor district.

E. E. Cunningham, superintendent of the Union Pacific, and James Aiman, terminal trainmaster of the system, yesterday completed a final survey of the area between the Badger-avenue bascule bridge and the beach at the east end of Terminal Island, on which the tracks, sidings and classification yards will be laid down.

The rock used in the construction of the new breakwater will come from widely scattered sections of Southern California. The Union Pacific System holds contracts with the government to deliver a great portion of the material from its quarries at Bly, near Riverside, while the Southern Pacific is under contract to furnish the remainder of the stone from the quarries at Declez and Chatsworth.

One hundred cars of rock will be delivered daily under the Union Pacific contracts, Mr. Carroll announced, while as construction progresses the material consumption will be increased. All material will be delivered to tidewater over the Union Pacific's new rail head.

FIND HUMAN SKULL IN DITCH AT HAWTHORNE

A human skull was found yesterday in a ditch near Oak and Lennox streets, Hawthorne. R. Carter, 675 North York Boulevard, its finder, notified Deputy Sheriffs Hanby and Hunter, who were unable to find any more bones near the spot nor any clew to identity. They said the skull had apparently been exposed a year or more. It showed no signs of violence.

RIVER CONFEREES TO LEAVE

California Committee for Phoenix Water Parley Confronted by Obstacle at Outset

Faced with the preliminary task of determining which of two rival committees has proper authorization to represent the State or Arizona in a tri-State discussion of Colorado River problems, the four members of the California Legislature's Colorado conference committee will leave Los Angeles Tuesday for Phoenix, Ariz., where efforts will be made to effect an agreement between California, Arizona and Nevada on the partition of the water.

Early agreement on a plan calculated to receive the indorsement of the people of the several States has been made difficult by the controversy between the State Legislature of Arizona and Gov. Hunt, the Governor declining to approve a legislative committee appointed by the Arizona Senate and Assembly and naming a substitute committee which refuses to recognize and is given no recognition by the Senatorial and Assembly representatives.

Assemblyman Walter Little of Los Angeles, Assemblyman Finney of Imperial Valley and Senators Swing and Dennett constitute the California committee.

The general plans of the committee have not been announced, but it is the conviction of Assemblyman Little that "the committee from California should go to Arizona with an open mind and with no 'program' or preconceived plan to put over."

"The Colorado problem already has become so mixed up with State and local politics," asserted Mr. Little, "as to present many perplexing angles not properly a part of the real issue. The whole matter

MARY STAMPEDES COURT

Ovation Given Miss Pickford at Trial; State Wins Important Victory in Kidnap Case

Mary Pickford, "in person," swept everything before her in Judge McLucas's court late yesterday when she took the witness stand for the prosecution and faced the three men charged by the State of California with conspiring to kidnap her and hold her for $200,000 ransom.

Her appearance was the signal for a dramatic demonstration followed by a signal victory for the State when the court allowed the prosecution to introduce into evidence the three statements made by Charles Z. Steven, Claud Arthur Holcomb and Adrian James Wood, the defendants in the case.

Objections on the part of the defense to the introduction of this testimony on the ground that the statements were obtained under duress and hope of reward, and on the further grounds that the corpus delicti had not been established, were overruled by Judge McLucas and the confessions allowed to go in. This means that the State's case against the three defendants is practically completed and that the defense will shortly begin the presentation of its testimony

CLEAR TESTIMONY

Even the dramatic announcement by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney that Louis Geck, the much-discussed "Louis, the Spider," was in the courtroom and available for the defense subpoena, failed to make any impression on the crowded room that had just witnessed the arrival of Mary "America's Sweetheart," and heard her testimony from the witness chair.

The fact that Mary's evidence was of little importance, as far as the issues in the case are concerned, made no difference to the mobs that stormed the hallways and the windows and corridors adjacent to Department 15, where Judge McLucas's court was held.

Mary arrived shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Douglas Fairbanks, her husband, Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, her mother, and Robert Fairbanks, brother of Doug, were with her when she left the elevator on the eighth floor of the Hall of Records.

GREETED BY SHOUTS

Court Bailiff Charles Bryant and Deputy Sheriffs Joe Coyle and Henry Dennison, who had been struggling with the crowds all afternoon, made room for Mary as she pushed her way through the crowd. She was taken to the chambers of Judge McLucas and there, with her husband and mother, remained until called to the stand.

On her way to the courtroom Mary was greeted by loving shouts of "Hello, Mary." She walked slowly and smilingly, occasionally grasping outstretched hands in her path.

The proverbial flapper was not much in evidence in this crowd. Most of the women were of middle age, or older, and a large number of men made up the audience.

Immediately after Mary's arrival Judge McLucas ordered the usual afternoon recess. In the meantime Mary was meeting the women and men who managed to find their way into the judge's chambers.

The booming of photographers' flashlights that signaled Mary's arrival had warned everyone in adjoining rooms that she was there. Judge Crail's court, across the light well from Department Fifteen, was the scene of a manslaughter trial, with Judge Crawford on the bench.

IMPROMPTU RECEPTION

As soon as the recess was taken there, the spectators and the jury in that court flocked to the windows fronting those of Judge McLucas's chambers. In the next moment a stream of women were climbing over the window sills and onto the little roof that bridges the gap between the two wings of the Hall of Records. High above the crowds eight stories below them the women, including several jurors in the manslaughter case, rushed toward Mary and pressed against the open windows of Judge McLucas's room.

"Hello, Mary," they called out with outstretched hands.

Mary smilingly walked to the window and held an impromptu reception. A group of janitors and court attaches, frightened at this most unusual procedure, attempted to run the crowd back into Judge Crawford's court, but without much success.

A negro janitor, after ordering the women to get off the roof, spotted Douglas Fairbanks and then and there proceeded to shake hands with him. Doug was all smiles Ma Pickford, attired in dignified white, sat on a couch and smiled broadly.

Mary was plainly dressed in a dark brown, two-piece suit, with brown velour hat, dark brown shoes and tan silk hose.

CROSS-EXAMINED

Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney questioned Mary for the State. Public Defender Aggeler cross-examined her and later asked her questions in behalf of the defense. This was done to save her another trip to the court.

Miss Pickford's testimony was offered by the prosecution to offset the claim of the defense that she was not in the studio at the time the three defendants were arrested. Mary said she was there on May 30. She testified she worked at the studio every day, sometimes including holidays, but not on Sundays. Her hours, she said, were from 8 in the morning until 8 at night.

On direct examination for the defense Mary said she personally did not see the alleged conspirators when they are said to have watched her movements at the studio, but that she was told about them and was informed that they followed her in a car.

"What car did they tell you these men used in following you?"

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

HIS name—Chichibu—sounds like an Irish nursegirl chucking a baby under the chin.

But in reality he is a Japanese Prince—a pawn in a great, dangerous game of the nations—a most important young man.

THE MIKADO'S SON

Chichibu is the second son of the Mikado of Japan.

He is a sporting young person who swims, rides, shoots, plays tennis and is a star baseball pitcher.

Obviously as a great diplomatic stroke, he has taken up his residence in London "in order to saturate himself with English ideas."

He was welcomed to England by his "opposite number," the Duke of York; has taken one of the big London houses, and a general of the British army has been assigned to be his mentor.

WHY HE'S THERE

It does not require the prophetic power of the seventh son of the seventh son of a prophet to know what this means.

The Anglo-Japanese alliance ceased formally at the conclusion of the World War. But recent events in China—particularly the uncertainty of the future oriental policy of the United States—make it very important that Japan and England should be on brotherly terms.

Hence, the illustrious Chichibu has to forsake his beloved baseball and go to live in a country where they play cricket and eat roast beef.

OUR PERIL

More than this: In Chichibu's mission you can read of a peril that the United States may one day have to face.

We have become too powerful.

History stands ready to repeat itself. The fate of nations that grow too rich and too powerful is plainly written. They always rouse combinations of weaker nations against them, and are strangled by the force of numbers.

THE JAP FLAPPER

This is no joke about Chichibu and English beef, however.

A high-caste Japanese woman told me one time that the food over here is a real trial to a Japanese palate.

She said that three things strike a cultivated Japanese woman with violent disfavor:

The lack of formal politeness.

The coarseness of the meat.

The stiffness of women's clothes.

She couldn't find much fault with flapper clothing of today; she came in the days of corsets.

I asked her if she found American clothes too tight. She denied this; she said that in Japan a woman's dresses, although flappy, are really hitched around the waist tighter than American clothes.

ELEPHANTS AND GIRLS

A little Boston girl's fond papa is going to take her and her chum to Africa to hunt lions and elephants.

In which indulgent incident you can read the end of the wild game of the world.

When lion and elephant hunting become a summer recreation for flappers it shows that the battle has become too unequal.

In these days of high-powered modern rifles the beasts of the jungle no longer stand a ghost of a chance. Africa has become a revolting slaughter pen.

Hundreds of hunters "dare" the jungle every year; yet there are more deaths from mosquito bites than from lion bites.

Now that we have made the world safe for democracy it would seem very necessary to make it safe for lions and elephants.

FEAR FELT FOR TOM MIX CHILD

Actor's Daughter Declared to Have Been Annoyed

Mother of Girl Instigates Investigation of Man

Salesman Released When He Tells Story to Police

Police yesterday started to investigate the peculiar action of Edward Sorg, 40 years of age, a San Francisco salesman, toward 13-year-old Ruth Mix, daughter of Tom Mix, screen actor.

The investigation was started at the instigation of Mrs. Olive Mix, the girl's mother, who said that Sorg has been annoying Ruth for several days and she feared he would attempt to kidnap the girl.

Detective Lieutenants E. E. Haek and H. B. Kling of the Hollywood division yesterday questioned Sorg when he appeared at the Mix home, 2252 Gower street, but released him last night for lack of evidence that he intended to kidnap the girl.

CONFER TODAY

Mrs. Mix refused to sign a complaint charging Sorg with disturbing the peace until she has thought the matter over, and Sorg and Mrs. Mix will meet City Prosecutor Friedlander in the latter's office this morning to decide whether any action shall be taken.

Early Tuesday morning Sorg called up the Mix residence and obtained the address from Mrs. W. V. Brown, Mrs. Mix's mother, and that afternoon when Ruth and her mother arrived at home Sorg was waiting at the front door.

He refused to enter the house and as soon as Mrs. Mix left asked Ruth to go for a ride with him because he had something important to say, Mrs. Mix said.

Ruth refused to go and Sorg left, but later in the day called up and said that he would come around yesterday.

Yesterday morning he telephoned and later went to the Mix residence, where Detectives Hack and Kling were waiting.

SURPRISE MEETING

They took him to the Hollywood Police Station and later to the City Prosecutor's office for questioning, where Sorg admitted his peculiar actions, but explained that his step-daughter, Margery Sorg, knew Ruth several years ago, and he wanted to arrange a surprise meeting, police say.

Miss Mix admits that she knew the Sorg girl, but says that she saw Sorg only twice and did not remember him until he made himself known by talking of details of the children's play two years ago.

Sorg's two refusals to enter the Mix home and the fact that he parked his car north of the Mix home, and was said by Mrs. Mix to have the curtains drawn, coupled with the fact that he could not satisfactorily explain how he obtained the Mix telephone number, which is not listed, aroused Mrs. Mix's suspicions that an attempt was to be made to kidnap her daughter, she said.

Sorg steadfastly refused to admit that he had any intention of performing an overt act, and maintained as an explanation of his actions his desire to arrange a meeting between Miss Mix and his step-daughter.

With his family, Sorg two years ago moved from his home in Alvarado street, near the Mix residence, he said. Since that time he has been a salesman in San Francisco, and only recently returned to Hollywood. He has not yet made connections with any local firm, according to the police.

Since she was 5 years of age Miss Mix has been on the stage or in pictures. Recently she signed a contract with Ward Le Salle to star in a series of screen productions.

Mrs. Olive Mix was divorced from Tom Mix several years ago, and he has since remarried.

YOUTHFUL HEIR HOMELESS

Boy Who Will Inherit Fortune in Custody of Sheriff Until Dispute is Settled

Although 3-year-old Thomas Dudley Arkle, heir to an estate valued at approximately $200,000, was awarded by the Kentucky courts into the custody of his father and by a California court to the guardianship of his grandmother in Van Nuys, he is still, according to court testimony yesterday, a boy without a home.

Thomas Dudley Arkle

This unique situation developed in Superior Judge Shaw's court yesterday afternoon when the boy, over whom a dispute between the father, J. Alwyn Arkle, and the grandmother, Mrs. Maggie-Belle Drake of Van Nuys, has been waged during the last week, was remanded to Sheriff Traeger's consideration for disposition until guardianship hearings, September 15.

CLIMAX TO FIGHT

The fight over the boy was climaxed yesterday when Mrs. Drake obtained a writ of habeas corpus as a result of seizure of the boy Tuesday night by deputy sheriffs on a court order from Judge Guerin. This writ was subsequently denied at the court hearing following revelations of a strenuous fight waged by Mrs. Drake and another woman with kitchen chairs to prevent Deputy Sheriffs Mrs. De Wolfe and Carl Wallick from obtaining possession of the boy.

The aid of Deputy Sheriffs Coulter and Harris was necessary, it was said, before the boy could be taken from the house. At yesterday's hearing the boy was ordered returned to Mrs. Drake's home last night in the custody of Deputy Sheriff De Wolfe until Sheriff Traeger decided tempopary disposition this morning.

According to testimony in the court, Arkle, who once lived in Kentucky with his wife, Whitney Lee Arkle, was awarded custody of the child some time ago. Before he could obtain the child, it was said, his wife left for Los Angeles and here obtained a guardianship in the name of Mrs. Drake, the grandmother. Mrs. Arkle died here on August 24, 1924.

HEARING TRANSFERRED

It was also decided by Judge Shaw that the letters of administration for the estate of the boy, which are now held by the grandmother were void until the September 15 hearing. Yesterday's hearing was later transferred to Judge Guerin's court, who had issued the original order remanding the child to the Sheriff's custody, and Mrs. De Wolfe was ordered to spend the night at the Drake home.

Before the hearing was dismissed Mrs. Drake shook hands with Mrs. De Wolfe and promised she would experience no trouble. W. I. Gilbert, attorney, represented Mrs. Drake, while Jones, Wilson & Stephenson represented the father.

DR. SHULER FAILS TO APPEAR AS SPEEDER

Rev. Bob Shuler yesterday notified Police Judge Richardson, by letter, that he on a lecture trip and could not appear in court to be tried on two traffic charges—failing to make a boulevard stop at Mission Road and speeding past the General Hospital at thirty-two miles an hour. Police Judge Richardson did not issue a bench warrant, but adjourned the cases to August 4, next, at 10 am. Shuler is said to admit failing to stop, but denies speeding. He was tagged last week by Motorcycle Officer Bayer.

Rich Contractor Writes That He Was Kidnaped

Search for James R. Durham, wealthy contractor, who disappeared from the Hotel Maryland, San Pedro, on the 5th inst., and whose safety was feared, ended yesterday with receipt of a letter from Stockton, supposedly from Durham, in which he said he was kidnaped by two men in a sedan and carried north.

The two men are now in custody of the Stockton police, he said, and are awaiting arraignment on felony charges.

CHURCH FACTION TO ASK REDRESS

Ousted Members Planning Council Protest

Resolution Adopted Praises Dr. Dyer's Services

Twenty-one Declare Fair Hearing Denied

An appeal to the State courts, if they so desired, appeared yesterday to be the only effective redress for the twenty-one men and women who were ousted from membership in the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church at Tuesday night's stormy meeting.

After the passage of the motion, by a vote of 200 to 118, granting letters to the twenty-one members, a resolution offered by one of the ousted members protesting the ouster and asking that the matter be laid before the council of the Southern California Congregational Conference, was voted down by acclamation. Spokesmen for the ousted members announced immediately after the meeting that they will protest their treatment to an ex-parte council of the council.

ACT AS ADVISORS

An authority on ecclesiastical law and procedure of the Congregational churches pointed out yesterday that while the dissenters have the right to appeal to an ex-parte council, such council can act only in an advisory and not a mandatory capacity toward the Wilshire Congregational Church, should the council sustain the objections of the dissenters. Those ousted protested their being removed on the ground that they were not given a fair hearing before the vote on the ouster was taken, and that no specific charges were made against them.

It was pointed out that as members of the church, the twenty-one members were members of a corporation, and as such could fight their removal from the corporation in the courts. Spokesmen for the dissenters announced yesterday that they had no definite plans laid as to what procedure to follow.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

The ousting of the twenty-one members as ringleaders in the fight on Rev. Frank Dyer, pastor of the church, was preceded by the adoption, by acclamation, of the following resolution commending Dr. Dyer, ordering his retainment on a ten-year contract, and pledging support:

> We, the members of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church, in special meeting assembled, desire to tender to Rev. Frank Dyer, D.D., our pastor, expressions of our appreciation, devotion and confidence.
> You have done more for us than we had a right to demand or request. You called us together and welded us into a church; you led us with rare skill and power in promoting, developing and financing our great project.
> It was your efforts, your personality, your courage, your faith, which inspired the confidence and co-operation which has secured for us and this city one of the finest Congregational church buildings in the world.
> You have been willing to engage in hundreds of interviews, conferences and committee meetings with an endurance which we consider amazing, that all who were entitled might have a voice and vote in reaching the great end in view.
> You have also given us a great pulpit ministry, ever lifting our minds and hearts into the highest realms of the Christian faith. Because of what you are and what you have done for us, with Mrs. Dyer and your four sons, we express to you our admiration, our devotion, our love.
> We ask you to continue with us as our pastor and leader through the years to come, that you may enjoy the fruits of your labor and lead us to the completion of the whole task of the remaining units of the church and to preach to us the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to secure your leadership we instruct the officers of the church to sign a contract with you for ten (10) years at not less than your present salary. We promise to you all the assistance you may need in carrying forward the work successfully and triumphantly, and we pledge to you our complete co-operation in all good works.

STATE HELD SUPERIOR TO EAST COAST

Chicagoan Says California Eclipses Florida as Place for Spending Vacation

California has it all over Florida as a place to spend a vacation, winter, summer or in between times, says Robert F. Carr of Chicago, president of the Dearborn Chemical Company of that city, which is one of the largest concerns of its kind in the world.

Carr arrived at the Biltmore yesterday for a brief visit here after an absence of eight years. He expressed amazement at the growth of the city in that time.

"I used to come here every winter some years ago, but more recently I have discontinued my winter vacation," said Carr. "Last winter I was in Florida for a short time, but did not find it much to my liking. Too crowded, and there's nothing to see but the ocean and nothing to do but swim or perhaps play golf. What I like about California, aside from the climate, is the diversity of recreation offered here and the scenic attractions."

The company of which Carr is the head has for some time maintained a warehouse and distributing facilities for its product in Los Angeles.

"We are now contemplating the erection of our own building here," said Carr, "as our Pacific Coast business has grown to the point where such a step is justifiable. Aside from the Coast business we export from Los Angeles Harbor to Hawaii, the Philippines and other places in the Orient."

The commodities manufactured by the Dearborn Chemical Company include substances used in purifying water, lubricants and preparations to prevent the rusting of water pipes and other construction material.

SCREEN DIRECTOR PAYS VISIT TO JAIL

Henry Lehrman, motion-picture director and producer, spent a minute or so in the County Jail early yesterday when he was arrested by Deputy Constables Peters and Kunow on a speeding charge from San Diego. He soon arranged $100 bail and was released.

PEPALL FREE ON HUGE BAIL

Ex-Fiscal Agent of Ontario, Held on Embezzlement Charge, Furnishes $300,000 Cash

Andrew H. Pepall, former fiscal agent for the Canadian Province of Ontario, is now at liberty on $300,000 cash bail in Toronto, according to H. A. Massey, attorney for the Canadian Consulate in Los Angeles, who received a wire yesterday from Toronto.

Pepall's trial has been set over until the October term.

Two Canadian officers spirited the Long Beach glass manufacturer from the Los Angeles County Jail more than two weeks ago and boarded a steamer for Seattle. At San Francisco the presence of the two officers and Pepall was disclosed by an officer of the boat.

Pepall's fight against extradition from Los Angeles on a Canadian indictment charging embezzlement of $381,000 of the Province's funds while redeeming a war-bond issue in London, extended over a year and was fraught with bitter legal warfare. The case was carried by defense attorneys to Secretary of State Kellogg, who upheld the decision of United States Commissioner Turney to hold Pepall for extradition. Pepall was kept in jail here without bail. His last plaint, the day before he was removed from jail by Canadian sleuths, was that "a year ago Andy Pepall was worth $750,000. I doubt if he has more than $100,000 now."

SHAVER TUNNEL TO BE STARTED

Creek with a nine and a half foot steel pipe, with a tunnel to Pitman Creek, which will also be crossed with a nine and a half foot steel pipe, then by a thirteen-foot tunnel through the mountains to Shaver Lake. The total length of the tunnel will be about five and one-third miles.

The retaining dam at Shaver Lake will be below the present lake and will be 250 feet thick at the base, with a height of approximately 190 feet.

With the completion of the Huntington-Shaver Lake tunnel, the Southern California Edison Company will have finished approximately thirty miles of tunnel since it resumed active construction operations following the war. These include the tunnel constructed for diverting the waters of the Kern River for the No. 3 power house near Kernville, the Music Mountain tunnel, which connects Shaver Lake with the San Joaquin River gorge, and the six-mile diversion tunnel which carries the waters of the San Joaquin River on a level with the dam constructed to impound the waters of the San Joaquin River gorge for the No. 4 power house.

GREAT INCREASE

On completion of the work just authorized, the company will have a continuous supply of hydroelectric energy which will be assured from three reservoirs having an aggregate capacity of 288,000 acre feet. In addition to this hydroelectric resource, the company now has 240,000 horsepower of steam generating capacity, which will probably be increased proportionately as the new hydroelectric horsepower is developed.

Total expenditure for water power construction, reservoirs, power houses, transmission lines, on completion of the newly authorized project, will bring the company's investment at Big Creek to $123,000,000. In addition to the expenditure for water power development in the next few years, the company will spend large sums for additions to its distribution system in order to take care of the rapidly increasing number of new customers.

All estimates have been worked out on carefully charted growth curves of population and business in the thirty-one distribution districts of the company, which are located in the principal business centers of Los Angeles county, and the counties of San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Kern, Tulare, Kings and Fresno, and to a certain extent in San Diego county, where the company disposes of a large quantity of power at wholesale.

In commenting on the new program, R. H. Ballard, executive vice-president and general manager, said:

"We feel absolutely certain that in the course of time an additional population of 2,250,000 will be located in our service territory. If we did not, we would not be building for it. Where it will be located depends entirely upon the degree of human initiative and enterprise displayed by the people of the 300 communities that we serve."

WATER ENVOYS LEAVE TUESDAY

is one of economics and should be treated as such. If Arizona, California and Nevada can get together on a fair, square plan and obtain the indorsement of the upper-basin States the entire Southwest will benefit.

"I do not think we should regard the proposition solely from the standpoint of Californians or Arizonans, but should approach it in a spirit of co-operation and good will. There are politicians and extremists in all of the interested States who are determined to gain an advantage or force their own views upon the people as a whole. As long as we permit these meddlers and trouble makers to interfere we shall have no Colorado development."

It is the opinion of Mr. Little that the tri-State conference in Phoenix next week should confine itself to the question of water distribution, leaving the power development project for later consideration, when the plans of the Federal government can be more definitely obtained.

STATES NEED BENEFITS

"All of the States need the benefits that will come from development of the Colorado," said the California Assemblyman, "and there is not a single State either in the upper or lower basin that can seize special rights or advantages without injuring the whole Southwest territory.

"Regardless of the plans or schemes of any individual or group in this State, my own investigation of the Colorado project has established in my own mind the fact that the people of California do not want to jeopardize any improvement or project in Arizona or to obtain for this State any privileges or resources rightfully belonging to any of the other States."

It is believed that the California legislators will be disposed to accept the credentials of the Arizona legislative commission and ignore the personal representatives of Gov. Hunt, but it is thought possible that an effort to compose the differences of the Arizona factions may be made through a proposal that both committees sit with the representatives of the other States.

Whatever decision is reached will be wholly in the nature of an informal agreement to be submitted either to the legislatures or directly to the people of the different States.

SANTA BARBARA IN NEED OF AID

street is flanked by staging that swarm with workmen. Vacant houses are scarce and home building is progressing rapidly.

But Santa Barbara's charitable agencies still feel the pain of the wound inflicted upon them by the earthquake. They are in urgent need of assistance. The buildings of several of the agencies were destroyed. Their duties have become too heavy since the earthquake to be met without outside financial assistance. That the charities may be sustained, the California Development Association recently launched a campaign for $1,100,000.

Only through such a campaign for funds can the charitable agencies hope to survive. And it is a fund that is being solicited solely in California, Californians believing that their own State is well able to care for its own afflicted.

The fund is to be utilized in rebuilding destroyed hospitals, in repairing damaged orphanages, in providing temporary classrooms for the school children whose schools were destroyed by the earthquake, in rehabilitating the poor home owner and shopkeeper who are unable to scramble out of the wreckage of the disaster without a helping hand.

IN NEED OF AID

Among the numerous beneficiaries who will be aided by the $1,100,000 emergency fund are some of those unfortunates whose total wealth was a job. There were many such victims of the earthquake. They resided in rooming-houses and hotels, without families and many without friends.

When the earthquake struck the city hundreds of young women were employed in the business area. Many of them escaped only with their lives. They lost their clothing and all their meager possessions in the ruins. Their positions disappeared in the crumbling buildings where they were employed. Since the disaster a majority of these unfortunates have been thrust upon the charities for maintenance, but the charities are crippled—also having suffered severe losses—and unable to give their wards the attention and care that are required for them. For them every Californian is asked to donate a mite to the emergency fund.

FILM COLONY PLANS MISSION AID DRIVE

Members of the motion-picture colony were organized into a committee yesterday to aid in the restoration of the old Santa Barbara Mission. Rod La Rocque was appointed chairman. He will be assisted by Mrs. Cecil B. De Mille and Joseph Schenck, and on the committee's roster appear the names of thirty of the leading figures in the motion-picture profession.

Subcommittees in charge of various industries in Los Angeles are also being organized. These groups will consist of:

Hotels, under the direction of Charles Baad; physicians, directed by Dr. George H. Kress; attorneys, by John G. Mott; Superior Judge L. H. Valentine and W. J. Hunsaker. Contributions should be sent in care of Henry M. Robinson, First National Bank.

SENNETT ON STAND IN TRIAL

Producer Denies Title of 'Yukon Jake' Film Violates Copyright Statute

Mack Sennett, film producer, occupied the stand most of yesterday before United States Judge James, in the copyright suit over the film "Yukon Jake." E. E. Paramore of Carmel asserts the title was taken from his copyright poem of that name.

Sennett swore he had wired the copyright office in Washington two weeks before the film was finished and was informed the word's "Yukon Jake" were not copyrighted as a film title. The film had been finished a month, he said, before he received a letter from Paramore informing him that the poem was copyright under that title and that any use of it would be considered an infringement.

Testimony closed yesterday and the case will be argued today.

TOUR BUREAU OPENS OFFICES IN BAGDAD

Thomas Cook & Son announce the opening of a branch of their Travel Service Bureau in Bagdad. In conjunction with the Iraq Railway and motor-car service, the bureau now offers easy tours to the sites of ancient Babylon, Nineveh, Kish, Ur of the Chaldes and other famous cities in the "cradle of the world's history." By the overland desert route Bagdad is now only nine days' journey from London, within the compass of an ordinary holiday, the announcement says.

Man Accused of Extortion Held by Court

F. J. Fisher was held to answer yesterday in Justice Marchetti's court after three badges he is asserted to have had in his possession were produced—one a Federal badge as detective investigator, one as a Los Angeles motorcycle policeman, and one as a San Bernardino county deputy sheriff. Fisher was charged with extortion and grand larceny.

With F. C. Parrish, a deputy sheriff, it was testified, he raided the place of Helen Williams, 1018 South Hope street, and took $50 to let the Williams woman and another go. Parrish and William Christianson, also a deputy sheriff, were arrested also but released when they showed they were not present when the money was paid. They said they thought Fisher was an officer and acting in good faith.

CHARITIES HEAD GIVES CLUB TALK

W. H. Holland Has Praise for Efficiency of Officials in County Department

"When we find a person in need, our first business should be to render assistance and investigate afterward," declared W. H. Holland, superintendent of county charities, in his address yesterday before the Masonic Club at the Alexandria.

"Of course, officials of the county charities are always on the lookout for professional beggars, and they get so they can tell an imposter a mile away," said Mr. Holland.

Giving a brief account of the work being done at the General Hospital, County Farm, and other county institutions, Mr. Holland rendered tributes of praise to the various officials for their efficiency and industry.

"The most expensive department of the county charity work is the outdoor relief bureau," said the speaker. "This morning's report shows that at present 6034 cases are being cared for. The total budget for county charities this year is less than $6,000,000, and $2,000,000 of this goes to the General Hospital. The income from our dairy at the county farm and from other sources amounts to about $1,000,000.

Irving J. Mitchell, president of the Masonic Club, announced that the membership of the organization is growing rapidly, and said the club's new building on Grand avenue will be ready for occupancy about October 1 of this year.

PURCHASING AGENTS PICK LOS ANGELES

Three Thousand of Them Representing Billions in Trade to Meet Next June

Three thousand purchasing agents, representing business interests all over the country, whose combined annual purchases aggregate more than $6,000,000,000, will come to Los Angeles next June, when the annual convention of the National Association of Purchasing Agents will take place here.

This information was contained in dispatches received yesterday to the effect that the association at its annual convention this year, just concluded in Milwaukee, chose Los Angeles as its next meeting place after considering invitations from a large number of cities.

Convention headquarters will be at the Ambassador, where the large horse show arena, covering 32,000 square feet of floor space, will be utilized for an exposition of industrial products from all parts of the United States during the period of the convention.

Lamp Company Defendant in Suit on Patent

The General Electric Company, through J. R. Lovejoy, a vice-president, yesterday filed suit in the United States District Court against the Angelus Lamp Works and Frank Toplitzky and B. D. Forbes, two of its officials. The General Electric charges infringement of patents of Mazda lamps and asks an injunction and an accounting of profits for the past six years. The Angelus Lamp Works had purchased burnt-out lamps made under General Electric patents, and refilled them, it is charged.

FASCISM

As nearly as one at this distance can understand it, the theory of Fascism seems to be that the iron hand sometimes is necessary in order to escape the iron heel.

HEALTH CONTROL?

Mrs. G. W. Nutt of Clinton, Mo., has just celebrated her 100th birthday. Although the mother of twelve husky citizens, she says she has never been ill a day.

HOPEFUD NEWS

The ice crown of Popocatapetl is melting and every geography pupil in the world will be delighted if the expected avalanches sweep off at least three of its surplus syllables.

JUNGLE BEAST

The number of cases of blindness resulting from wood alcohol poisoning seems to be steadily on the increase. The blind tiger isn't a man-eater, but it is pretty certain to scratch a man's eyes out sooner or later.

NEWEST AFRICA

They are having a vigorous building boom in South Africa. Folks who imagine that the Africans live in grass huts and wear bone beads ought to see some of the bungalows they are putting up. Some sections of the dark continent are getting as white as the cliffs of Dover.

WASTED GAS

The head of a research corporation says 95 per cent of the gas used in automobiles goes to waste. We may get by, at that, for Mother Earth still has quite a lot of gasoline in her bosom, but because of our wastefulness our grandchildren may have to do some real worrying.

MEDICAL GREGARIOUSNESS

Fifty-four Pasadena doctors have chipped in together and built a $500,000 medical building, eight stories high, proving to the world that birds of a feather flock together. Instead of leaving hope behind, those who enter this building are supposed to emerge somewhat poorer in pocket, but as full of pep as an overhauled flivver.

AS YOU LIKE IT

Will H. Hays, pooh-bah of the Motion-Picture Producers and Distributors of America, told the Woman's Club of Philadelphia that: "The producers are only too eager to provide the best quality of pictures, if they will be properly patronized." It all depends upon the patronage. But doctors and nurses have learned that it doesn't pay to give people everything they want. The Kafirs have an adage—people come to like what they look at longest. If only the "best quality of pictures" were produced there would be no other kinds to patronize.

NO BLUE SMOKE

The scientist tells us that the smoke from good tobacco looks blue because it isn't. On top of that the lady crusader says that all tobacco is bad. There is no such thing as good tobacco. Then, of course, there wouldn't be any blue smoke, so the scientist was right in the first place. However, the professor explains that the smoke from whatever it is we call tobacco is really of a dark-brown color. It is the light waves that make it look blue. Sometimes smoking drives away the blues and perhaps a man's psychic emanations give his smoke its bluish cast.

SOMETHING ON FOOT

Rolled stockings were formally discarded by the censors of the Chicago Fashion Show. They are not considered good form and girls with good forms are not supposed to wear them. The stocking that is supported from a girdle is once more correct and is more desirable for active and athletic damsels than the one held up by a tight garter. This, however, may be only the Chicago idea and is merely given for what it is worth. The Hollywood queens may hold differently. They may persist in rolling their own or continue painting their legs to resemble stockings.

MANY KILLINGS

Measured by the police reports of Chicago a heavy percentage of murdering may be attributed to illicit booze. A summary made by the Chicago chief shows that there were 238 killings by violence in his city during the first six months of this year. Of the total included in the Chicago report only fifteen murders were perpetrated during attempts at robbery. The Chicago folk have been trained to nonresistance during the various hold-up processes. Lumping the cases of murder, manslaughter and justifiable homicide as listed by the Coroner seventy-one killings were the result of family embroilment or quarrels between friends. In a majority of these cases bad liquor started the trouble. There were also a dozen other murders that were merely drunken brawls. So it may be definitely understood that illicit booze has very much to do with establishing Chicago's unenviable reputation as a city of violence and bloodshed.

PLAZA TERMINAL VICTORY

The ten-year fight for a union terminal depot at the Plaza site has apparently been won. In its decision the Interstate Commerce Commission finds that public convenience and necessity require and will require the unification of railroad terminals in Los Angeles and that the proper location for such unit is the Plaza district.

As The Times predicted repeatedly during the long controversy over adequate terminal facilities for railroads entering Los Angeles the public interest has taken precedence over the individual interests of the railroad companies that fought the union terminal proposal, in a great part because it would offer facilities for competing transcontinental lines to secure terminals here.

The neck of the bottle has been broken and the present congestion in the streets in the northern end of the central business district bids fair to disappear. Time will be required to bring the Plaza project to its fruition. Some of the railroads concerned will probably ask for a rehearing. But yesterday's decision presages ultimate victory.

The importance of this decision by reason of its probable effect on the expansion and development of Los Angeles as an industrial district can hardly be overestimated. The city can now plan big things in a big way. Development of the northern end of the district can be founded on a firm basis. Streets and boulevards can be constructed, subways can be builded and industrial plants can be established with assurance that they will not be disturbed by any newly formulated transportation plan.

No case in the history of Southern California has been more bitterly contested. Led by the Southern Pacific, the railroads have used every device and technicality known alike to politics and to the law to hamper, obstruct and impede. But the city and the State have won. The public interest has proved paramount. It is but fair to the Southern Pacific Company, however, to recall that during the last year, while the case has been before the Interstate Commerce Commission, the attitude of the heads of that corporation has undergone marked modification.

While Arthur Curtiss James, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific Company, was in Los Angeles about a year ago he indicated that his company would not further oppose the Plaza terminal plan in case an adverse decision was rendered by the Interstate Commerce Commission. He then said: "To any traveler who enters Los Angeles by rail it is evident that the present conditions of approach cannot be permitted to continue. I do not predict what changes will be made; but changes of some sort must be made."

So it is apparent that the heads of the Southern Pacific Company came to realize that the marvelous growth of Los Angeles in wealth, industry and population necessitates modernized transportation facilities. A city of 1,000,000 population and billions of wealth cannot be kept in a transportation garb hardly suitable for one of 100,000 population.

Steps have already been taken by city officials to arrange for a conference with the State Railroad Commission and the officials of the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Union Pacific railroads in order to facilitate the early construction of the new Plaza terminal, together with the necessary arteries of approach. No attempt will be made to take advantage of the victory the people have won. The railroad companies must be met at least half-way. The expense which they must bear must not be made unnecessarily burdensome; and the taxpayers and property owners must stand ready to do their part in carrying through a transportation plan which will affect the expansion of the city for possibly the next 100 years.

But there must be no parsimony. The foundation laid must be broad enough to suffice when Los Angeles has reached its third million in population. We must not build alone for next year and the year after, but for the next decade and the decade after.

HAWAIIAN PROBLEMS

Some very knotty problems loom on Hawaii's horizon. Statehood is not yet sought there, nor are the islands ready for it, as Gov. Wallace R. Farrington clearly pointed out in a recent discussion of the matter in which a number of enthusiastic Americans strongly held that Hawaii should begin to knock for admission to the Union.

The race question is admitted to be one of the serious issues in the islands. According to the estimate of Prof. Romanzo Adams of the University of Hawaii, there are now 312,000 persons in the Territory, of whom at least 120,000 are Japanese. The power of the Japanese in the affairs of Hawaii is measured by their voting strength. In 1922 there were only 1135 registered Japanese voters in the Territory, although there were nearly 3000 who were American citizens of voting age. Prof. Adams takes a decidedly optimistic view of the race question and sees no reason why white Americans should fear being snowed under by the Asiatics in the future. Until 1924 the flow of Japanese immigration into Hawaii was fairly constant. In that year the impending restriction through the exclusion act caused a flocking of Japanese to the islands. After the act was passed the number of admissions dropped radically.

Prof. Adams says that the Japanese will continue to increase in numbers, but at a diminishing rate. They constituted over 42 per cent of the population in 1920, but he points out that by 1930 they will be less than 40 per cent, and then this percentage will fall rapidly until they constitute not more than 25 or 30 per cent of the total population. There will be, he estimates, only 15,000 American-born male Japanese with the power to vote in Hawaii by 1940, while the white population by that time will have immensely increased. There are about 50,000 persons of the Caucasian race in the Territory at present and about 12,000 Caucasian-Hawaiians. There are over 27,000 Portuguese, 2500 Spanish, 22,000 Filipinos and 24,000 Chinese.

Alexander Hume Ford, director of the Pan-Pacific Union, naturally takes the most optimistic view of the race situation. He says that the Japanese born in the islands make excellent citizens.

Gov. Farrington says there is less race prejudice in Hawaii than elsewhere and that the Japanese have nothing put praise for their treatment by the other residents of the islands. He says that the Japanese in Hawaii are assimilating themselves to local conditions in that they are contributing toward the good and prosperity of the islands, as they have contributed in the past.

And yet the race question is the great obstacle to the Statehood so fondly desired by many Americans. It lies not only with the Japanese, but with the Filipinos, the Chinese and other alien peoples who must find the American level, and when that goal is reached the State of Hawaii will be welcomed into the Union. Meantime the patriotic folk of the islands are not losing sight of the heritage that awaits them.

"The very fact," says Gov. Farrington, "that Statehood is absolutely out of the question at the present time is so much more reason why we should aspire to it the harder."

Yet, if Prof. Adams's estimates are correct, it will be many years before the star of Hawaii will be added to the flag. Her people are the more impatient for it because, while they have paid about $100,000,000 in Federal taxes in twenty-five years, they have received but $17,000,000 in appropriations. They think they would be granted more consideration in this respect were Hawaii a State. However, the forthcoming enormous expenditures at Pearl Harbor will tend in a way to reduce this disparity, though they will be for national and not local improvement.

REFORMING DRIVERS

The new State law under which applicants for a driver's license will be required to prove their skill and caution was long overdue.

It has taken more than twenty years to arrive at the conclusion that it is more important to know whether a person can be trusted to pilot an automobile on our crowded highways, with a proper respect for the life and safety of the public, than to merely know how to identify him after the accident.

The new law is not as strict as that of the British. In England every applicant for a driver's license must submit to numerous carefully prepared tests of skill before Scotland Yard bestows the coveted boon. Under the provisions of the new State law this will only be necessary where the Motor Vehicle Department has reason to doubt the competence of the applicant.

The traffic laws of England are comparatively few, but are rigidly enforced. "Driving to the danger of the public" is the chief crime under which motorists are arrested—and where that is proven fines are inflicted and the license indorsed. A license indorsed for the third time may be rescinded altogether in extreme cases or suspended for a year or more, in addition to a fine as heavy as $2500.

No one can honestly object when applicants for licenses are subjected to a strict examination and their past records investigated. Permitting irresponsible morons to drive cars leads to many accidents. To insist upon the capacity for responsibility in licenses is a wise preventive procedure.

ZEALOUS INVESTIGATORS

High scientific confirmation of the discovery of the specific virus of cancer turns the thoughtful mind to the laboratories where the restless workers for the relief of mankind from its manifold ills toil on by day and night year after year, through experiment after experiment and failure after failure, to secure a rarely realized success. An experimental bacteriologist must be a man of great patience and ready to make endless sacrifices. Cloistered in his laboratory among his test tubes and flasks and gazing long through his microscope, he is as much an isolated being as the astronomer in his observatory, and he peers into words fully as mysterious, as illusive and baffling to mortal mind.

Original research in the field of biology such as that of Jacques Loeb, whose artificial production of inferior animal life amazed the scientific world, or that of the patient workers who gave us salvarsan, adrenalin and the antitoxins, is of a nature which the average man of this headlong age, rushing so impatiently to results, but feebly appreciates, much less emulates. The successful bacteriologist must have acquired, after years of study, a thorough knowledge of the basic principles of biology and chemistry, he must keep abreast of contemporary investigations and their results and he must delve deeply among the roots of physical phenomena. A Koch, a Pasteur or a Loeb, while he may resemble the common run of men as he goes and comes among them, is a being apart and is marked for a life of sacrifice. The complete absorption required by his studies makes him "scorn delight and live laborious days," and in turn he is scorned by the mediocre mind as a "dry-as-dust" and a "mole-eyed highbrow." Yet in renouncing the world's joys he gains something far more acceptable to his ideal sense. For there is comfort in the thought that where he laid down his scalpel and notebook another may pick them up and carry on his experiments to a glorious conclusion.

It is by the carrying on of the work of Dr. Peyton Rous in the observations of the sarcoma of fowls that Gye and Barnard, the British investigators, made their discovery as to the causative agent of cancer. It is sincerely to be hoped that the next step in these experiments will result in the discovery of means of immunizing human beings from cancer, the number of deaths from which has been alarmingly on the increase during the last decade.

PERPETUAL MOTION

There was a man drove up and down
And to and fro throughout the town.

His eager optics without rest
Gazed north and south and east and west,

Sometimes anear, sometimes afar,
To seek a place to park his car.

When he would stop and start to back,
Policeman shouted, "Move on, Jack."

Commissionaires in front of stores
Would wave him sternly from their doors.

If he espied an open space
A taxi beat him to the place.

On vacant lots he sought to pause,
But always futilely, because

Tall watchmen waved long clubs in air
And said to him, "Get out of there!"

So with a weight of uncontent—
On, on and on and on he went,

Confronted with a traffic cop
Whenever he essayed to stop.

You'll find this fellow every day
Continuing on his sad way,

From early dawn till deepest dark,
For still he's found no place to park!

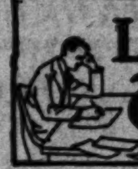
HOW ABOUT IT?

This is to remind you that last autumn you made a solemn vow that next year you would not waste your vacation, but would utilize it with some degree of common sense and would have a good time that would leave you satisfied and better in mind and body.

"Next year" has now arrived. The weather is more or less warm and the time for that fishing trip, or motor trip, or sojourn at "the lake" or summer resorts is almost here. What are you going to do about it? Are you going to repeat the same old unsatisfying process or are you going to make the summer outing of 1925 worth remembering all through the winter months? It is up to you.—[Detroit Free Press.

TELEPHONES IN BRITAIN

The British government, which owns and operates the postal, telegraph and telephone system, reports that the postal service proper is operated at a profit, but that the telegraph system has uniformly shown a loss. The results of operation of the telephone system, which is an adjunct to the postoffice, have varied. In six years out of the last twelve, the telephone service has shown a profit and in the remaining six years it has shown a loss. The largest loss was in 1920-21, when it amounted to £4,722,000.—Telephone Press.



LETTERS TO The Times

Cross of Gold Speech

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—[To the Editor [illegible] correspondent, J. M. Scanland, breaks into The [illegible] with a contribution bubbling with prejudice, [illegible] the element of fact. It would appear that the [illegible] tion is to air the erudition of this correspondent [illegible] Mr. Bryan, in his "Cross of Gold" speech, had [illegible] Hallam's "Middle Ages."

Suppose Mr. Bryan had gotten this idea from the source charged and had paraphrased it; what difference did it make? It was appropriate to his theme and he was justified in using it.

The contributor speaks of Senator Jones of Arkansas as the leader of the amalgamated forces. There were no amalgamated forces in that convention. There was no shortage of Democratic material. Mr. Bryan's name had not been mentioned and there was no occasion for Senator Jones or anybody else to make the alleged statement that they were "afraid to trust that fellow Bryan." They did not have to experiment with Bryan. They knew what was in him. He was the last speaker on the Committee on Resolutions. He took the stand between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The great coliseum was crowded to the utmost, 15,000 people or more present. He commenced his speech in a calm, simple manner, gradually making his telling points and climbing alp on alp, with one climax succeeding another, leading his audience to the very summit of inspiration and enthusiasm, ending at the strikingly psychological moment with a peroration known as "The Crown of Thorns and the Cross of Gold." The delegates did not form in line, did not make a platform of hands and did not carry Mr. Bryan around the vast auditorium. It was not a wild, silly scene, nor was it undignified. It was the spontaneous outburst of men and women enthusiastic for their cause. Whether we agree with him or not, it is but small, narrow prejudice that would belittle that great speech on that occasion.

I was a visitor and favored the gold standard in that convention and did not agree with Mr. Bryan on his free-silver platform, but this does not keep me from telling the truth about it.

"The Company One Keeps"

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am sorry that your correspondent, Mr. Thorne, has no argument but the personal one. I have no friends among the bootleggers, and it may interest him, I think, to hear that I am myself almost an abstainer from alcohol. I do not drink spirits; I do not drink between meals; and a glass of beer or wine is all I care for with them.

But prohibition—the facts around one brutally demonstrate—leads itself to drinking; and to the drinking, for the most part, of strong and poisonous spirits. Upon the other hand, all medical testimony and the living evidence of the beer and wine-drinking countries prove that beer and wine, taken moderately, are beneficial; beneficial from the physical, mental and moral aspects. It may have nothing to do with it, but—as a late leading article of your own shows—murder and serious crime in these United States have doubled or trebled during the last few years, since prohibition came in. Why, at any rate, has not prohibition helped to prevent it?

A. SPENCER CRAGOE.

From Birds to Trees

BELVEDERE GARDENS, July 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] How anyone would want to shoot a beautiful singing bird, while all the yowling cats, barking dogs and crowing roosters are still permitted to hold forth at night, is beyond my comprehension.

And as birds suggest trees, will some reader tell me why these subdividers should be allowed to ruthlessly remove the most beautiful trees to cut through their roads when trees are so scarce and precious in California? A short time ago I went to look at a piece of real estate in Burbank which had a windbreak of a row of very large trees. To my horror I was informed that these trees were not on those particular lots and a road was to be cut through there and the trees most probably removed! If there is any organization which protects trees I would like to communicate with them to see if something could be done to prevent this crime.

Press Support

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to express to you my sincere appreciation for your splendid co-operation and assistance in connection with the Second Defense Test. Without the whole-hearted support of the influential newspapers the Defense Test could not have been made the success it was in this corps area.

In expressing my own appreciation I am sure I am but voicing the sentiments of appreciation of the War Department to the press of the country at large for a practically unanimous support.

HUNDRED STARS TO BE IN PARADE

Greater Movie Pageant to Move Tomorrow

Celebrities Will Ride in Decorated Cars

Fairbanks Named Event's Grand Marshal

With more than 100 stars of the motion-picture world riding in lavishly decorated automobiles and floats, the Greater Movie Season parade will move through streets of the downtown district, beginning at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

The parade will be formed on Sunset Boulevard and will proceed through the tunnel and down Broadway Place to Main street, then south on Main to Adams and west on Adams to Vermont. First units of the parade will begin moving along the line of march sharply at 11 a.m., according to the plans.

Appointment of Douglas Fairbanks as grand marshal of the pageant was announced yesterday by Will Hays, president of the Motion-Picture Producers and Distributors of America, when it became known that Joseph M. Schenck, the original appointee, has been called to New York City on business. With the grand marshal in his official car will be Mary Pickford and Mr. Hays.

DIVISION FORMATION

Standard-bearers, officials of the Greater Movie Season committees, divisions of mounted and motorcycle police and the regimental staff of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, California National Guard, commanded by Col. Walter P. Story, will make the first division. Division No. 2 will comprise city and county officials, the Boy Scout Band and three fire department floats.

Entries of floats and decorated automobiles from downtown theaters make up the third division, which is to be headed by the Pasadena fire department's band of forty pieces. The entries include the following theaters: Grauman Million Dollar, Egyptian, Metropolitan, Criterion, Loew's State, Baird's, Forum, Landley and West Coast.

In the fourth division will appear the floats from the motion-picture studios and the celebrities of the motion-picture world, who will ride in gayly decorated cars. Hobart Bosworth, as division director, will have Roy Stewart and Fred Thomson as his aides. The War Veterans' Band, dressed in Scotch uniforms, will be in the lead. Division No. 5, the mounted unit, will follow an lks boy band of thirty pieces and the fifth division will represent the film exchanges. Division No. 7 will include outside entries.

LIST OF STARS

A partial list of the stars who will be in the parade includes: Syd Chaplin, Willard Louis, Dorothy Devore, June Marlowe, Patsy Ruth Miller, Dolores Costello, Helene Costello, Alice Calhoun, Huntly Gordon, John Patrick, Mat Moore, Gayne Whitman, Don Alvarado, Charles Farrell, Renee Adoree, Irving Thalberg, Harry Rapf, George K. Arthur, Matthew Potts, Eleanor Boardman, Billie Burke, Lew Cody, Estelle Clark, Edward Connelly, Frank Currier, John Gilbert, Norma Shearer, Ramon Novarro, Marion Davies, William Haines, Carmel Myers, Conrad Nagel, Sally O'Neill, Aileen Pringle, Bert Roach, Pauline Starke, Claire Windsor, Lucille La Soeur, Rose Blossom, Antonio D'Algy, Alice Day, Marion McDonald, Natalie Kingston, Ruth Taylor, Harry Langdon, Vernon Dent, Andy Clyde, Raymond McKee, Barmey Hellum, Joe Young, Madeline Hurlock, Thelma Parr, Ruth Hiatt, Eugenia Gilbert, Ralph Graves, Billy Bevan, Fat Lotch, William McCall, Danny O'Shea, Jimmie Adams, Neal Burns, Theodore Roberts, Lois Wilson, Bebe Daniels, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Richard Arlen, Anthony Jowitt, Raymond Hatton, Mary Brian, Norma Talmadge, Constance Talmadge, Natalie Talmadge, Buster Keaton, Fred Thomson, Charlotte Stevens, Lefty Flynn, Richard Talmadge, Alberta Vaughn, Larry Kent, Bob Custer and Tom Tyler.

Reiner Bowl Orchestra to be Augmented

The largest orchestra ever heard on the Pacific Coast will play in the Hollywood Bowl tonight.

Fritz Reiner, presenting the famous "Overture 1812" has augmented considerably the regular 100-piece symphony orchestra.

Marguerite Melville Liszniewska, celebrated pianist who was heard the last season at the Bowl, will be the guest artist. She will play the "G Minor Concerto" of Saint-Saens.

The "Petrouschka" of Igor Stravinsky, Russian modernist whose original selections are being featured at the Bowl, will be repeated.

Following is tonight's program: Overture "Euryanthe," Weber; Suite "Petrouschka," Stravinsky; G Minor Concerto, Saint-Saens; "The Dance of Polevetz," Borodine; "Overture 1812," Tschaikowsky.

Sixty Days Given ex-Dry Agent in Extortion Case

Federal Judge Sheppard yesterday sentenced Paul T. Kyle, ex-prohibition agent, to sixty days in the Los Angeles County Jail for extorting $360 from Jack Stevens, a Santa Monica butcher. Kyle and Franklin F. English, also a former agent but at the time of the extortion attempt still in the service, were revealed in testimony to have raided the market and found a gallon of alcohol.

English will be sentenced this morning by Judge Sheppard. He was found guilty Wednesday. Kyle pleaded guilty.

CITY RANKED AT SUMMIT FOR FASHION

Kayser Says Los Angeles Equals Paris and London as Home of Smart Shops

For up-to-date styles in wearing apparel and smartness of shops, Paris and London have nothing on Los Angeles, in the opinion of Emil Kayser, president of Wetherby-Kayser Shoe Company, who returned from a two months' European visit in company with his wife and daughter, Miss Gretchen Kayser, yesterday.

Kayser left for Europe just before Memorial Day, joining his wife and daughter in Paris, where they had spent some time after touring the continent. The purpose of his visit, aside from meeting his family, was to acquaint himself with the novelties in his own line of merchandise offered at the European centers, most of his time being spent in Paris and London.

"As far as shoes are concerned, I received the impression that the goods offered by Los Angeles shops in many instances surpass any I saw in the Paris shops," he said. "I made purchases of goods in Philadelphia for our fall trade of exactly the same type as I later saw just being placed on the Paris market as their highest-priced line of footwear."

Kayser said he was much interested in the business methods prevailing in Europe. "Their system is much more involved than ours and entails so much delay to the customer that should we attempt similar methods here it would disrupt our business," he said. "I was impressed by the extreme courtesy of the sales people on the other side, however, and believe that along this line Americans may learn something from the Europeans. In fact, I believe that a visit to Europe to see how business is carried on there is of immense benefit to any American business man."

He found Paris gay, apparently prosperous and filled with American visitors, including many from Los Angeles. "Every passenger boat bound for Europe at this season is filled with American tourists," he commented. "We found the price of everything extremely high in London, higher even than New York, but hotel rates and other expenses are reasonable in Paris."

He added that while he had not time to make more than a casual investigation, business conditions impressed him as good in Paris, while London seemed to be suffering from depression. "There is much unemployment and a lot of pessimistic comment is heard on the streets of the English capital, not a little of it directed against America," said Kayser. "The English seem to feel that this country has been too exacting in its demands with reference to the debts owed it by Europe."

CAFETERIA WORK WILL BEGIN SOON

Three-Story Building to be Erected by Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company

Work will start within two weeks on the construction of a $500,000, three-story cafeteria building, 59x329 feet, which will be built between Olive and Grand and Fifth and Sixth streets for the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, according to an announcement yesterday by representatives of Schultz & Weaver, architects in charge of the project.

The contract for the work has been awarded to the William Simpson Construction Company.

The structure will front fifty-nine feet on both Olive street and Grand avenue and will be located between the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Building and the Biltmore Hotel.

It will be of steel frame construction and the exterior will be finished in terra cotta, faced tile and marble work. The new unit will be built above the present parking grounds, thus preserving the facilities for parking automobiles.

Although the new structure will contain a number of offices, the primary reason for its construction is to provide dining-room and cafetera accommodations for the employees of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Tenant Brings Damage Suit in Gas Explosion

John Pashley, who said he received burns and other injuries as the result of a gas explosion in a South Figueroa-street apartment-house, yesterday brought suit for $30,845 damages against Fred H. Hodkins, L. J. Virden and others, who were said to be the owners and managers of the place.

Pashley asserted the gas pipes and fixtures were old and leaky, permitting gas to escape and gather in his apartment in which the explosion was said to have occurred January 19, last. As a result of the asserted blast, Pashley said he was rendered unconscious and confined to his bed for several weeks.

Man Struck by Pacific Electric Train Succumbs

Ray W. Landrum of 3020 Glen Manor Road was mortally hurt yesterday by a Pacific Electric train at Glenhurst Boulevard and Glendale Road, according to a report by the Pacific Electric. He was taken in a passing automobile to Monte Sano Hospital, where he died.

E. T. Remelt was motorman of the train.

Landrum was crossing the tracks on foot.

GAMBLING PLEA REFERRED

Council Votes to Place Investigation of Women's Charges With Welfare Committee

The City Council voted yesterday to place with its Public Welfare Committee investigation of charges of gambling preferred by representatives of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Councilman Allan, who has been a leader in the fight against vice, is chairman of this committee.

The matter came up when the report of Acting Chief Murray to the Board of Police Commissioners, declaring that there was no gambling at 1361 East Seventh street, was presented to the Council.

Councilman Hall moved that the report be filed. Councilman Randall moved that it be referred to the Public Welfare Committee. Hall then sought to have the report to go to the Council Police and Fire Committee, which was defeated, the vote being as follows: Yes: Barnes, Fitzpatrick, Hall, Shaw, Sparks, Workman; No: Allan, Ash, Colden, Downs, Hughes, Moore, Randall, Sanborn. Absent, Criswell.

On the amendment to refer the report to the Welfare Committee, the Council divided, 11 to 3, Councilmen Allan, Fitzpatrick and Hall voting against it. Allan said he voted against it because there was given him no money to make an investigation. Councilman Moore said he favored the appropriation of money for an investigation of the police department if the Welfare Committee deemed it advisable.

ICE-ASHES

Damage Sequel to Divorce Suit Meets Set-back

Laura Mathews, also known as Mildred Mathews, an advertising and publicity copywriter, who was named by Mrs. Doris Ruppe in the latter's divorce suit against Louis E. Ruppe, mortician, yesterday lost a point in her suit for $50,000 damages against Mrs. Ruppe for asserted defamation of character when Judge Cabaniss sustained a demurrer temporarily throwing the action out of court.

Miss Mathews based her suit on grounds of libel and slander, asserting Mrs. Ruppe maligned her by naming her co-respondent in the divorce action. In a second cause of action she charged Mrs. Ruppe slandered her in the presence of others.

Judge Cabaniss sustained Mrs. Ruppe's demurrer without leave to amend, as far as the libel charge was concerned, and gave Miss Mathews ten days in which to file an amended complaint in the slander action.

At the trial of the divorce case, both Miss Mathews and Ruppe stated their acquaintanceship was almost wholly one of a business nature.

Judge Vicini now has the divorce suit under advisement.

THREE HELD BY JURY ON GIRL CHARGE

Mann Act Infractions Laid to Trio as Other True Bills Are Found

Indictments charging conspiracy to violate and violation of the Mann Act were returned by the United States grand jury yesterday against Gorrie A. Jacobs, Gilbert R. Jacobs and Stella Able, accused of transporting Burgoyne Russell, 17 years of age, from Indiana to Los Angeles.

The two men were indicted both for conspiracy and the actual violation and the woman only with conspiracy.

The Mann Act indictments were returned just before the grand jury took a recess until August 28. Others returned at the same time included fourteen asserted violations of the Harrison Narcotic Act, three of the Tariff Act, one of the Dyer Act, one of impersonating a Federal officer and one of misapplication of national bank funds. The indictments were as follows: Harrison Act, Jung Kim, Sing Toy, Wong Chow, Lee Jee, Mikel Hernandez, Jess C. Weldon, Fernando Yslas, Ramondo Duran, Hop Lee, Orville M. Daum, George Wright, James Casey, Augustus J. Russell and Dr. Lewis T. A. Hotten; Tariff Act, Katherine L. Bowe, H. F. La Peer and Juan Mostes; Dyer Act, Alfred Shaw, and Mrs. Ruth Le Claire, impersonating a Federal officer, and Ruben R. Daily, misapplication of national bank funds.

JUDGE SAYS HOME BEST FOR BABIES

Picture Director Loses in Court Contest Over Right to Take Children at Night

Change in diet and environment, motion pictures and other social entertainments would disrupt the routine of their lives and ruin their health, if Phillip Rosen, a motion-picture director, were permitted to take his three small children to his home overnight twice every week, Mrs. Lee Rosen told Superior Judge Gates yesterday afternoon in contesting her divorced husband's petition for overnight periods with the children.

Reviewing the evidence Judge Gates agreed with Mrs. Rosen and directed that the husband should confine his attention to the children in the day time twice each week and should return them to the mother's home before bedtime.

Mrs. Rosen, accompanied by her three children, Phyllis, 12 years of age, Claire, 9, and Eugene, 6, appeared in court yesterday with her attorney, Will H. Marshall. Rosen was represented by Cliff Bacon.

RICHARD W. FISK IS SOUGHT BY MOTHER

Mrs. Fannie Fisk of Calexico yesterday asked The Times to aid in finding her son, Richard W. Fisk, from whom she has not heard for several years. He is 36 years of age and after the war came to Los Angeles for vocational training. Mrs. Fisk said her husband is very ill and anxious to see his son.

MEADOWS GETS TWO YEARS

Ex-Athlete also Fined $5000 on Bond Fraud Charges as New Trial Plea is Denied

Two years in Leavenworth and a fine of $5000 was the sentence imposed yesterday by Federal Judge Sheppard on Rush Meadows, former University of Southern California athlete and asserted pseudo-attorney, who was convicted last Friday of conspiring to violate the Federal laws by dealing in, forging and possessing Liberty Bonds stolen on December 8, 1920, from the State Bank of Richlands, Neb.

Meadows, government witnesses declared, was the leading spirit and intelligence of an underworld ring bent upon the disposal of hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of stolen securities. Throughout the trial last week he was made the target of shafts of former conspirators, one of whom, Fred Keller, was a codefendant and former employee of the husky ex-football star.

The sentenced man must remain in jail until a supersedeas bond is fixed by the Circuit Court of Appeals. Judge Sheppard declined to take this action, leaving it to the discretion of the higher court.

Russell Graham, Meadows's attorney, argued for more than an hour to obtain an arrest of judgment and a new trial, but Judge Sheppard refused the requests. After sentence was passed Graham filed petition for a new trial before the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Trial of Dave Learner, one of six men indicted by the Federal grand jury on seven counts of forging, dealing in and possessing the bonds, is scheduled to open Monday before Judge Sheppard. Two other defendants, Fred Keller and Charles Sweeney, were convicted along with Meadows and sentenced last Saturday to six and seven months, respectively, in the Los Angeles County Jail, the terms to date from their arrest on May 1, last. Two others indicted, William Bailey and George Maynard, so far have been successful in escaping detention.

Setting of trial of Meadows on a charge of illegal purchase of $11,000 worth of morphine is on the calendar for next Monday before Federal Judge McCormick.

Two Selling Stock in Cake Machine Held

Harry Springate and C. C. Compton were held to answer yesterday by Justice Blake on larceny charges made by Mrs. Jennie Hauck, 438 Stoat street. Mrs. Hauck said they persuaded her to exchange securities of local utilities corporations worth $5040 for shares in a fruit-cake vending machine company by promising her an income of $350 monthly. They paid $200 the first month and failed to show up after that, she said.

"I thought there were too many cake eaters, but perhaps there are not enough," commented Justice Blake.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

In honor of her cousin Miss Roberta Crutcher who returned several weeks ago after her graduation from Vassar College, Miss Henrietta Bohon and her two sisters, Mrs. Carl Heintz (Eleanor Bohon) and Mrs. Harold Mead (Mary Bohon) are entertaining this afternoon with a tea at the home of their mother, Mrs. Joseph H. Bohon in West Adams street, the decorations carrying out a pink and blue color scheme. The occasion is also honoring the two house guests of Miss Crutcher, Miss Aimee Mott and Miss Elsa Mott of Flint, Mich., who arrived yesterday from their home in the East and who were classmates of Miss Crutcher at Vassar College.

Assisting the young hostesses will be Mrs. Thomas Edward Gibbon, Mrs. Lynn Helm, Jr., Miss Geraldine Herron, Miss Jean Kincaid, Miss Susanna Bryant, Miss Deborah Bixby, Mrs. Joseph Kerr, Mrs. John Castle Byrne, Miss Jane Lawlor, Mrs. Leland Stanford Ross, Miss Harriet Andrews, Miss Josephine Heintz, Miss Katherine Morrison, Miss Marian Morrison and Miss Eleanor Moses.

One hundred guests have been bidden.

Miss Bohon who was graduated from University of California, Southern Branch, is attending the summer session and is taking a special course planning to receive her B.E. degree next June.

After the summer session Mrs. Bohon and Miss Bohon are planning a trip through the North.

Home From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kayser and their attractive daughter, Miss Gretchen Kayser, have arrived at their home in Pasadena after a delightful summer abroad. Mrs. Kayser and Miss Gretchen left in April while Mr. Kayser left May 29 to join them in Paris, traveling on the continent and returning home with them.

Farewell Parties

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Felix S. McGinnis (Clara Leonardt) of Virgil avenue at Sixth street, who are leaving the 15th of August to make their home in San Francisco, a number of delightfully planned affairs are being given although the suddenness of their departure has made it almost impossible for them to accept many of the attentions which have been offered them.

Sunday evening Mrs. McGinnis's sister, Mrs. Frank H. Powell (Amy Leonardt) entertained with a supper party at her home in Oxford avenue, seventy-five guests having been bidden.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eugene Hoffman of Oak Knoll, Pasadena, will entertain with a dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis, while a week from Saturday, August 8, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Maier are planning a house party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis at their rancho at Santa Suzanna.

This afternoon Mrs. Frederick W. Leistikow is giving a luncheon party at their summer cottage at Hermosa Beach, with Mrs. McGinnis as special guest of honor, while Tuesday afternoon, August 4, Mrs. Alfred J. Bayer is giving a similar affair at her hom in South Alvarado street.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis have taken the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. Adolph Barkan at Laguna and Washington streets, San Francisco, where they will be at home after their arrival in the northern city.

Sorority Affair

Miss Mary Elizabeth Hubbard of Russell avenue entertained recently with a charmingly arranged affair at the Wilshire Country Club for her sorority sisters of Pi Beta Phi at Stanford University and University of Southern California. Thirty-five guests responded to invitations. The charming young hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. R. Hubbard, Mrs. W. B. Hubbard and Miss Ellen Mead. The decorations were carried out effectively in yellow and orange tones with ferns and tulle, the tea tables being lighted by myriads of tall candles in the same golden shades.

For Bride-elect

In honor of Miss Antoinette Zoellner whose wedding with Earl Frank Chapman will be one of the events of August 19, Mrs. Gretchen Pere is giving a supper dance in her lovely home and gardens in Alhambra, while Miss Julia Wolff of Pasadena was hostess at a luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the Vista Del Arroyo, with Miss Zoellner the guest of honor.

Series of Affairs

Miss Alyve Harvout was hostess recently at a beautifully appointed bridge and tea at her home in Gower street, the guest of honor being Miss Ruth Garner of New York. The decorations were in pastel shades of summer flowers and sixteen guests responded to the invitations. Mr. and Mrs. Harvout entertained at the Edgewater Club with a picnic supper for twelve honor guests including Miss Garner, Mrs. Charles Garner, Mr. and Mrs. Yeatman Griffith and Miss Lenore Griffith of New York City, who are passing the summer in Southern California.

Luncheon Party

Mrs. Betty Sharps and her daughter, Mrs. L. E. Jacobson were hostesses at a beautifully appointed luncheon at the Ambassador Monday afternoon when bridge and mah jongg featured the afternoon's entertainment and the luncheon tables arranged in the Cocoanut Grove were beautifully decorated with summer flowers and ferns and hand-etched place cards marked the covers for twenty-four guests.

Gilmor-Taylor

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Gilmor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clemmer Gilmor, of 5016 Rosewood avenue, to Dr. Ralph W. Taylor, son of Mrs. Louise Taylor of Washington was solemnized last evening, the ceremony taking place at 8:30 o'clock in Wilshire Methodist Church, Rev. William Jeffers officiating.

The church was a bower of summer flowers and ferns, pink and white being the color scheme carried out by the bride and a profusion of ferns and tulle. A huge electric cross was arranged atop of the altar, where also twinkled myriads of lighted tapers amidst the ferns and flowers. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin backed crepe with yoke of Venetian lace and girdle of rhinestones. The veil of tulle was caught into place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Claire Moorhead, maid of honor, wore poudre bleu flowered chiffon with trimmings of handmade roses and Mrs. Webster, matron of honor, was in coral pink georgette and hand-made roses flowers in their hair, and carried arm bouquets of pink and orchid blossoms, respectively. Little Helen Katherine Knapp, flower girl, wore white net over satin and carried a basket of rose petals, while Bobby Bice in white satin suit carried the rings on a white satin cushion. Clyde Taylor was best man and Dr. Leroy Pitman of Long Beach also served the bridegroom, while the ushers were Dr. L. A. Gilmor, Dr. H. V. Holcomb, Dr. C. E. Schafor, B. P. Brisbane and A. D. Callahan.

A wedding supper and reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, where the decorations were carried out in pink gladioli and peach-colored tulle. One hundred guests were bidden to the house. Dr. and Mrs. Taylor left in their machine for several weeks' trip in the north, and after their return will make their home here. The bride was graduated from University of Southern California, and is a member of the Phi Mu sorority, while Dr. Taylor has attended North Pacific Dental and was graduated from University of Southern California Dental College, where he is a member of the Delta Sigma Delta fraternity.

Home From Trip

Friends in musical as well as social circles here will be delighted to welcome home Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Lindsay Joslyn, Jr., from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Joslyn was formerly Miss Lysbeth LeFevre and has passed the last three years in study abroad, most of the time in Leipsig and Paris. She returned recently by way of the Mediterranean with Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Lindsay Joslyn, and the wedding followed soon after their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Joslyn have just returned from their honeymoon, passed at Catalina, and are now at home at Violet Cottage, Santa Monica, until the opening of Harvard University, when they will go east, Mr. Joslyn continuing his course in the Harvard law school, while Mrs. Joslyn will resume her musical career in musical circles of the East, being a celliste of promise and ability.

Home Again

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Porter Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. William Mead have returned to their apartments at Beverly Hills Hotel after a four weeks' motor trip through the Northern States and into British Columbia.

Mrs. Marcellus Joslyn, Jr.,

MR AND MRS. MARCELLUS JOSLYN, JR., have returned from their honeymoon at Catalina and are at home to their many friends at Violet Cottage, Santa Monica, until the opening of Harvard University, when they will go east, the former to continue his course at the law school, while Mrs. Joslyn, who has passed the last three years in Paris, will take up her career in the musical circles there as a 'celliste. Mrs. Joslyn was formerly Miss Lisbeth La Fevre.

CRYER DISAPPROVES SALARY INCREASE

Mayor Cryer yesterday disapproved the proposed salary increase for G. Gordon Whitnall, manager of the City Planning Commission. His action, he stated in a letter to the commission, was based upon the need for economy in the administration, and he pointed out that the proposed salary increase, amounting to 66 per cent, did not carry any large increase in duties. Manager Whitnall's salary since September, 1923, has been $300 a month, and the proposed salary was $500 a month.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

NOSEBLEED

Causes: In general we can say that there are two groups of causes for nosebleed at any time of life. They are the local and unconstitutional causes.

The local causes are: Falls, blows, picking, ulcerations and the like. The constitutional causes are: first, acute infections; nosebleed may be one of the first symptoms of typhoid, measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever; second, in heart, kidney and respiratory diseases, and possibly in increased blood pressure; third, diseases such as anemia, scurvy, et cetera, with alterations in the character of the blood; fourth, in the aged and others who have arterio-sclerosis (hardened blood vessels.) Nosebleeds in all these instances are spontaneous, that is, without apparent local injury. (Simple nosebleeds of childhood are very often spontaneous also.)

HOME TREATMENT

Position: Sit upright. Do not lie down or bend your head over a basin. Then try some of these tactics:

(1.) Press firmly with the hand on the bleeding side of the nose and over the lip at the same time.

(2.) If pressing doesn't stop the flow, insert a piece of gauze dipped in an antiseptic ointment, such as boracic acid ointment. Leave an end so that you can pull it out. (If you should happen to have some adrenalin—one to one-thousandth solution—wet the gauze in this. It contracts the blood vessels quickly.)

Better than gauze is gauze in combination with a rubber finger cot. Dip the finger-cot in an antiseptic ointment (oil or cold cream will do if you have no antiseptic.) Put it in the nose with pincers and then stuff with cotton. Leave the end of the cot out, of course.) This forms an elastic pressure and it can easily be removed.

(3.) Hold the hands in ice water, or hold a good-sized piece of ice in the hands. This is an effective way of checking nosebleed, according to Kellogg.

Some lubrication should be put in the nose after the nosebleed, so that the little ulceration will heal without forming a hard scab, because this is apt to be blown or picked off, and another hemorrhage may start. It is a good plan for everyone to thoroughly clean the nose before retiring and insert some cold cream or mildly antiseptic ointment.

If nosebleed occurs very frequently, there should be an examination to see that there is no ulceration or constitutional trouble, for when nosebleeds are frequent they may be the cause of a considerable degree of secondary anemia.

GAS AND OVERWEIGHT

"I am a very fleshy woman. I suffer from gas. Mrs. T."

Anyone who overeats, especially of bread and sweets, is very apt to suffer from gas because the entire intestinal tract is burdened with more food than Nature can handle, and it ferments and putrefies. How do I know you overeat? "Very fleshy" tells me that.

Gas in the stomach is very frequently due to the habit of swallowing air, or chewing gum, or insufficient mastication. If there is trouble with the heart or gall bladder, gas may be a sypmtom. Have you had a thorough physical examination lately?

I suggest you do that, and also go on a fruit-juice diet for at least a day—take five or six glasses of orange juice (100 c. to the glass) and then cut your starches and sugars to one-quarter of what you are now consuming. Cut out your fats almost completely and reduce your weight. In order to reduce intelligently, you must have a knowledge of the caloric value of foods and of your needs in general. This we have covered in a little booklet which tells you how to reduce and how to gain. Send for this and enclose with your request a self-addressed, double stamped envelope and 10 cents in stamps. I predict that if you follow instructions, Mrs. T., you will lose your gas troubles with your excess weight.

Tomorrow—Answers to Mothers.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

The mature woman is a serious problem. In several interviews with managers of placement bureaus recently this opinion was voiced. "I believe her problem is one that will be dealt with by the social agencies in the near future," said one woman. "They can only win because of a superior efficiency," said another.

When a woman is handicapped by maturity, and lacks efficiency, it is increasingly difficult to find placement for her. The world can be patient with the girl who has the clear eyes of youth. When they are obscured by bi-focals the stock of patience runs low. It isn't so much that the woman is no longer young, as it is a resentment that the years have not brought knowledge and skill in her particular line.

The woman who is an expert is welcomed and can be placed in employment. Gray hair and wrinkles are no handicap, if she knows her work.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Dear Mrs. L.: There is no work that I know of that a woman may perform and still remain at home. If you have any aptitude for sewing, you can be trained free of cost to become a milliner, or dressmaker, or a designer of lingerie. If you know foods you may be able to create a demand for some certain thing you can make. But I'd be very wary about paying out money for any kind of "outfit" that promises home work.

Sales Manager Takes Stand in Valhalla Quiz

Maynard L. Monger, sales manager for the Valhalla Memorial and Valhalla Mausoleum projects, and sales manager of Inglewood until he joined the Osborne-Fitzpatrick Finance Company, yesterday on the stand in Federal Judge McCormick's court explained several facts about the "yellow booklet" which, he declared, was a product of his authorship.

One of the salient points was that the "25 per cent for perpetual care and 25 per cent for improvements" was an error of the typographer and that it should have been 10 per cent for perpetual care and 15 per cent for improvements. The percentages were component portions of the income from sales.

Other witnesses were John Fritz, Burbank farmer; H. W. Wallace, former salesman; R. W. Garner, manager of the escrow department of the State Bank of Burbank; F. R. Wilcox, deputy in the California Agricultural Department; C. F. Sief, statistician, who declared the death rate per 1000 in 1922 was 14.58 per cent higher than the year before, and eight purchasers of Valhalla property, who declared they were satisfied with their investment.

Bench Warrant Out for Hopkins in Oil Case Quiz

A bench warrant for G. A. Hopkins, oil operator, of Santa Barbara, formerly of New York, was issued yesterday by United States District Judge James when Hopkins failed to appear at a hearing on the proposed appointment of a receiver. A process server declared Hopkins fled through the back door of his Santa Barbara home when he sought to serve a subpoena on him.

Hopkins acted as agent, it is asserted by C. H. McWilliam and others, for their oil-bearing lands at Santa Fe Springs, arranging for drilling and the marketing of the oil. He failed to account, it is declared, for several thousand barrels of oil. Judge James fixed bail on the warrant at $25,000.

Homesteader's Fire Results in Court Fine

John L. Lovett, homesteader at Phelan on the edge of the Mojave Desert, set fire to his land and waited for results. They were in excess of what he had expected.

The fire not only burned the brush from his property but it spread with fierce rapidity to 800 acres in the vicinity of Sheep Creek, denuding the area of vegetation, before being curbed by half a hundred fighters.

Yesterday before Judge Kavanaugh at San Bernardino, Lovett was fined $50 on a charge of burning brush.

Y.M.C.A. SECRETARIES SEE PILGRIMAGE PLAY

Secretaries of the Southwestern Y.M.C.A.'s, now in conference at the Pacific summer school, Pacific Palisades, attended the Pilgrimage Play last night, the group of nearly 100 visitors occupying a reserved section of seats in the body of the big amphitheater. In conjunction with the special course in religious work, which forms an important part of the summer school curriculum for the secretaries, the visit to the Pilgrimage Play, Life of the Christ, was made not merely for the enjoyment of the drama, but to a great extent for the educational value which the production offers.

CONSTANCE SEEKS LOST CITIZENSHIP

Miss Talmadge Applies to Bureau to Wipe Out Final Trace of Romance

Constance Talmadge took steps yesterday to wipe out the last vestiges of her romance with John Pialoglou by applying for United States citizenship at the Federal Building naturalization bureau. She lost her citizenship when she married Pialoglou in 1920. He is a wealthy New York tobacco man and a Greek subject.

She divorced him in 1922, but that did not make her an American again. Since then she has been busy denying her engagement to several persons, including Irving Thalberg and Buster Collier. But remarriage, under the new law, would not have restored Connie's citizenship, anyhow.

Miss Talmadge, when she called at the Federal Building, inquired first for United States Marshal Sittel, a friend of hers, and Sittel conducted her through the necessary maze of red tape with expedition. Miss Talmadge was beaming and said she was overjoyed at the idea of being an American again.

WORK OPENS ON FOOTHILL FIRE HOUSE

Many Present as County Starts Building of New Station at Altadena

The first shovelful of dirt looking to the construction of a new brick building to house the equipment of the Altadena Fire District Engine Company was turned yesterday, it was announced by Assistant County Fire Department Chief Johnson.

The building will be located at Foothill Boulevard and Lake avenue, and together with the equipment to be installed, will involve an expenditure of $30,000, Johnson said. A ceremony marking the beginning of the work was held under the auspices of the Altadena Chamber of Commerce, and members of the County Fire Warden's office and County Counsel Bishop were guests of honor.

The building is scheduled to be completed in eleven weeks, according to Johnson, and the department will be operated under the direction of the County Fire Warden's office. Residents of the fire district will pay the expenses of the department through taxation.

Meighan Signs for Long Term in Lasky Films

Thomas Meighan has been signed on a new long-term contract by Famous Players-Lasky, it was announced yesterday. He will leave shortly for Ireland, where he will appear in Paramount film.

Although Meighan has been a Paramount star for a number of years, bidding was said to have been high for his services among other companies. He did sign an agreement to play opposite Norma Talmadge in a picture to be made for Joseph M. Schenck.

The Lasky company stated yesterday that the new contract will not prevent Meighan's carrying out this one-picture agreement.

According to the actor, the Lasky contract will bind him to that company almost for the rest of his life. He will be starred.

Night Parties at Park Tabooed on Neighbors' Plea

Midnight parties in Scheutzen Park, near South Pasadena, are to be taboo hereafter, as a result of complaints filed with the City Prosecutor's office against the operators of the playground.

About twenty-five residents in the neighborhood of the park attended a hearing yesterday in Deputy City Prosecutor Friedman's office to voice their protests to the disturbances which are said to take place in the park, especially after midnight. Crist Kremple, 2301 Sixth avenue, president of the Scheutzen Park Association, attended the hearing and agreed to order the park closed after dusk, except when the area has been rented for picnics. Under such conditions the park will be closed promptly at midnight, he said.

CODFISH BALLS

Pick all the bones from one and a half cupfuls of shredded codfish, place in a saucepan, add four cupfuls of sliced raw potatoes and plenty of cold water to cover. Bring to a boil and boil until the potatoes are soft. Drain well, place in a bowl and mash together; add one well-beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, and a seasoning of black pepper. Beat until light with a spoon. Form into even-sized balls with floured hands, dust with flour, place on a buttered baking sheet, brush with melted butter, and bake a nice brown in moderate oven.

DEVILED CRABS

Heat in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, work smooth, stir in one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of dry mustard, one tablespoonful of chopped pimiento, and one cupful of milk. Stir and boil four minutes, remove from the fire and stir in half a tablespoonful of lemon juice, half a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, and two cupfuls of finely shredded cooked crab meat. Divide into buttered scallop shells, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs, lay a thin slice of lemon on each shell and bake a nice brown in a hot oven.

APPLE SAUCE CAKE

Beat to a cream half a cupful of butter and one cupful of sugar. Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cloves, one and a half teaspoonful of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of ground nutmeg, one-half teaspoonful of baking soda, and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder; add to the creamed butter and sugar alternately with one cupful of strained apple sauce and beat smooth. Add one cupful of seedless raisins, mix well, fill buttered and floured muffin tins two-thirds full with the mixture and bake about fifteen minutes in a moderate oven.

CORN CHOWDER

Cut into small dice one slice of salt pork, place in a saucepan with one sliced onion and fry a nice brown. Add to these three cupfuls of canned corn, one cupful of diced raw potatoes, and cold water to cover; simmer until the vegetables are soft; stir in one and one half cupfuls of milk, two teaspoonfuls of butter, two teaspoonfuls of minced parsley, and a seasoning of nutmeg and paprika. Boil and serve at once.

HALIBUT CREOLE

Lay a two-pound piece of halibut in one-half inch of boiling water, skin side down; let stand one minute, remove the skin and wash in cold water, season with salt and pepper and lay in an oiled baking dish.

Place in a saucepan two cupfuls of tomatoes, one cupful of water, three whole cloves, one slice of onion, one-half bay leaf, one chopped green pepper, one-half bay leaf, and one tablespoonful of flour rubbed to a cream with two tablespoonfuls of butter; stir and simmer twelve minutes and strain into a bowl. Pour one-half of the sauce around the fish and bake thirty-five minutes, basting four times with the balance of the sauce. Lift the fish to a hot platter, pour around the sauce and garnish with lemon slices and chopped parsley.

Pastor Upholds Right to Check Unruly Speech

"The doctrine of free speech, as many have regarded it, is untenable," declared Rev. John A. Ryan, director of the social action department of the National Catholic Welfare Council, in an address given yesterday before the City Club.

"There can be no unlimited freedom of speech," said Father Ryan. "The concept is illogical. Just as violence cannot be permitted by law in any field, violent speech certainly can be banned by government, and probably must be. Some limits on freedom are unquestionably necessary for the public good.

"On the other hand, it is better to err in the direction of more freedom than less freedom," continued the speaker. "War normally brings with it repressions and repressions have their aftermath. The Espionage Act and the Selective Service Act were logical enough during the war. The country was at war and anything which curtailed the effectiveness of the nation's program was looked upon with suspicion. That is not to say, however, that such acts should still be supported by our civic conscience. The logic of such laws more than likely omits a consideration of many attendant circumstances. The good done by such laws probably is outweighed by the evil which is done to freedom of thought and discussion, once the crisis is over."

Osteopath Convicted Year Ago Not to be Reinstated

Lester R. Daniels, secretary of the Board of Osteopathic Examiners, announced yesterday the decision of the board not to reinstate the license of Arthur E. Pike of Long Beach to practice osteopathy. Charges against Dr. James Decker of Oakland were suspended for one year.

SAYS SHE WAS WEDDED UNDER SPELL OF DRUG

Declaring Harry G. Parrish caused her to come under the influence of narcotics and then married her, Maggie Parrish yesterday filed suit for annulment of the marriage. She was dazed at the time of the marriage, April 12, 1924, according to her complaint, which recited she left Parrish immediately upon coming into her senses three days later. Mrs. Parrish also asserted she had another husband living at the time of her marriage to Parish. Her complaint was filed by Attorneys Perkins and Davis.

Justice Scott turned his county speed court into a school for a few minutes yesterday in order to teach Miss Corinne Marlow something about the speed limits. She was charged with crossing Valley and San Gabriel boulevards at thirty-two miles an hour.

"Didn't you know you were speeding?" asked the court.

"No, I thought it was a thirty-five-mile zone," she replied.

Justice Scott made Miss Marlowe memorize the section of the law which says the limit at intersections is fifteen miles and then let her go. Most of the other 230 defendants before him during the day were fined.

QUAKE-PROOF HOUSES URGED BY ENGINEERS

Earthquakes were discussed yesterday at the Altrurian Club luncheon at the Clark Hotel, by Capt. H. H. Hammer, a former associate of Capt. Amundsen; S. A. Jubb, construction engineer, and Leslie R. Saunders, engineer. The speakers declared construction of temblor-proof buildings is well understood and that all that remains is for the public to insist on such construction, a matter of a few dollars only in case of a residence.

"Floats" Cause Women to Think Fabrics Ruined

Beauty in fabrics is quite desirable but quality must not be sacrificed too freely for beauty according to fabric experts.

The methods of manufacture, intended to create a pleasing design, often produce a condition in wear that frequently brings criticism to your master cleaner though he has no responsibility in the matter. Such materials are often filled with "float" threads which are not interwoven and, therefore easily displaced by a small amount of wear.

every kind of bread is good. But bread can be—should be—one of the most delicious and appetizing things on the table. The women of Los Angeles have found Gordon's is just such bread.

If you want to know how outstandingly fine bread really can be, try a loaf of Gordon's Bread. Cut one slice from that big, fresh, golden-brown loaf. Note the fine texture, the snow-white color, the lightness. Its appearance alone seems to whet the appetite. Then take one bite! You'll know instantly why Gordon's Bread has been the preferred bread in Los Angeles for eighteen years. Look for the dust-proof wrapper and the name "Gordon's Bread."

MANY NEW PLAYS

MICHAEL CORPER GETS BUSY FOR MAJESTIC

By Grace Kingsley

Michael Corper, manager of the Majestic, is out buying neckties to match up with the newly decorated theater, he is that artistic. So it now seems certain that when Edward Everett Horton bows in on his return as leading man at that house on the evening of August 9, there won't be a single inharmonious note anywhere around the premises.

Those noted Russian artists are simply delighted to get jobs in this country these days, and so it is quite palpable that M. Uhlenoff, who has the matter of the decoration of the Majestic in hand, has put his best foot forward. The result is that the interior of the theater is a harmonious color symphony in rose, soft purple and gold. Mr. Corper puts his hand on his heart as he assures us that M. Uhlenoff was decorator to His Majesty, the late Russian Czar.

"Rolling Home," by John Henry Booth, author of "The Masquerader," will, as heretofore announced, be the opening bill, and it looks now, judging from the orders that have been coming into the box office, as though this play will run so long that Mr. Corper is going to be able to take a breathing spell before deciding on the next play. In the meantime he is very enthusiastic over the talents of Mr. Horton.

"People are used to thinking of Horton as merely a comedian," declared Mr. Corper yesterday, in outlining his plans, "but the fact is, he is one of the best actors on the American stage today. I am going to leave no stone unturned to get the plays that will suit him best. We also look forward to the success of Ruth Renick as leading woman. Miss Renick has had a wide experience in many leading roles in stock up in Oakland since she left the Majestic, where she formerly was popular in ingenue roles, and has developed into a very fine actress."

"I mean to build up the best stock company it is possible to secure," said Corper, "and I am getting for them the best plays available."

One of the plays in which it is likely that Horton will appear is "To the Ladies," in which on the screen, you will remember, he scored a big success. A revival of "Never Say Die" is also possible, due to many requests from the public.

Asked about the new plays he would produce, Mr. Corper explained:

"Yes, I shall produce new plays. But I am going to follow a new idea. I shall rehearse the plays thoroughly after they have passed my readers. Then if they do not rehearse to the thorough satisfaction of myself and associates they will be discarded."

Among the new plays which are possibilities for the Majestic are "The Guilty Man," by Ruth Helen Davis, author of several successful plays, and a new play by Ralph Spence, author of "The Gorilla," now one of the leading successes of the East, who is in Los Angeles at present.

Several former favorites will be seen in "Rolling Home," including besides Horton and Miss Renick, Florence Oberle, Parks Jones, Franklin Pangborn, Olga Eide, John Graham, Henry Hall, Fred Cummings and Norman Fusier.

Many picture stars, lovers of the drama and friends of Horton in the screen drama, will be present on the opening night; so that, take it altogether, it just doesn't seem as though the occasion can possibly fail.

MARIE PREVOST NOW TO BE "JAZZ BRIDE"

"The Jazz Bride," a story by Beatrice Burton, that has appeared serially in several hundred newspapers the country over, has been chosen by Warner Brothers as the next vehicle for Marie Prevost. This will be Miss Prevost's third starring picture this year. She lately completed her work in "Seven Sinners," and has just returned from a short vacation in San Francisco with her husband, Kenneth Harlan.

"The Jazz Bride" will present Miss Prevost in an entirely new angle of story. Her part calls for a straight dramatic performance that has unlimited possibilities. Her last three pictures, "Kiss Me Again," "Bobbed Hair" and "Seven Sinners," were comedies and comedy dramas that called for that light, effervescent portrayal and yet tinged with enough heaviness to be convincing. But with this new story she will have a straight dramatic role that the press agent feverishly announces will call forth every atom of ability she possesses.

Charles Logue is preparing the screen version of the story, and work will begin within the next two weeks.

Winona Winter to Start

Officials of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., announced yesterday that Winona Winter, New York musical comedy star and vaudeville headliner, who was recently signed to appear in their chain of theaters, will begin her tour of California at Loew's State Theater in Los Angeles the week beginning August 22.

Winona Winter

Miss Winter, who is known as the "Personality Girl," will be presented by Mr. Marco of Fanchon and Marco, in an entirely new act, in which her special and diversified talents will be given full expression. A remarkable wardrobe has been prepared for her use by a well-known Los Angeles modiste. Her act will be elaborately staged.

Miss Winter made her last appearance in Los Angeles four years ago, after which she went on Broadway, New York, for a long run.

First National Doings

Colleen Moore is all set to go on her new picture, Israel Zangwell's "We Moderns," with the cast assembled, according to announcement of John McCormick. Jack Mulhall is to have the lead, and others who have affixed their signatures are Clarissa Selwyn, Dorothy Seastrom, Tom McGuire, Cleve Green, Carl Miller, Louis Payne, Blanche Payson and Marcella Corday. John Francis Dillon will direct.

Lewis Stone is expected back from Arrowhead this week. He is going into the United States Reserves training camp for a few weeks before resuming work before the First National cameras with Barbara La Marr. Stone is a major in the United States Reserves.

Dorothy Mackaill is rejoicing at not having to leave for New York, after all. Edwin Carewe stepped in and wished audibly for her services in "Joanna," and got his wish.

Lloyd Hughes and his wife, Gloria Hope, left yesterday for Chicago to be guests of the Windy City during Greater Movie Season. After a brief stay there the two will go on to New York, where the actor is scheduled to start work next week. Miss Hope will resume her film work in the East.

Corinne Griffith and her husband, Walter Morosco, are out of town on a short vacation, but will return home shortly.

Boris Karloff and Thur Fairfax have been added to the cast of "The Viennese Medley," being produced by June Mathis.

Mack Sennett Discovers Another

Mack Sennett never seems to tire, no matter how arduous his labor in connection therewith, of seeking new film beauties for his comedies. His latest graduate from the bathing battalion is Marian MacDonald, winner of several beauty contests, who came to Hollywood six months ago and has won Mr. Sennett's approval to such an extent that he has just awarded her a contract.

ROD AS VILLAIN

Although now invariably cast as the "hero" in De Mille productions, Rod LaRocque is no stranger to screen villainy. He played heavy roles in several pictures with Bryant Washburn before rising to leads and eventful stardom with Cecil B. De Mille. "The Coming of Amos" will be his next starring release.

Leading Lady of New Hatton Play

Roberta Arnold,
Who will be seen in "Playthings," which is to have its world premiere at the Orange Grove, August 9.

Theatrically Speaking

By Herbert Moulton

LITTLE Cinderella still lives! According to dispatches from New York last night, she has undergone another reincarnation in the person of a former Los Angeles girl who, unknown and unheralded, was attracted by the bright lights of the Great White Way. Her name is Edna Covey. Two weeks ago she was entirely unknown to the theatergoing public. Today she is billed as one of the leading attractions of Florenz Ziegfeld's famous "Follies."

Miss Covey obtained her first opportunity at the Rivoli Theater, a motion-picture house, where she did a brief dance between films. On the Sunday of her first appearance, the story runs, several excited individuals called Mr. Ziegfeld on the telephone, announcing a discovery. The next day scouts from the "Follies" hurried around to the Rivoli, verified the discovery and brought the dancer down to the Forty-second-street house. She did her turn, was approved, and given a leading spot in the well-known show which glorifies the American girl.

"SMILING DANGER," the drama that will mark Frank Keenan's return to the spoken stage, will have its first local presentation at the Biltmore Theater on Monday, August 31.

Mr. Keenan, who holds a distinctive position among American players, has devoted his attention to the motion pictures for the last three years. His last stage productions were "John Ferguson" and "Peter Weston," both character portrayals that were outstanding in the theater. The last-named play had its premiere on the western coast, three years ago, and later had a successful run in Chicago.

"Smiling Danger," a tense drama by Oliver White, is the story of three lawyers, and the machinations of legal and crooked minds. Bertha Mann, Fleming Ward, Lewis Dean, Margaret Keenan and Harry Fenwick are the important players, especially engaged in New York for its west coast tour. Following the Coast engagement, "Smiling Danger" will be given a New York hearing.

"WHITE CARGO" could have continued its run for at least ten more weeks at the Wilkes Orange Grove, was the assertion made yesterday by Manager Sydney Miller.

Despite a growing popularity of the lurid drama of the tropics, a contract between Roberta Arnold and Thomas Wilkes necessitates the termination of its run.

Miss Arnold, the Los Angeles girl who caused a sensation in theatrical circles by becoming a star overnight in "The Walk-Off" in New York, has appeared here in "Lombardi, Ltd.," "The Waning Sex" and others. She is heralded as one of the most popular stars on the Gotham stage. Her appearance in Frederic and Fanny Hatton's "Playthings," opening at the Orange Grove, Sunday evening, August 9, is being looked forward to by many Los Angeles playgoers who are interested in her spectacular career.

In support of Miss Arnold in the forthcoming production are Rex Cherryman, Hope Drown, Rafael Brunetta, Rhea Mitchell, Helen Gilmore, Kenneth Gibson, Lillian Elliott, William Strauss, Thomas Shirley and Harry Shutan. Dickson Morgan is at the directorial end.

THE popularity of "The Clod" when presented at the Writers' Club recently with Sarah Padden in the starring role has caused the Orpheum Circuit to make an offer to Miss Padden for a tour of the circuit. Despite her avowed intention of leaving the stage for films the tempting offer has caused her to accept and in two weeks she will start her tour, appearing here later at the Orpheum. "The Clod" is a prize one-act play written by Lewis Beach and first presented by the Washington players in New York. It later became the vehicle in which Miss Padden starred on tour.

'Night Life' Next Attraction at Metropolitan

The West in all its badness, the gun-fightin', shootin', rip-roaring West, with all its early villainy in "The Light of Western Stars," at the Metropolitan this week, gives way Saturday morning to the East.

For next week the photoplay attraction will be "Night Life of New York," a picture which will show the New York of jazz, of after-dark revelry, of bright lights, of men and women seeking the thrills of pleasure and of gain.

The picture is an Allan Dwan production and features Rod La Rocque, Dorothy Gish, Ernest Torrance and George Hackathorne. It was adapted from a story by Edgar Selwyn.

Frank Fay Star on Coming Bill at Hillstreet

Frank Fay, the Broadway musical-comedy star, and Wells, Virginia and West share honors at the Hillstreet next week. Marie Sabbott, with Jack Thompson and the Bradley sisters, is also featured. Other offerings include Joe Bonomo, the Universal studio strong man, Redmond and Wells and Margaret Morrell.

For Greater Movie Season "The White Outlaw," starring Jack Hoxie, will be presented as the screen feature. A news reel, chapter nine of "The Pacemakers" and an Aesop's Fable conclude the bill.

'Siege' to Open at the Forum Next Saturday

Warner Brothers' excellent production of "Eve's Lover," with charming Irene Rich in the leading and title role, has brought the crowds to the Forum Theater this week and promises to establish a new attendance record there. While the title might suggest antiquity, this is quite a modern story, the Eve being a remarkable business woman of the present. Miss Rich is capably supported by Bert Lytell, Clara Bow, Willard Mouls and a huge cast.

Beginning Saturday the Forum will offer for its western premiere the much-heralded Universal production of "Siege," taken from the novel of the same name by Samuel Hopkins Adams. Virginia Valli and Eugene O'Brien are starred with Mary Alden and Marc McDermott heading a large supporting cast.

Also on Saturday the Forum will introduce that master of the violin, Calmon Luboviski, with the Russian String Quartet.

'Lost---a Wife' Starts Soon at Rialto Theater

"Lost—a Wife," was almost changed to "Lost—a Director," when the William De Mille company was out on location making the feature film which comes to the Rialto Theater Saturday.

It was during the race by Adolphe Menjou that the accident happened. A platform was fastened onto the front of the car and De Mille was on it with his cameraman and two or three others, getting a close-up of Menjou and Bobbie Agnew.

In some way one of the two-by-fours got mixed up with the steering apparatus. The car wouldn't steer and was headed for a steep precipice. Bobbie Agnew became a hero by grabbing the emergency brake just in time to save the car and the occupants.

The story is a comedy-drama. Greta Nissen is also in the cast.

Conselman to Become Title Writer at Metro

William Conselman, former assistant to Pete Smith, head of the publicity department of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, has been promoted to the editorial department of that studio as a title writer, according to an announcement by Harry Rapf, associate executive.

Conselman, until six months ago when he became associated with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, was a Los Angeles newspaper man.

His first editorial assignment will be the titling of Robert Z. Leonard's production of "Time the Comedian" with Lew Cody, Mae Busch and Gertrude Olmstead in the leading roles.

Jack Neville, a former member of the publicity department, will succeed Mr. Conselman as assistant publicity director.

New York Star Signs Contract With Schulberg

Another New York stage actress is deserting the realm of the footlights for a career before the camera.

Riza Royce

Riza Royce, brunette beauty, who has scored heavily on Broadway during the last few years, has been signed by B. P. Schulberg, and is now on her way to Hollywood to begin her screen work under the Schulberg banner at the F.B.O. studios.

Miss Royce began her professional career with Ziegfeld, graduating from the musical revue into straight comedy leads. Her most recent hit was made as the vampire lead in the Selwyn box office success, "Dancing Mothers," in New York last winter.

Her first work as a member of the Schulberg stock company will be announced shortly after her arrival on the west coast.

'Unholy Three' With Lon Chaney Coming to Loew's

There is no lack of thrills and entertainment in Tod Browning's crook drama, "The Unholy Three," which comes to Loew's State Saturday.

Indeed, it may be said that Browning has made more than a good underworld picture. He has made a melodrama that will go over anywhere with a bang, because it contains real heart interest, plenty of comedy and a lot of drama.

The story is a most unusual one and deals with a trio of freaks—a giant, a midget and a ventriloquist—who forsake their life in a dime museum to pursue a career of robbery and murder.

The cast contains such celebrities as Lon Chaney, Mae Busch, Matt Moore, Victor McLaglen, Harry Earles and Mathew Betz.

Miss Busch and Lon Chaney have the outstanding roles, but the others take every advantage to give a fine performance in what many call the best crook film of the year.

The "yes man" is in pictures. The general opinion is that he has been there a long time, too long for the good of the industry, but it remained for Dimitri Buchowetzki, the noted Russian director at Universal, to have the courage to satirize this bugaboo of Hollywood studios. Arthur Hoyt plays the role of Yessky in "The Midnight Sun," Buchowetzki's romance of Russia under the czars—and Yessky is a "yes man." He "yesses" George Siegmann from the start of the picture to the end.

Studio AND Stage

Gertrude Short started this week in a featured role in the Hunt Stromberg production, "The People vs. Nancy Preston." Miss Short will be the gum-chewing stenographer to the District Attorney who prosecutes Marguerite De la Motte as Nancy Preston.

In six days the script for "What Happened to Jones" will be ready for Reginald Denny to start working with, according to Mel Brown, the Universal scenarist, who is writing that adaptation and continuity for the comedian. Brown is one of the fastest continuity writers in the industry, having finished entire scripts in two days.

Edwin Carewe's next production for First National will be H. L. Gates's "Joanna." Carewe plans to have the production ready for the camera by September 1.

Al Green, who recently completed a Thomas Meighan production for Paramount, will guide the directorial destinies of the First National attraction costarring Barbara La Marr and Lewis Stone, "Spanish Sunlight."

Having completed "Enemy of Men" and "The Penalty of Jazz," the first two of a series of specials in which she is featured, Dorothy Revier has been assigned the leading feminine role in "Sealed Lips," the next picture on the Waldorf schedule. "Sealed Lips" was written especially for Miss Revier by Harold Shumate, the widely known magazine writer, and is being produced under the direction of Tony Gaudio, with an all-star cast including, besides Miss Revier, Cullen Landis, Lincoln Stedman, John Miljan, Scott Turner and Barbara Luddy.

Grant Withers, screen juvenile, has just returned from a few days' vacation at La Jolla with his mother, Mrs. E. E. Withers of Pueblo, Colo.

June Mathis is being assisted in the editing of "The Viennese Medley," her second First National production, by George McGuire. They are cutting the piece as sequences are completed.

Irving Cummings is to wield the megaphone on Corinne Griffith's next production for First National, "Caesar's Wife," adapted from W. Somerset Maugham's story.

Ruth Clifford's versatility will be liberally displayed with the simultaneous release throughout the country of two pictures in which she plays widely differing roles. One is "The Love Hour," Warner Brothers picture. As a featured member of this cast Miss Clifford is called upon to display light-comedy talents. In the other picture, Universal's "The Titans," Miss Clifford, playing opposite House Peters, fills a deeply emotional role.

May Allison, recently arrived from New York to play in "The Viennese Medley" for First National, says that this picture—which some wise wag has termed "The Hollywood Medley"—is giving her an opportunity of meeting all her old friends here without the necessity of leaving the set.

Patsy Ruth Miller has coined several new slang expressions with which she has been shocking her family of late. Patsy calls it "Hoganese" and says it is merely a temporary dialect she has cultivated as atmosphere for her tomboy role in "Hogan's Alley," in which she is now starring with Monte Blue for Warner Brothers.

Gertrude Short today began her work as the gum-chewing stenographer to the District Attorney in Hunt Stromberg's production, "The People vs. Nancy Preston." Besides Miss Short, John Bowers and Marguerite De la Motte are principals in the cast.

Edgar Norton has just finished his engagement with Raymond Griffith in "On Dress Parade," Eddie Sutherland, directing.

Donn Lee, scenarist, has been selected to write the next script for "Hoot" Gibson. The story has not yet been chosen. Mr. Lee wrote the scenario for "The Chip of the Flying U," which Gibson is now making in Calgary, Can.

John Griffith Wray has completed "The Winding Stair" at Fox's, featuring Alma Reubans and Edmund Lowe. Despite the heat and the various accidents which befell members of the cast, Wray finished the picture eight days ahead of schedule. This is the first picture he has directed for Fox.

MISSING MAN AT SON'S HOME

Anton Lenz Disappearance Two Years Ago Recalled

Adjudged Insane and Placed Under Guardian Then

Travels Alone to Old Home Town in Germany

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA ANA, July 29.—Anton Lenz, well-to-do rancher of Costa Mesa, was adjudged to be crazy but he wasn't so insane that he couldn't make a trip to Germany, after crossing the continent on the train, to take up his abode with his son.

Two years ago Lenz disappeared under strange circumstances. His sons and daughters in the United States endeavored to find him, but with no success.

Today a letter was received by Rev. Father Henry Eummelen, 724 Garfield street, from Lenz, in which he said he was "living like a prince in the beautiful home of my son," in Haltern, Germany. The letter explained his strange disappearance. The farmer asks the Rev. Father Eummelen to give the letter to his guardian, Public Administrator C. D. Brown, and tell him that he doesn't need a guardian any more and that if Mr. Brown cannot read German to give it to the policemen, as "they can do everything." He sends his thanks to C. N. Mozley, assistant District Attorney, for his kindness as his attorney.

Mr. Lenz says that he has been pleasantly occupied for a month in calling upon his relatives and old friends whom he had not seen for many years and that is why he did not write before. His letter is dated the 12th inst., and his address is Haltern, Understrasse, Germany.

The farmer owned three and a half acres of land at Costa Mesa and lived there in squalor and seeming poverty. His son, Joseph Lenz, and his wife arrived here from Denver, Colo., and made an offer to the man that they would pay him $4000 in cash for his land, which was later sold for $6500, and care for him the rest of his life. Lenz agreed and the deed was made at the Guaranty Title office, but no money was passed.

Later, Mozley states, Joseph Lenz and his wife gave the father a severe beating and he was so badly hurt that he was taken to the Orange County Hospital. Mr. Mozley and Mr. Nelson were then employed to institute suit for the recovery of the Costa Mesa property, which was accomplished and as the man was very feeble, they had C. D. Brown appointed as his guardian in order that he might not be again preyed upon. His money was placed in the bank and Brown paid over to the owner the amounts asked for at various times.

Mozley says that if Lenz decides to stay in Germany the administration of his property will be turned over to some one there.

Railroad Board Member Visits With Governor

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 29.—Commissioner Leon O. Whitsell, of Orange county, recently named to the important post of State Railroad Commissioner, left today for Sacramento, after having paid his respects to Gov. Richardson, who is spending the summer months in Long Beach, and after having been sworn in and receiving his commission.

"I have received a large number of letters commending my appointment of Mr. Whitsell as Railroad Commissioner," the Governor said. "He is a real farmer, having made his home for a long time on his own ranch near Santa Ana. Appointment of a farmer to the office has been urged by farm bureaus throughout the State, but no one in particular had been recommended. Mr. Whitsell resigned from the board of Orange County Supervisors to accept the commission," the Governor said.

Lennox Plans Trade Exhibits and Foods Show

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LENNOX, July 29.—Construction activities mark the preparations for the six-day trades exposition and pure-foods show to be staged by the Lennox Chamber of Commerce, August 10 to 15, inclusive. A block in the heart of the city has been cleared and the "big top" that is to house the exhibitions is being erected. Music and vaudeville will feature the entertainment programs and the selection of a queen of the exposition is expected to furnish an exciting contest. President W. L. Vaughn and Secretary J. H. Batzle of the Chamber of Commerce have appointed their committees and the entire community is on its toes, determined to make the affair one of the greatest successes ever attempted in this district. Funds arising from the exposition will be used in the development of Lennox community problems and for purposes of publicity.

YOUTH RECOVERING FROM BANDIT BLOWS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 29.—Ralph Simons, 17-year-old attendant at an umbrella renting stand on the beach here, is recovering today from the effects of an attack made upon him late last night by a bandit, who robbed him of $14.

The boy was found, wandering in a dazed condition near Belmont Pier eight hours after the attack. He was taken to Community Hospital, where it was said, he will recover.

ANAHEIM CASE DISMISSED

Defense Contention That Court Has No Jurisdiction in Harbison Klan Row Sustained

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA ANA, July 29.—The charge of perjury brought against M. L. Harbison, Anaheim Klansman, was dismissed today by Judge R. Y. Williams of the Superior Court on motion of the defense. Harbison still stands accused of criminal libel, for which the penalty is fine of not more than $1000 and a year in the County Jail.

The perjury charges were dismissed on the contention of defense counsel led by C. Stanley Price, who recently moved to Los Angeles from Utah, that Judge Williams did not have jurisdiction in the case.

Under the law, according to the defense lawyers, Harbison could have sought to remove the trustees upon two grounds only: The wrongful collection or misuse of public funds, or, willful misconduct in public office.

The Anaheim Trustees had been accused by Harbison of employing and keeping in office a man as City Marshal and ex-officio tax collector, who they know had been convicted of a felony before he was hired.

Harbison was unsuccessful, in the trial of the case before Judge Williams, in proving that the Trustees had knowledge that the man was a felon, and his case was thrown out of court.

The charge of criminal libel and perjury followed. Judge Williams did not have the right to hear the first case because a negative act upon the part of the Trustees was not alleged by Harbison, it was contended, and it was upon that principal point that the case fell today.

Inasmuch as the first case was improperly before him, Judge Williams said he could do nothing but rule for the defense in hearing a matter growing out of it.

In the trial of the ouster suit, a summary proceeding, attorneys did not press the point which won the case for Harbison today. If they had done so, opinion around the Courthouse today was that the perjury case would not have been filed in the manner in which it was instituted.

Harbison and his attorneys will appear before Judge Williams for resetting of the criminal libel case next Friday.

RANCHER IN AUTO CRASH BADLY HURT

James A. Smiley and Five Others Victims When Cars Collide at Intersection

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA ANA, July 29.—James A. Smiley, West Orange rancher, past president of the Orange County Farm Bureau, lay in the Anaheim Sanatorium today in a serious condition as the result of an automobile crash between the car driven by himself and a car piloted by Thomas Florianna, Orange packing-house employee residing in La Jolla Road, Anaheim, at the intersection of Garden Grove Road and West Broadway, Anaheim.

Surgeons express the belief that Smiley's skull may have been fractured. O. W. Robinson, 4 years of age, nephew of Smiley, was also in the same hospital in a serious condition as the result of the crash. The boy received a severe head wound.

Others injured were O. W. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson of Honolulu, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smiley; Mrs. Smiley and James Robinson, 5 years of age. Florianna and his companion, Valentine Arenda, were not injured, according to the report to Anaheim police.

Bowen Surveys Water System at Riverside

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, July 29.—For the purpose of obtaining further expert corroboration of the city's plans for water system improvements, as included in the September bond issue proposition, Edward R. Bowen, expert hydraulic engineer of the Los Angeles Water Bureau, arrived here today from an investigation of the local system. He accompanied a group of city officials on a preliminary survey of the entire system.

Bowen was brought to Riverside through authorization of the city Board of Public Utilities and the City Council, who met in joint session recently and decided to have a final check-up of the details of the improvements by an expert engineer.

The Los Angeles engineer will remain in the city several days, in connection with his employment by the city of Riverside.

The plan for which the officials seek the experts' okeh, calls for establishment of a huge reservoir on Iowa avenue, a new concrete or steel transmission main to carry the main supply from the San Bernardino basin, and for a general improvement and replacement of all mains and pipes inadequate and out of good condition.

Redondo Legion Plans Radio for Broadcasting

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDONDO BEACH, July 29.—The American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce held a joint meeting last night to forward arrangements for the installation of a radio broadcasting station for Redondo Beach. Capt. S. N. Dancey, Americanization officer of the Legion, Harry H. Clubb of the Sunset Music House, who is sponsoring the project, and Secretary Bradbury of the Chamber of Commerce, presented a plan to the assembly which included the acquisition of a 500-watt station, to be located at the outskirts of the city, probably at Walteria. The cost of the plant was estimated at $30,000, which would have an operating cost of about $25 per hour. There are now four of these American Legion stations operating throughout the United States, and the plan seems a feasible one for the local organization.

AUTO ROBBERS GET WOMEN'S APPAREL

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, July 29.—Several hundred dollars' worth of women's silk underwear and fine hosiery made up the loot of thieves who early today smashed the glass of a motor sedan in which the goods were locked, according to report today to the Ontario police of T. P. Daniel, 1337 Euclid avenue, Santa Monica, owner of the machine. Mr. Daniel, who is a salesman for a women's furnishings house, explained that the car was parked in the grounds of an Emporia-avenue hotel at the time it was burglarized. All of the articles taken were new.

HIGHWAY IN FRONT OF MISSION TO BE PAVED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, July 29.—It is stated by Assistant City Engineer J. W. Cooke, with Van Nuys headquarters, that the paving of Mission Road from the San Fernando city limits by the way of the San Fernando Mission to Balboa avenue, about two and a half miles, will begin within less than sixty days. When Mission Road is paved it will give a direct highway in front of the historic structure, from San Fernando into the western part of the valley.

German Bonds Base of Charge in Fraud Case

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA ANA, July 29.—Upon the alleged representation of W. King that he had been commissioned by a San Francisco brokerage firm to collect outstanding German government bonds on a 15 per cent gold basis, Dr. Herbert A. Johnston of Anaheim, turned over to King German pre-war bonds valued at $2000 with the understanding that King was to have the bonds sent to Germany for revaluation, according to a complaint issued today at the office of Dist.-Atty. Nelson in which King is accused of a felony in the alleged obtaining money under false pretenses.

Dr. Johnston told Chief Deputy District-Attorney C. N. Moseley, who issued the complaint, that King had represented himself to be the agent of C. P. Richards and Company, San Francisco brokers.

King told the doctor, it was claimed, that the German government had adopted the gold standard, and that all outstanding pre-war bonds had been called in for revaluation on a gold basis. King was to send the bonds to the San Francisco firm, which was to forward them to Berlin. All of these claims on the part of King were false, and were made for the purpose of defrauding the physician it is alleged.

The bonds were issued by the cities of Dresden, Hamburg and Vienna, according to the complaint.

WORK STARTS SOON ON SEISMOGRAPH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, July 29.—Work on the new seismograph station on Fairmount Hill will start soon, according to Mayor Evans, who today was authorized by the City Council to sign a lease with the Carnegie Foundation for the establishment of a substation. An appropriation of $30,000 has already been made by the Council, the upkeep to be paid by the foundation.

The Riverside station will be one of four in Southern California controlled by the Carnegie Foundation. Dr. Harry O. Wood will be general director of all the stations, with headquarters in the central one at Pasadena. Fallbrook, Catalina Island, and one other place, as yet unselected, will be the three stations besides Riverside.

The instruments are ready for installation, according to Dr. Wood. The station here will be made of reinforced concrete.

INGLEWOOD COMPANY INCREASES CAPITAL

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

INGLEWOOD, July 29. — The People's Finance and Thrift Company of this city, at a stockholders' meeting today, voted to raise the authorized capital from $50,000 to $150,000. On August 1 the company will extend its quarters to include the entire ground floor of the Union Investment Building. R. C. Nutt, president of that company, will move his own offices to the new Union bus depot building, soon to be completed.

KINGS COUNTY EXILES GIRL AUTOMOBILIST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, July 29.—Edna Finches of Fresno, cited by State Traffic Officer Benton for driving an automobile in Hanford while intoxicated, was today given a sentence of six months in the County Jail, suspended on condition that she leave Kings county immediately and remain away for that period. Her operator's license was also suspended for one year and she was forbidden to drive an automobile during that time.

BOY JAILED ON CHECK CHARGE

Son of Honest Ontario Man Taken for Crime

Admits Acts But Pleads Ignorance of Wrong

Father Found and Returned Gems to Loser

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, July 29.—Harley Y. Belew, 18 years of age, of 217 East Belmont street, whose father, T. Y. Belew, an Ontario grocer, recently attracted considerable attention when he found and returned to the rightful owner a package containing $10,000 worth of diamonds, was this afternoon held to answer to Superior Court following his preliminary examination before Judge Holbrook on a charge of issuing fictitious checks. He was ordered held in jail in default of $2000 bail.

Several worthless checks, dated variously from July 8 to 12 were introduced as evidence against the youth who put up the unique defense that he had expected to cover them July 14 by a loan of $25, from a friend whom he knew only as "Fred." The friend, he explained, had failed him. Young Belew admitted having passed one worthless check on a local bank to Herman W. Lampe, salesman for a local auto-supply house, when a tire on the motor car he was driving went flat when he was returning home from Sunday school and he was obliged to buy a new tube. He admitted receiving some cash in change on the check. George N. Knox, cashier of the bank or which the checks were issued, testified that young Belew had never had any account in the institution. Under examination by Dist.-Atty. George H. Johnson, Belew admitted that he had been arrested previously in Pomona on a worthless-check charge and had for a time been a ward of the Juvenile Court of Los Angeles county, but denied that he knew the passing of fictitious checks was a criminal offense.

POLICE AT EL CENTRO SHOW $3364 PROFIT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, July 29.—Figures of the annual police department report here show a profit of $3364.82 for the fiscal year just closed. Collections made by the department are shown at $26,722.91. Expenses are shown to be $23,358.09. General fines collected by the department are $12,398.75. In commenting on the report, Chief of Police Harry Barker said the profits of the department for the preceding year were $4327.60. He pointed out the fact that purchase of a new police car and other expenditures for new equipment had served to cut down profits of the department this year.

IMPERIAL VALLEY GETS LIGHT RAINS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, July 29.—Freak showers of short duration sprinkled the north end of the Imperial Valley yesterday, extending as far south as this city. Calipatria and vicinity were apparently the center of the precipitation, although the volume of water was reported to be but slight. Overcast skies hid the sun for the greater part of the day.

HANFORD HARVEST FESTIVAL PLANNED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, July 29.—The fifth annual harvest festival under the joint auspices of the Corcoran Chamber of Commerce and Thursday Club, is to be held September 29, next. The committees of arrangements from the Thursday Club are Mrs. E. C. Vonglahan, Mrs. C. A. Percell and Mrs. W. R. Farrel.

TWO IN IMMIGRATION NET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BRAWLEY, July 29.—Pedro Ramirez and Rosio Ruiz, Mexicans, were caught in the net which immigration officials have tightened over the border region and are now being held for deportation. The two men admitted to officers they had been in the United States only two days at the time of their arrest.

GINS BEGIN ON COTTON AT MEXICALI

Harvest of Estimated 125,000 Bales in Imperial Valley Under Way

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CALEXICO, July 29.—Imperial Valley's 1925 cotton harvest, which is expected to total 125,000 bales, started today, when Mexicali gins of the Globe Oil Mills Company ginned the first four bales to be picked in the Calexico district this season.

This cotton was grown in a volunteer field on the Globe ranch in Lower California. Picking is now actively under way on many of the ranches where volunteer cotton is already maturing, and the gins expect to be in daily operation until the end of the season.

The first cotton to be picked on the American side of the line in Imperial Valley, was ginned at Calipatria last Friday, when the Hartman plant produced a 500-pound bale grown on P. J. Brooks's ranch in the north end of the valley.

Conferences of Cotton Growers Are Scheduled

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, July 29.—Cotton men of the San Joaquin Valley, Sacramento Valley and Southern California, will hold separate conferences in their sections of the State in September and then meet in a general State conference, that will probably be held in this city, it was announced today by Al C. Joy, secretary of the executive committee of the San Joaquin Valley regional advisory council.

Freight rates, labor and maintenance of the present high quality of cotton will be the major items to be discussed at the regional meetings and later at the State conference, Joy said.

"Equalization of freight rates on cotton from producing centers in California to tidewater and to other States is an issue which confronts cotton men of this State," Joy said.

The San Joaquin Valley conference will be held on September 18, either in Bakersfield or Fresno.

The meetings will be under the auspices of the California Development Association.

BELIES HIS LOOKS

Grizzled Inglewood Inebriate Is Paragon of Courtesy

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

INGLEWOOD, July 29.—He did not look like a Sir Walter Raleigh type, this grizzled and frankly inebriated individual who erratically weaved his way through the entrance of the Inglewood Police Station n the smaller hours of this morning, but his words soon proved him a paragon of thoughtful courtesy.

"Lock me up, Sarge," was his husky greeting to the desk sergeant, "I'll admit I'm completely drunk. I have the best landlady in town and I wouldn't go back to my room and disgrace my landlady in this—hic—condition for worlds. All I ask is a nice, quiet cell to shhhleep it off."

Not to be outdone in thoughtfulness of others, the desk sergeant courteously granted his request. The courtly but inebriated one gave his name as T. Van de Goor, 67 years of age.

HERMOSA TRUSTEES IN PAVING DISCUSSION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HERMOSA BEACH, July 29.—Plans and specifications for the continuation of the Strand Walk from Twenty-sixth street to the northern city boundaries were presented to the Board of Trustees tonight. The Board also went into the matter of the improvement of Sixth and other streets, which have been pending. An extension of time has been granted the National Paving Company for the resurfacing of Pier avenue due to a contract which the paving company now has with the county. The resurfacing has been demanded of the paving company by the Board of Trustees, who were forced to condemn the contract due to the condition of the street following the recent paving.

COLORED WOMEN IN SESSION

Relationship of International Affairs to Race Problems Discussed by Club's Federation

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, July 29.—"What relation international affairs have on the race problem, was the center of discussion at the morning session of the State convention of State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs today. Mrs. Theodore Purnell of Oakland introduced the subject and discussion by the southern clubs followed.

The afternoon session was in the nature of an open forum. Mrs. Pearl Winters, as chairman of the ways and means committee, gave a report on the work of the committee. Mrs. H. B. Tilghman, for whom the federation buys a seat at the State Legislature each year, discussed legislative work done by the clubs, and Mrs. Lydia Jackson gave a report on suffrage.

CHILDREN'S HOUR HELD

The hour from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock was devoted to the children. The little folk opened their program with a parade through the church. A short musical program followed, after which Mrs. F. Richardson of Los Angeles, famous as a story teller, entertained the children as well as the members with her art.

This evening's session will be given over to an oratorical contest in which Miss Julia Mercer, Slodeskiou Girls' Club of San Diego, competes against Miss Sadie Lawson of the northern section.

Among the interesting reports given was that of the auditing committee, which places the valuation of the federation property in California at $50,550. This property is in clubhouses and in charity institutions, which are the East Side Mothers' Club in Los Angeles, the Sojourner Truth Home in Los Angeles, which is similar to the Young Woman's Christian Association, the Fanny Wall Orphanage and the Madam Walker Home, in Oakland.

CROWDS TURNED AWAY

Some 500 persons crowded the African Methodist Church to its capacity and many were unable to gain entrance last night when Mrs. Corina B Hicks, State president, delivered her annual address to the members of the federation. "To make and keep the home life clean; to crucify the spirit of self; to live up to the motto of the federation, deeds and not words,' in every-day life, and to follow the ex- Joan of Arc and the late Mrs. Booker T. Washington," was the plea of Mrs. Hicks to the club members.

PLAN JACK FROST WAR

Redlands District Orange Growers Discuss Orchard Heating After Hearing Committee Report

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, July 29.—A mass meeting of citrus growers of the Redlands district was held at the City Hall tonight at which time the committee authorized to prepare and make a report on the orchard heating needs for the district, presented a report. N. B. Hinckley, chairman of the committee, told of the needs of the district.

The committee believes that all the growers are now thoroughly awake to the need of equipment for heating and convinced of the fact that it cannot be generally successful unless most of the acreage is so equipped.

The Redlands district has over 10,000 acres of fine orange groves and less than 1000 acres were equipped for heating last year. During January there were many mornings when the mercury dropped to a point low enough to do some damage, but a few hours of orchard heating would have prevented any damage.

The committee made a survey and found certain sections where low temperatures always prevail when the mercury is at a dangerous point. These sections were blocked off and arrangements made by the packing-houses for the financing of growers who were not in shape to finance equipping their groves. The cost is about $200 per acre for the latest type of heaters.

The committee reports that over 2000 acres will be equipped the coming year and that an adequate supply of oil is assured by co-operation with the railroads and the installation of large oil tanks at strategic points. Over a quarter of a million dollars will be expended by growers this year in making plans to fight Jack Frost for the $6,000,000 orange crop grown here each year.

Enforcement of Bath Robe Rule at Beach Urged

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, July 29.—A communication from Delphine Delmas Barnes, daughter of one of the State's most noted attorneys, has been received by City Commissioners asking that an ordinance relative to the wearing of robes east of the Ocean Front walk on the city's beaches be more rigorously enforced. The communication was filed.

Considerable discussion on the "bathing-suit question" was heard. Commissioner Morton made a motion, which was not sustained, that it be referred to the Department of Public Safety. The head of that department immediately answered that it should be referred to the Department of Public Works, with instructions to prepare plans and specifications which would clearly define just what should be worn.

To this Commissioner Morton replied that he had tried that once before, with a result that he was flooded with communications from all over the United States regarding it, and that he had never really heard the last of it.

Then one of the Commissioners moved that the communication be filed. It was immediately carried without further comment.

METHODIST CHURCH AT HANFORD TO BUILD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, July 29.—The trustees of the First Methodist Church of Hanford have been granted a permit for alterations and additions to their church edifice at the corner of Ninth and North Irwin streets to involve an outlay of approximately $25,000.

The plans provide for remodeling and enlargement of the present auditorium to forty by seventy-five feet, with a seating capacity of 450. There is to be a domed ceiling, new pulpit and choir loft. The exterior finish is to be in stucco. The social hall is to be remodeled and enlarged to sixty-eight by thirty-five feet, with kitchen and dining-room accessories. There is to be a new Sunday-school annex of red brick. It is to contain accommodations for two departments on the lower floor and three on the upper with class-rooms.

PEDDLING MADE EASY BY SOUTH PASADENA

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH PASADENA, July 29.—The local peddlers' license fee, which has been $15 a month, payable three months in advance, has been reduced to $35 a year or $20 for six months. The Trustees of the city took this action at the request of a delegation of housewives and a communication from the Chamber of Commerce. It was the Chamber of Commerce that a short time ago backed the request of some seventeen or eighteen grocers for a large license fee. The Trustees and the chamber believe the news schedule will serve to protect the honest peddler as well as the grocer and the housewife, from the peddler who comes to South Pasadena for a day or two to dispose of vegetables and fruits of inferior quality.

GLENDALE TO WIDEN SAN FERNANDO ROAD

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, July 29.—The City Council today awarded the contract for the widening and paving of San Fernando Road, between the north and south city limits, to B. R. Ford of Santa Ana, after representatives of the city and of the San Fernando Road property owners had made an exhaustive examination of Ford's ability to carry out the contract and of his financial standing. The bid by Ford amounts to $343,467.59, and unless any protests are filed in the meantime the contract will be signed in ten days, with the condition that work start on the contract within thirty days after the signing of the papers. The time for the completion of the contract has been set at 180 days.

MAN, BURIED BY LUMBER, GIVEN HOPE

Doctors May Save His Life Despite Broken Back and Other Injuries

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, July 29. — Physicians of the Pasadena Hospital today started a great battle to save the life of Joseph Sintelair, 541 Summit avenue, and if successful in this act, to keep him from being a helpless cripple for the rest of his life.

Sintelair was standing near a heavily laden truck piled high with lumber. The braces gave way and the entire load fell on him.

At the hospital, where the man was taken as soon as workmen could free him from the mass of lumber, it was found that his back was broken, the pelvic bone shattered, both legs broken and his entire body a mass of deep cuts and bruises.

Dr. R. C. Olmstead and Dr. Frank Hodgdon, who have undertaken the task, announce they believe the man will live.

COLD CREEK CANYON ROAD BIDS REJECTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, July 29.—Bids for the Cold Creek Canyon link of the Sierra-to-the-Sea highway west of Coalinga were rejected by the Board of Supervisors this afternoon on the report made by Supervisor N. P. Gonuer, that the Coalinga Chamber of Commerce was opposed to paying more than the engineer's estimate of $150,000. Contractors were asked to submit bids on August 5, next. Those submitted ranged from $157,000 to $210,000. The project is being financed through an appropriation of $100,000 payable in two equal annual installments by the county, while the remainder is to be secured through formation of a road district. The route will serve as an outlet from Fresno and the San Joaquin Valley to the coast.

FIRE DEPARTMENT GIVES SHOWER BATHS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 29. Children to the number of 200 were given their first Wednesday afternoon ducking fete today, when they were sprayed for an hour by City Fire Marshal Hathaway and the firemen of the local department. A section of South Rita street was roped off and patrolled by Sergeant of Police Priestly, preventing vehicles from passing over that section of the thoroughfare.

Children ranging in ages from 5 to 12 years, all wearing bathing suits, gathered half an hour before the one hour's event.

The city fire marshal makes the announcement that this will be a weekly event for the children until the third week in September, when the school year opens.

PROGRAM FOR ROAD MEETING ANNOUNCED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA ANA, July 29.—Discussion by J. H. Lippincott of water conservation in Orange county; the presentation of matters concerning the State Highway Commission, and remarks by J. L. McBride, superintendent of county highways on the proposed Elsinore-Capistrano highway across the mountains are among the features scheduled for the meeting of the Orange county Associated Chambers of Commerce to be held on Thursday night in San Juan Capistrano, according to announcement made today by George Raymer, Fullerton, secretary of the county organization.

EL CENTRO LEGION OPENS FUND DRIVE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, July 29.—Boyce Aten Post, American Legion, opened its endowment fund drive yesterday with a total of $50 in contributions received. O. L. James, prominent Meloland rancher, gave $20 to the fund. Others whose contributions to the fund for orphans of ex-service men were reported are Ira Aten, father of Boyce Aten, lieutenant in the World War, killed in action in France; A. C. Farrar, P. A. WOMEN "STEAL DOUG'S STUFF"

Curious Jurors Scamper Over Roof to Catch Glimpse of "Our Mary" and Voice Consensus of Opinion by Sighing "She's Just the Sweetest Thing."

Douglas Fairbanks, athletic prowess, at least his well-known ability to perform breath-taking deeds in service of the lady fair, has met its equal. Yesterday afternoon, when Mary Pickford slipped in to testify at the trial of Charles Z. Stevens, Adrian J. Wood and Claude A. Holcomb, charged with conspiracy to kidnap her, three women jurors from the court across the way clambered over the roof and made their appearance by way of the window in Judge Victor McLucas's chambers, where their favorite had "retired" until called to testify.

The adventurous ones were Mary Kathryn Clough, Catherine C. Marshall and Mrs. Alice Spellman, serving on the case of the people versus Lee A. Cole, charged with manslaughter, now in session in Judge Hugh J. Crawford's court.

"We never had seen Mary Pickford before and we wanted to shake hands with her," explained Miss Clough, leader of the exodus. "She is the sweetest thing! I have always wondered about her hair. It is golden, isn't it?"

The other jurors fervently echoed Miss Clough's praise, declaring themselves amply repaid for any risks they had taken. They beamed, with the satisfaction and enthusiasm of young girls.

SHARES THEIR PLEASURE

And Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, as she chose to be addressed on the stand, shared their pleasure. After thanking them for making such an effort to meet her, she naively remarked, "It is wonderful to feel that they are so interested. It makes you thrill—inside. You know, we live in another world, apart, and so much enthusiasm is encouraging."

Judge Crawford himself was in no way disconcerted because he was practically minus a jury for a short time. In fact, he amiably asserted that he didn't blame his jury for "deserting" to see Mary Pickford and really might have done it himself.

"We wish you were in our court room," the wandering jury women had informed Miss Pickford.

And, apparently, the women who are connected with the trial are content with their lot. Among the spectators during the days of the trial, which had its breathless climax in the appearance of the small lady herself, women of mature years have predominated. Down the crowded aisles, a number of white heads are visible, while the strictly flapper spectator is almost absent.

It seems that the staunchest admirers of "Little Mary" are the women, especially the older ones.

THREE ON JURY

And there are three women on the jury which will decide the case of the men against whom dark charges have been made. These feminine arbiters are remarkably similar in age, appearance and, apparently, in ideas, to the women who made such an effort to get a "close-up" of their favorite.

During the few tense minutes of the actress's testimony the courtroom was breathless, though the walls were double lined and the aisles and doorway jammed, for the kind-hearted custodian had taken pity on the patient waiters without and allowed them a glimpse.

One element, usually so prominent at so-called "big" trials, was impossible to find. As the flapper was greatly overshadowed in numbers by her older sister and her mother, so her masculine prototype simply did not exist. The young boys—the sleek, natty youngsters—paid no tribute to "Our Mary."

But she had the audience with her while she gave her meager testimony. They responded to the slightest change in her voice, to the smallest inflection.

CURLS TUCKED AWAY

Dressed as the Mary Pickford the picture fans know, except that the famous curls were tucked under a tiny hat, she looked absurdly young and small. Dark brown dress, severely youthful, round, little hat, make-up conspicuously lacking, she was the Mary of the little girl pictures in the flesh.

However, her testimony was clear and concise. No hesitation, for instance, about the address of her studio, the cause of some embarrassment to her famous husband the day before, when he failed to remember the number.

And when she left—with the major part of the crowd following for a last glimpse, a woman expressed the general sentiment, "She is so sweet!"

REPUBLICAN CLUB BEGUN BY WOMEN

Organization Formed at Meeting in Santa Monica Bay District

At an organization meeting preliminary to affiliation with the State body, thirty-five women met at the home of Mrs. A. W. McPherson, 315 Palisades avenue, Santa Monica, and launched the Women's Republican Club of the Santa Monica Bay district.

Temporary officers chosen were Mrs. D. G. Stephens, chairman, and Mrs. Arthur Weber, secretary.

The purpose of the organization is to study the principles and policies of the Republican party, to encourage active citizenship, and to co-operate with the central committees in campaign times for the election of Republican candidates for office. The new club also pledged itself to co-operate with the Republican Woman's Federation of California, southern division, and will become a unit of this body at its permanent organization meeting to be held the last Tuesday in August. Members of the nomination committee are Mrs. A. X. Wilmot, Mrs. S. E. Hamilton and Mrs. J. L. D. Chandler.

Miss Nellie E. Kelley of Washington, D. C., an organizer for the Republican Woman's Federation of California, was the speaker of the day.

JAPANESE HELD ON STATUTORY CHARGE

Sukusacoro Tsukamoto, said to be an officer of the Japanese Salvation Army, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Monteleone and Amstein, charged with statutory offenses against Tasachiye Murao, a girl 5 years of age. The officers said they understood he brought the child here from San Francisco. Tsukamoto was in uniform when arrested. He professed to speak no English.

MARY CREATES COURT FUROR

she was asked by Mr. Aggeler.

"It was a Ford car, I was told." What car did you use?

"A Rolls-Royce," said Mary.

The crowd smiled and Bailiff Bryant rapped for order.

CROWD RESPECTFUL

The jury was following every word of Mary's with intense interest. The men on the further end of the jury box leaned forward. The seats in the room were filled. Scores crowded against the walls and the aisles leading from the hall were filled with tightly packed humanity.

After Mary's departure the crowd thinned out. "Louis, the Spider," for days subject of terrific attack by the defense forces, made little impression. Nor did the fact that the court allowed the asserted confessions of the defendants into the evidence of the case. It was Mary's day in court, and Mary held the spotlight, even to the exclusion of her famous husband.

Only once did the dynamic Doug hold the center of the unique stage, and that was while Doug was helping Mary out of the courtroom while the prosecution and defense attorneys were talking about the widely heralded Mr. Geck. Mary was walking down the aisle toward the exit, with Ma Pickford in the vanguard, Robert Fairbanks and John G. Mott, Mary's attorney, in the center and Doug as the rear guard, when S. S. Hahn, attorney for Stevens, asked the court to halt Mr. Fairbanks.

Hahn wanted to make use of Doug's presence to identify, if possible, Louis Geck, whose presence in court was announced by McCartney a few minutes before.

"Mr. Fairbanks, will you please remain a minute?" Hahn said. Doug halted uncertainly. Mary looked back and the crowd surged forward once more.

"I'll see you downstairs," he called out to her, and walked back to the attorney's table.

Hahn asked him to look at Geck and see if he could identify him.

"I think that is the man I saw at the studio," Fairbanks said in answer to the question.

"Aren't you certain?" Hahn demanded.

"Ask him to put his hat on," Doug shot back.

The court ordered Geck to stand up and place his hat on his head. Fairbanks took a step backward, lowered his eyebrows, contemplated Geck for a few seconds, and announced that he was certain it was Geck. He was excused.

It was estimated that the courtroom, which ordinarily holds 150 persons, including the seats inside the rail and attorneys' table, held nearly 400 persons when Mary was on the stand, and that another 500 found space in the hallways and near-by windows.

CROWD FADES RAPIDLY

But the crowd faded out with amazing rapidity when the elevator cage carrying Mary and her party dropped down and out of sight. As the courtroom cleared, the State's attorneys began to send home their most important thrusts and the introduction into evidence of the alleged confessions began.

These confessions were allowed after strenuous objections on the part of Public Defender Aggeler, his assistant, Vercoe, Attorney Hahn and John A. Holland, for defendant Holcomb. The objections were based on the defense claim that force and duress were used and that the corpus delicti—in this case that a crime had been committed—was not established. One after another Judge McLucas overruled the objections and one by one the statements went into the evidence of the case.

The prosecution victory in these rulings did not come until after practically the whole day was taken up in testimony designed to offset the defense claim that force and violence were used on Defendants Stevens and Holcomb and that Wood was promised probation if he made a satisfactory statement.

This legal battle was marked by heated skirmishes between the attorneys on both sides. Harry Raymond, the object of a bitter attack by the defense, also was called to the stand, as were Stevens, Holcomb and Wood.

Deputies Van Cott and McKay assisted McCartney during the sessions yesterday.

REPORTERS CALLED

Holcomb, Sheriff Traeger, Walter M. Naughton and A. M. Rochlen, newspaper reporters who "covered" the case at the time of the arrests and the taking of the statements in question, Assistant Captain of Detectives Joseph Taylor, Detective Raymond, Defendant Wood, Detective Mayer, Defendant Stevens, and Police Photographer Florentine, were the other witnesses of the day.

The three defendants again repeated their stories, in which they charged that Raymond had beaten Holcomb and Stevens and promised Wood probation. Stevens, from the stand, said that Raymond broke three of his ribs and had kicked him in the abdomen with his knees while he and Stevens were alone in a room. Attorney Hahn then offered, in re-direct examinations, to submit Stevens to an examination by the prosecution physicians. This offer was not accepted.

It was during this phase of the testimony, while the newspaper reporters were on the stand, that Hahn referred to Raymond as "citizen Raymond" and "layman Raymond." Raymond admitted he was not a regular police officer, but testified that he was employed directly by Chief of Detectives Home and read into the record the fact that he had been Chief of Detectives for the District Attorney's office, was connected with the Theft Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California and had a State license and was bonded to do detective work.

PHOTOGRAPH SHOWN

Naughton and Rochlen were put on the stand by the State to show that neither Stevens nor Holcomb showed any evidence of having been beaten when they saw them. Raymond also introduced into evidence a photograph showing that his right hand was bandaged when a news picture was taken of him and two of the defendants shortly after their arrest. The defense claimed that the asserted beating took place the next day and that Raymond had used his right hand.

Juror M. F. Eggerman showed considerable interest in the asserted brutality phase of the testimony and asked several questions of Detective Mayer. Raymond's hand, it developed, was bandaged because he had sprained it in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium the day before the arrests.

AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS' WEEKLY PRIZE CONTEST

To encourage the making of more and better photographs for rotogravure reproduction The Times offers the following cash prizes weekly for photos by nonprofessionals:

$2 each for all other photographs accepted for publication.

The first contest began Sunday and ends next Saturday evening. All pictures received during this week will be judged as entries in the first contest. All received after next Saturday and before the following Sunday will be entered in the second contest, and so on.

The first list of prize-winners will be announced August 9 and subsequent lists every Sunday thereafter.

All prize-winning photographs will be reproduced in the rotogravure section. The first set will appear August 23, comprising the prize-winning photographs of August 9.

Everybody is eligible except professional photographers and employees of The Times or their relatives. There are no geographical limitations on contestants except that, other things being equal, a Southern California photograph will be given the preference.

Address all pictures to Photo Contest Editor, The Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

The Times cannot undertake to return any pictures submitted.

Photographs submitted in this contest should be printed on No. 1 or single-weight paper, 5x7 or 8x10 in size. Write name and address and title of picture—if it has one—with a soft lead pencil on reverse of print. Don't lean on your pencil or the impression will show through. Tell where the picture was taken.

The Times reserves the right to call for and use the negative of any photograph accepted for publication. The negative will be returned to the owner after use.

As photographs are to be judged primarily for rotogravure reproduction, keep in mind that the best results in this medium are secured through the use of sharp photographs, with a good range of tone. Soft focus photographs are not generally desirable. An exception is where the picture is diffused to center attention on the part to be emphasized. Black copy is not acceptable. Most photographers find that the best results are obtained by the use of ferrotyped or glossy paper.

Every photograph submitted should tell a story which is so obvious or so provocative of thought that a caption or identifying line is not really necessary. Photography is an art; use it as an art.

MEAN THIEF TAKES TOLL IN LINGERIE

Part of Trousseau Vanishes During Owner's Absence from Hollywood Home

In a neat cedar chest beneath her bed, Miss Lorrie Larson, pretty Hollywood divorcee, living at 1542 North Stanley avenue, had a complete trousseau several days ago ready for her coming marriage.

In the same chest today only a part of her fancy garments remain.

During her absence, while she was working at an exclusive shop, which she owns at 6611 Hollywood Boulevard, a thief entered her home and purloined lingerie valued at $500, including a suit of blue georgette pajamas trimmed in cream lace and said to be worth $150.

Before leaving the house yesterday, Miss Larson noticed a foreigner and a colored man loitering around. She thought the incident insignificant until she missed her stolen silk garments.

Detective Lieutenant E. E. Haak, who was assigned to the case, is now seeking the strange men seen by Miss Larson, and believes that one of them stole the lingerie as a present for the object of his affections.

When Miss Larson took inventory yesterday she discovered that the thief had overlooked a $300 Spanish shawl and another pair of pajamas she values at $100.

Film Company Defendants in $50,000 Action

Charging breach of contract, Leonard Abrahams, a motion-picture film laboratory technical expert, yesterday brought suit for $50,000 against the Consolidated Film Industries, Inc.

Abrahams asserted he entered into a contract with the defendant February 2, last, whereby he was to act as technical expert of the defendant's Los Angeles plant for a period of five years at a salary of $10,000 a year. He asserted the defendant discharged him May 6, last, in violation of the contract. Abrahams filed his complaint through Attorneys Milton M. Cohen and Jerome H. Kann.

WOMAN WORKS AS UNDERTAKER

Learned Business So Well That Competitors Worry

Missouri Matron Attends National Convention

Soft Clinging Gowns Urged for Fair Sex in Trade

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND (Me.) July 29.—The mannish tailored suit, the high-collared blouse and the ultra flat-heeled, bulldog shoes should be tabooed by women who have entered the business world. Instead, these women should wear soft, clinging silk gowns and their feet should be always shod in the latest feminine fashion.

This is the opinion of Mrs. Alma Lothmeyer of Springfield, Mo., who asserts she is engaged in the most feminine business in the world, that of a funeral director. And she is only one of the 3000 women who attended the convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, who is in this business.

Mrs. Lothmeyer has learned her business so thoroughly in the past six years that competitors in her home town are considering moving to new fields where women are women and not funeral directors.

Of course, everyone knows that one shudders at the idea of an undertaker. Mrs. Lothmeyer did, too, but that was six years ago. She's a woman, whose business was wished on her," not selected by her, and according to other Missouri delegates, she has made remarkable success.

A bubbling friendly personality has Mrs. Lothmeyer, not at all like the long-faced undertaker of screen and stage. She's so friendly herself that men folks in Springfield elected her president of the Retail Credit Board last year and the business women of the State chose her as vice-president. Now she's national vice-president in the Federation and one of the most popular figures at the convention.

"Yes, I did rather dislike marrying an undertaker," Mrs. Lothmeyer admitted. "But I loved him, and undertaker or not, I married him. But I never dreamed that I ever would be in the business.

"But my husband died several years ago and I took over the business temporarily, never thinking that I would be in it very long. But then I heard my competitors say I'd be out of the business in six months. That aroused my fighting spirit, so here I am, still a funeral director," she declared with spirit.

FILM ACTOR DIES AFTER CAR MISHAP

Amputation of Leg Takes Life of Mark Fenton, Known as Character Player

Mark Fenton, 55 years of age, widely known throughout Hollywood as a motion-picture character actor, died last evening in the Receiving Hospital after the amputation of his left leg, which was crushed in an automobile accident on Cahuenga avenue.

Fenton, who established himself in picture work two years ago through his portrayal of the physician in William Fox's production of "The Village Blacksmith," was standing on the running board of an automobile driven by Murdock McQuarrie, 7943 Selma avenue, as it was being backed out of a driveway. The machine was struck by an inbound stage from Santa Barbara, and Fenton's leg was crushed at the knee.

The injury was so severe that Drs. Manning and Sebastian decided to amputate at once when the actor was rushed to Receiving Hospital. Fenton's weakness, aggravated by shock and loss of blood, was such, however, that he failed to recover after the operation. The body was taken to the Mark A. Pierce undertaking parlors.

Fenton, who last appeared in pictures in several recent Universal productions, leaves his widow. His home was at 1805 Cahuenga avenue.

COUNCILMAN SAYS NAMES ARE FORGED

Colden Declares Lighting Petitions Need Watching; Protesters Are Victorious

Councilman Colden announced a policy of careful investigation of petitions for lighting and street improvements yesterday when the Council was hearing protests from property owners on the installation of an ornamental lighting system on Western avenue from Slauson to Manchester avenues.

"I know that many names were forged to petitions in the Harbor district," said Councilman Colden. "The time has come to call a halt to the methods employed by some business men. Henceforth I shall examine with great care the names appended to such petitions."

His remarks were greeted with acclamation and applause by many people crowded in the Council Chamber to discover the outcome of their protests.

Councilman Randall said that in regard to the Western avenue protest it appeared that two lighting-post companies were fighting for the business, and proposed that the improvement be dropped.

Thirty-six per cent of the property owners protested. The Council voted to abandon the proceedings.

POST GRADUATE IN SCHOOL OF BEGGING

H. E. Graham

FAKER DEAN MAKES GOOD HIS ESCAPE

Man Who Taught Pupils How to Simulate Cripples and Beg, Lost to Police

The "dean" of a Los Angeles school for fakers, where men and women, mostly dope fiends, are taught the art of posing as cripples and deaf mutes and sent out on the streets to prey on the public by begging, has successfully eluded the Los Angeles police for the last ten days.

A man, said to be a brother of the teacher, a bellboy in a prominent downtown hotel, reported yesterday that the "dean" had gone into hiding since the expose of his asserted school by the arrest at Huntington Beach two weeks ago of H. E. Graham, 28 years of age, 940½ Francisco street, Los Angeles.

After being sentenced to ninety days in the Orange County Jail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, Graham gave the name of a local man as head of the school. He said he paid this man $250 for the course in begging and then launched his begging career, outfitted with letters from prominent citizens which were supplied by the man and which told of his terrible affliction. Graham said he was one of many students at the school and that the head had amassed great wealth by his teachings, which have been directed in that line since he was 16 years of age.

Persons at the West Ninth-street address yesterday said this man had not been in his room for several weeks. His clothing was moved out by a brother, they said.

The teacher's cue to beginners is "keep your mouth shut and don't appear to notice what is going on about you," Graham told the police. When small bombs were set off unexpectedly behind Graham at the jail, it is said he exhibited no sign of emotion. It was several hours before the police could break through his silence.

Acting on the theory that real mutes never beg, Robert Mepham, 2657 Longwood avenue, himself a mute, caused Graham's arrest when he found the faker begging in the beach city.

"He was robbing the deaf babies of milk," Mepham wrote. "When he goes begging in factories and stores the public gets a wrong impression and then when real deaf persons ask for work the boss thinks we are nothing but mere beggars. Real mutes never beg."

REHEARING ASKED IN RELEASE OF PRISONER

The State yesterday petitioned the Supreme Court to rehear a recent decision of the Second District Court of Appeal which ordered A. W. Bomar, convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses, released on technical grounds.

Bomar originally was charged with grand larceny. This complaint was dismissed and he was held to answer to Superior Court on a new charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. When Bomar appealed the conviction the Appellate Court took the view that the substitution of charges was irregular and the case should be dismissed against him.

The petition was filed with the high court yesterday by Dep. Atty.-Gen. Flynn.

WOMEN SENDING SLAYER NOTES

Fruit, Cake and Flowers Also Reported in Cell of Indian

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) July 29.—A number of Prescott women are reported to be sending notes, fruit, cakes and flowers to the cell of Dixon Sujynamie, a Wallapai Indian, convicted of the brutal and unprovoked murder of Arthur M. Cavell, an old automobile driver, whose car then was used to carry the slayer to the reservation of his tribe in Northwestern Arizona. The victim was struck down on the Whipple Barracks military reservation, near Prescott.

LOVE NOTES INVOKED TO GET MONEY

Ex-Policeman Warned by Judge to Pay Fees in Wife's Pending Divorce Suit

William Walter Thomas, former Los Angeles police officer, was warned yesterday afternoon by Superior Judge Hollzer against sending any more letters to strange women addressed "My Precious Sweetheart," and promising money, until he had paid the attorney fees and costs assessed against him in his wife's pending divorce suit.

Mrs. Mary Margaret Thomas appeared before Judge Hollzer yesterday and had her former husband haled into court. In support of her argument that he was able to pay the costs of the suit she produced a letter said to have been written by him to one Mamie Abbott, who had been named as co-respondent in the suit.

The letter was addressed to "My Precious Sweetheart," and was couched in endearing terms.

Thomas admitted writing the letter to the woman, but said that it was nothing but a "lot of hot air."

Thomas has contested his wife's suit and has filed a cross-complaint in which he said that she had threatened to shoot him, that she had kept up correspondence with her third husband, that she had been intoxicated and had danced once on a table in presence of other men and had been the cause of him losing his position in the police department.

Judge Hollzer said that as long as there was no proof of Thomas having sent money he would give him another chance. He said, however, that if he was brought into court again for nonpayment he would send him to jail for contempt of court.

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR PORT PLAN

Commissioner Allen Will Assist in Solution of Harbor Rail Problem

Harbor Commissioner Walter Allen yesterday was named as a committee of one to confer with a representative of the City Council and the Santa Fe Railway looking to a plan to straighten out the involved problem of the railroad's entry to the harbor.

The Harbor Department has received authorization to construct and extend the Municipal Belt Line 3000 feet north across Anaheim Road to join the Santa Fe tracks. Meanwhile efforts are being made to induce the Southern Pacific, Pacific Electric and Santa Fe to join with the Union Pacific and municipalities in the Dominguez project for tubes under Anaheim Road.

The Harbor Department was granted permission by the War Department to dredge in two places in the harbor. Permission was given to dredge to a depth of thirty-five feet in the northwest slip of the West Basin, near the Union Oil Company refinery, which will make land acceptable for leasing, and to ten feet in the central part of the East Basin, near the California Yacht Club, thus making available more yacht anchorage.

FUND PACT COERCION ASSERTED

Bride Declares Husband Threatened Her Unless She Signed Settlement

Declaring she was frightened and coerced into signing a property settlement with her husband a few days after their marriage, by the terms of which she accepted $50 in cash and waived all claims against him, Mrs. Mary E. Elkins yesterday filed suit against H. D. Elkins to have the settlement declared void.

In her complaint, Mrs. Elkins asserted her husband represented to her before their marriage that he owned property in Long Beach and Pomona and an orange ranch near Chino. He was said to have told her that if she would marry him he would provide her with a home and she would never have to work.

The couple were married in Santa Ana the 16th inst., according to the complaint, which added that on the 22nd inst. Elkins took Mrs. Elkins to San Bernardino, threatened her and abused her and then took her to an attorney's office where she said she signed the property agreement without knowing what she was doing.

EX-CAPTAIN IN MEXICAN ARMY FREED

Juan Terrazas Released in Vagrancy Charge as Evidence Insufficient

The charge of vagrancy against Capt. Juan R. Fernandez Terrazas, former captain in the Mexican army, was marked off the books yesterday afternoon in Police Judge Chambers's court, when he was released because of insufficient evidence.

Terrazas was arrested several days ago on the charge of suspicion of robbery. The charge subsequently was reduced to vagrancy, to which he pleaded not guilty, and asked for a jury trial.

The Mexican captain is 40 years of age, and, according to his statement, is a relative of the Terrazas family of Chihuahua. Upon his arrival here last May, he announced, after a two-year search, he had recovered a certain document which entitled him to 10,000 acres in Chihuahua and the State of Texas. The land originally was granted to the Fernandez family by the King of Spain in 1775, he said. However, he is not yet in possession of the land, though he hopes at some future time to establish his claim.

THREE HURT IN FILM SCENE

Actor Cowboys Crushed by Horses in Accident Perhaps Fatally Injured

Crushed beneath the hoofs of a score of galloping horses during the filming of a motion picture, three cowboy actors were injured, two perhaps fatally, near Chatsworth yesterday.

The trio was leading a posse of horsemen in a thrilling film chase after "bad men" when the accident occurred, according to reports to the Hollywood police.

Harry Woods, 34 years of age, of 2033 Las Palmas avenue, and W. T. Sherman, 28, of 5351 Fountain avenue, were the most seriously injured. Woods suffered a possibly broken back, internal injuries and a broken shoulder, according to surgeons at the Ferry, Dickie and Cass Hospital in Hollywood where he was taken for emergency treatment before removal to Angelus Hospital. Sherman suffered a broken shoulder and was believed to have a broken vertibrae in his neck. He was taken direct to Angelus Hospital. The third cowboy, Emory Boggs, 32, of 2662 Gleneden street, received a compound fracture of the right arm.

The three men were leading a posse of cowboys over a zig-zagging path down a steep hill at a breakneck speed when Woods's horse, slightly in advance of the other two, stumbled and fell, according to the reports. The horse of the other two piled up on Woods and then the entire posse, sweeping over the brow of the hill, was upon the three men and their horses before their predicament was seen.

The scene was part of a film starring Buck Jones, who with Miss Florence Gilbert, the leading lady, and Director Roy Neill, were watching the chase and standing but a few feet from the spot where the accident occurred, according to the reports.

Film work was abandoned while members of the company ministered to the injured men. Boggs, the least seriously injured, was placed in an automobile and started toward Hollywood, while other cars were set to summon an ambulance from Chatsworth for the two seriously injured men.

FRENCH ACE WILL ARRIVE HERE TODAY

Capt. Nungesser, Credited With 105 Air Victories in War, to Stage Flights

Capt. Charles Nungesser, French "ace," who was credited with bringing down 105 enemy planes during the World War, is to arrive in Los Angeles today for a ten-day visit. During the visit he plans to make flights over the city in one of the planes he piloted during the war and to stage a realistic mock battle in the clouds aided by Lieut. Maurice Weiss, also of the French aviation service.

Presentation of a "Nungesser medal" to Mayor Cryer will take place at the City Hall shortly after the captain's arrival, according to announcements. He is to be greeted at the train by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Capt. Nungesser is believed to have received more decorations than any other aviator in the world. The list includes the Croix De Guerre with thirty citations, Military Medal, Military Cross, Distinguished Service Cross, Belgian Croix De Guerre, Portuguese Croix De Guerre and many others. He is an officer of the Legion of Honor, knight of the Order of Leopold, knight of the Order of Karageorgevitch, knight of the Order of Michel and knight of the Order of Danilo.

ARGENTINE'S SENATE HITS OLD AGE PENSION

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BUENOS AIRES, July 29.—By 13 votes to 5 the Senate yesterday approved a bill suspending the operation of the Argentine old-age pension law. It ordered the return of all contributions made to date by employers and workers. The bill now goes to the Chamber of Deputies, where it is expected to receive its final death blow.

OIL PROPERTY—
Miscellaneous

ARKANSAS, the wonder oil field of America. We have a block situated on the same structure as Smackover, Norphlet and Luann, which astonished the world for the production from the first, second and third sands by producing 20,000 to 30,000 barrels per day.

We are selling these leases in our block with a guarantee to drill to 3000 feet unless oil or gas is found at a lesser depth to prove up your leases. Sixty per cent of all money derived from the sale of leases will be deposited in a bank in Los Angeles to carry out our guarantee. There never was such an offer. The man who has made money out of oil is not the one who has invested in stocks, but the one who owned the leases. We expect to spud in next month, which will increase the value. We know the oil business and have the confidence in our block.

If interested, wire, write or call, as these leases are being sold fast.

OIL PROPERTY—
Miscellaneous

ARKANSAS, the wonder oil field of America. We have a block situated on the same structure as Smackover, Norphlet and Luann, which astonished the world for the production from the first, second and third sands by producing 20,000 to 30,000 barrels per day. We are selling these leases in our block with a guarantee to drill to 3000 feet unless oil or gas is found at a lesser depth to prove up your leases. Sixty per cent of all money derived from the sale of leases will be deposited in a bank in Los Angeles to carry out our guarantee. There never was such an offer. The man who has made money out of oil is not the one who has invested in stocks, but the one who owned the leases. We expect to spud in next month, which will increase the value. We know the oil business and have the confidence in our block. If interested, wire, write or call, as these leases are being sold fast. TO LOAN—
Money

Real Estate Improvements

5½% MONEY.

Through our Eastern connections we are now able to offer the public money at the low rate of 5½% per annum on improved property in settled locations. This includes residential as well as business property. Loans made on a five-year basis.

5½% FLAT LOAN.

Up to 40% of a conservative valuation. We make a flat loan of 5½% for three years at reduced commission. This is the kind of a loan that some borrowers have been wanting. Now is the time to get it.

6% INSTALLMENT LOAN.

This is attractive to the home owner. With this loan we go close to 60% of the valuation of the property. The payments are easy. The interest is adjusted every month, so that the borrower pays interest on his balance only. He can reduce the loan as rapidly as possible.

200-MONTH PLAN.

With this plan the loan is entirely amortized in two hundred months at the rate of ½% each month. Amounts of $8100 to $100,000 considered on this basis, 6% interest. We approve loans for more than 50% of the value of the property on this plan. It takes the place of the small bond issue at much less expense.

BUILDING LOANS.

We are making building loans at the low rate of 7%. Will refinance into one of the above loans according to the nature of the loan. You can start building four or five days after application for loan has been made.

SURROUNDING TERRITORY.

Applications considered from Inglewood, Compton, Burbank, Pasadena, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Huntington Park, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Beverly Hills, Glendale.

DISPATCH TELLS ITALY FIGHTING

Fascisti and Opposition Said Still in Conflict

University Men's Convention Reported Closed

News of Trouble Received Despite Censors

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 29.—Il Progreso Italo-Americano, a newspaper published in New York, in a dispatch from Rome reports that fighting is continuing at Parma between the Fascisti and members of the forces in opposition to Mussolini. The dispatch also says that Sig. Farinacci, Fascist leader in struggles between Fascisti and crippled veterans, stated the Fascisti had meant no harm when they invaded the headquarters of the disabled soldiers but they wanted only to offer a Fascisti banner.

Another Rome dispatch says the prefect closed a convention of university men because they had prepared a sharp criticism of changes made in the curriculum by Fascist Minister of Education Gentile.

The news of these events leaked through the censorship imposed by the Mussolini dictatorship, which has ordered the explusion of George Seldes, the Chicago Tribune Rome correspondent, from Italy because he refused to write his news to suit the Fascist regime.

The Italian embassy in Washington said it did not know to what specific reports exception had been taken. The embassy said that Italy had no objections to correspodents reflecting conditions in Italy as they actually are, but it does seek to prevent correspondents from being made use of by the most dangerous element of the opposition to mislead public opinion on the outside to the injury of Italy.

The Mussolini government recently carried on a stern campaign in Italy to halt the crash of the lira. Reports received in other nations of untoward actions naturally would be reflected on the strength of the lira and would injure Italy's chances of obtaining credit in the world finance markets.

Mr. Seldes will forward a full statement from Paris giving his side of his troubles with the Italian government. Previously the censorship has prevented him from doing this, although the Fascist version of the affair has been cabled to America.

DAUGHERTY AIDE HIT BY PISTOL SHOT

Examiner for Corporation Commission Slightly Hurt by Stray Bullet

Edward P. Morse, an examiner for the State Corporation Commission, was treated at the Receiving Hospital last night for a slight wound in the right cheek caused by what he described as a "stray bullet."

Morse, who lives at 1021 West Fourth street, told the hospital authorities that he was standing at a street corner in Altadena early last evening when he heard a shot and felt something graze his cheek. He could not learn where the shot came from, he said. The wound was only a slight one and Morse dropped in at the hospital to have it treated upon arriving in Los Angeles. No report on the matter had been made to the Altadena or Pasadena officers, they stated.

DUENNA BAFFLED BY ROMEO

Ardent Swain from Old Mexico Elopes With Fair Damsel of Choice Sent to Home of Relatives Here by Parents When His Suit Failed to Please

If all the world loves a lover then Carlos Canales, 28-year-old Mexican naval officer, late of Sonora, bids fair to outrival any of our much-touted screen heart-wreckers, for Canales during a brief few days in Los Angeles staged a stirring romance and cast himself as the leading man.

Here is the plot in detail:

Down in Guaymas, Old Mexico, Canales met and loved Margareta Luders, 24 years of age, the beautiful daughter of wealthy parents.

Her parents, resenting the attentions of the impecunious but handsome sailor, sent their daughter to the home of her uncle, Pablo De Negri, 246 North Catalina street, about five weeks ago.

But in true lover fashion, Canales overcame all obstacles and appeared at the Negri home a few days ago.

"I want to see Margareta," he told the young lady's aunt.

"But she left for New York three days ago," declared the older woman, thinking to discourage the ardent swain. Margareta at the moment was crying softly on a divan. Perhaps a sniff reached the ears of Canales. Anyway—

"Ah, if I only knew that she still loved me!" he breathed. "Will you wire and ask her?"

Assured that the message would be sent, he left, but was later seen about the house with two companions. Tuesday night Margareta left via her bedroom window. Her aunt and uncle notified the police. Yesterday morning a man declaring himself to be Canales called the Negri home and announced that he and Miss Luders had been married. The girl's parents in Mexico were notified by wire.

NEW MOVE IN MINTER FUND ROW

Former Film Star Files Amended Bill Demanding Accounting by Mother

Attorneys for Mary Miles Minter, former screen star, yesterday filed in the Superior Court an amended complaint in the suit instituted by Miss Minter last January for an accounting of large sums of money Miss Minter said she earned during her screen career and which were turned over to her mother as her guardian. The suit is directed at Charlotte Shelby, also known as Pearl Miles Reilly, mother of Miss Minter, who is also nown as Juliet Shelby and Juliet Reilly.

MARY MILES MINTER

The complaint filed yesterday was similar to Miss Minter's original bill in its allegations, but was somewhat simplified in its nature and was verfied by the former screen star herself.

In her amended bill Miss Minter asserted her mother received in excess of $250,000 from the old American Film Company for services Miss Minter said she rendered for that company several years ago, while she was still in her early teens.

Miss Minter also declared her mother received approximately $960,000 from the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation on a contract by which Miss Minter worked in a series of films at compensation of from $50,000 to $60,000 for each production.

Her mother, according to Miss Minter, has admitted receiving the sums and has not denied responsibility, but has failed make an accounting to the former actress. Miss Minter declared that the financial affairs concerned in the suit were so complicated because of a multiplicity of individual items involved that nothing but a court of equity could determine the accounts or do justice between the parties to the action.

Mrs. Shelby, the former screen actress stated, has invested and reinvested a large part of the money in Los Angeles and vicinity, and the former star asked the court to determine her interests in the property and make an order turning it over to her. Miss Minter verified the amended bill the 24th inst. in New York and it was filed by her attorneys, O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuller and Macneil. Her original complaint was filed January 29, last, but as yet no court action has been taken on it nor has Mrs. Shelby filed an answer.

HERE'S MODEL OF PALE PULCHRITUDE

May Allison

Another American film actress has won recognition in French art circles. May Allison, First National player, has been selected by Capt. Etienne De Marsac, celebrated French savant, as the most perfect type of blond beauty. In a letter received this week by First National, Capt. Marsac requests a series of portraits of Miss Allison from one of which a life-size painting will be made to grace his private art salon, considered one of the finest in Paris.

Capt. De Marsac met Miss Allison in New York earlier in the year while he was making a study of some of our finer art galleries and remarked at that time on her strikingly individual type of beauty.

Woman Found Murdered in Switzerland Believed Wife of Berkeley Capitalist

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BASLE (Switzerland) July 29.—The body of a woman, believed by the police to be that of Mary Bowen, was found today in the vicinity of Goethenaum, a suburb of Basle.

There was a revolver or knife wound extending through the heart and the opinion is the woman was murdered. She was about 35 years of age. The police assert that papers found on the body indicate that she came from Berkeley, Cal.

The police used a bloodhound after the body was found in an endeavor to run down the supposed murderers of the woman, but without result. She arrived in Basle a few days ago. In addition to papers, some money was found on the body.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The woman mentioned in dispatches today as having been murdered in Switzerland is believed to have been the wife of Howard D. Bowen, retired capitalist and former Hawaiian sugar planter, who lives at 800 Arlington avenue, Berkeley. She was the mother of two sons, Donald, 8 years of age, and Robert, 12.

Mrs. Bowen left Berkeley, May 25, last, with Miss Mary Elinor George of 1276 Jones street, San Francisco. Their tour was to include London, Paris, Brittany and Switzerland, where they were to attend an educational and theological conference. They were to have returned here within three weeks.

Bowen said today that he was in complete ignorance of the tragedy except as it had been conveyed to him in news dispatches.

Woman Scorned bv Her Husband Tries Suicide

After failing to effect a reconciliation with her husband yesterday, Mrs. Margaret Kelvin, 21 years of age, living at 716 South Westlake avenue, tried to commit suicide by drinking poison, according to the police. She will recover.

Mrs. Kelvin went to the home of her husband, C. C. Kelvin, at 752 South Lake avenue, early in the afternoon and attempted to bring about the reconciliation, according to Detectives Jacks and Pruett, to whom she related her story in the Receiving Hospital. She drank the poison in her husband's apartment when the attempt failed.

MOTORIST INJURED AS HIS CAR HITS COW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CASA GRANDE (Ariz.) July 29.—Dr. J. E. Redden of this city was seriously injured in a wreck on the Tucson Road, when his auto struck a cow that had chosen the highway as a bed for an evening nap.

BOOK TEACHES ETIQUETTE

Free Publication Gives Hints on Social Conduct

Every day people judge us by what we do and say. They go away carrying an impression—and it depends largely upon our manners whether the impression is good or bad. A new etiquette booklet for Times readers tells in a simple, direct way how to meet the little problems in social conduct.

To secure a copy write name and address clearly on the coupon, inclosing 2 cents in stamps for return postage, and send to Los Angeles Times Information Bureau, Washington, D. C. To avoid wrong delivery at Washington, use full address as given. Do not send to The Times' Los Angeles office.

Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The Los Angeles Times Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

$135 A WEEK—from EGGS

Four years ago Dr. H. S. Gordon, a retired physician of Santa Ana, went into the poultry business at Nuevo Gardens. At that time Dr. Gordon knew nothing of the chicken business.

Today his flock is bringing him an income of more than $135.00 a week from eggs alone. Dr. Gordon says his success is largely due to ideal climatic conditions, fine loose soil and plenty of room for the birds.

Go out to Nuevo Gardens—there's a paved boulevard all the way—or let us take you. Talk with Dr. Gordon. He will be glad to tell you about his own success and the opportunity for you to make good profits from chickens.

5 ACRES ASSURES SUCCESS

You can purchase five acres of good land at Nuevo Gardens for less than the price of one acre in some other localities. There is plenty of room for the birds and with proper handling they will make you a profit.

ABUNDANT WATER

is an essential in the chicken business, and there is plenty of it at Nuevo Gardens. You can purchase 2½, 5 or 10 acres, with domestic and irrigation water. Prices are only

$300 and $400 an Acre

On terms you can easily meet.
Full bearing peach and apricot orchards on paved boulevard, and you get a deed when you make first payment. All titles are guaranteed by one of the largest title companies in California.

$500 and $550 an Acre

ASK FOR THE NUEVO POULTRY PLAN

We have a system of chicken raising worked out for the small poultry owner, a plan showing how to make the best use of the land. This plan was perfected by experienced chicken men, and if you follow it you will succeed.

$500 WILL START YOU

on the road to poultry success. Five acres devoted to chickens, grapes and vegetables, when fully developed, will, with proper management, make you from

$4000 TO $5000 A YEAR

Chickens and grapes make a fine combination for the small land owner. Grapes require less labor than other crops—pruning, watering and picking—and the work comes at a time when it does not interfere with care of the chickens.
